OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE COUNTY.

We welcome Alvin Saunders to the ranks of the monopoly cappers.—Omaha Republican.

The Senate of Michigan refused to express sympathy for Russia by tabling a resolution of that import.

Recently a twelve pound can of dynamite was dug up near the Czar's palace. Too much dynamite planted in that town to make it healthy.

The B. & M. will soon receive 200 cars of railroad iron for their Republican valley division, which is sufficient to bed the track to Nemaha City.—Ex.

The Indiana legislature has again adopted the constitutional amendment changing her elections from October to November.

Socialists, Polanders and exiled Russians in many of the cities of this country have held meetings and indorsed the assassination of the Emperor.

Senator Bayard has written a letter to the Delaware Assembly, advising against prohibitory legislation, on the ground that it is antagonistic to the Democracy.

President Garfield is going to have the sayings and doings of his cabinet meetings kept secret. We'd like to see him do it unless he banishes Chicago reporters from Washington.

The North Carolina legislature has passed a law—to be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection—prohibiting the manufacture and sale of all spirituous liquors except wine and cider.

Mr. Blaine hasn't allowed a blade of grass to grow under his official feet. He has tackled the British lion at the outset and wants to know what they mean by slandering American hogs.—Philadelphia Times.

Is the Times personally offended? The shoe seems to pinch somewhere.

Omaha Republican: Thos. L. Hall was reappointed postmaster at Omaha, receiving the endorsement of the entire delegation from Nebraska. Thus Rosewater has again been outflanked in his political manœuvring and compelled to beat a hasty retreat to Omaha, from whence he will hurl paper bullets through "my two editions, morning and evening," at those who refused to hear and heed his admonition.

The stomach of the Democratic party seems to be pretty sour just now. Ex-Senator Eaton says flatly that Ben Hill is an ass. We don't know yet what Hill calls Eaton, probably a mule—and some of them are nearly ready to murder Hampton and Hamburg Butler because they hindered the bouncing of Kellogg out of the Senate. It is too late now—but they grieve over what might have been—one majority, organization, power a little longer. And all the satisfaction they have is quarreling amongst themselves.

Senator Mahone, of Virginia, will doubtless act with the Republicans. Any doubt existing of that fact was removed by the ungentlemanly innuendoes of Hill, of Georgia, toward Mr. Mahone. Hill took precisely the best course to develop several very unpleasant things for Democracy: that the Virginia Senator could not be bulldozed, that he was able to take care of himself and willing to do so when necessary, and that Democracy could not count on favors from Mahone. That gentleman, voting with the Republicans, will make a tie between the parties, 38 votes each, leaving Vice President Arthur the casting vote.

It seems that Senator Saunders has finally incurred the wrath of Rosewater, in favoring the reappointment of Mr. Hall, postmaster at Omaha. Rosewater has been spending many days in Washington this winter for the sole purpose of having Hall bounced, and demanded of the Senator that his will must be carried out. But the Senator "kicked," and Hall was appointed. And Senator Van Wyck, for all the wallowing Rosewater has done at his feet since his election, also favored Hall. The little editor's wrath is said to be awful, and he tears around like a blind pup in a meat house. If Senator Saunders has cut loose from Rosewater it is the biggest thing he has done for himself for a long time.

The Bee, speaking of the reappointment of the Omaha postmaster, says:

"The worst feature of this appointment is that it revives and confirms an unsavory scandal that will be used by the political enemies of Saunders with deadly effect twenty months hence, when the senatorial canvass is made."

The appointment was procured by Senator Saunders in opposition to Rosewater's orders, hence this threat to injure Saunders. The Bee has hitherto championed the Senator. Then what does this threat mean? It can only mean one of two things—that there is nothing in it, and it is to extort blackmail, or that the Bee, notwithstanding its daily boast of being the champion of the people, the exposer of frauds, corruption, etc., has been for the past four years suppressing an "unsavory scandal," and forcing the inference that had Saunders continued to please Rosewater, the latter would still suppress the scandal and continue to hold up Saunders as a model of official virtues and statesmanship. Rosewater gives himself away in the innuendo we copy, in consideration of his former attitude toward Senator Saunders, and demonstrates the truth of what is generally believed—that he is anti-railroad monopoly because railroad officials spurn him for his officiousness, and would despise his friendship as much as they do his enmity; that he howls fraud and corruption at such officials as ignore him and refuse to be used by him to inflate his purse or advance his selfish political designs. Now, Mr. Rosewater, we join with the people of Nebraska in demanding of you to explain in more explicit terms than cowardly assassin hints—what "unsavory scandal" is it that you have been covering up, whilst playing with the credulity of your readers, during the last four years?

A committee of the Board of Trade of Chicago, appointed to investigate hog cholera and trichinæ in Illinois, after careful and thorough investigation have made a report which is of much interest. "The most authentic figures," says the report, "show that in 1876 452,208 hogs, or nearly 17 per cent. of the crop, died; in 1877, 358,844 hogs, or 12 per cent. of the crop, died; 1878, 474,758 hogs, or 14 per cent. of the crop, died; 1879, 182,577 hogs, or 6 per cent. of the crop, died; 1880, 227,259 hogs, or 7 per cent. of the crop, died.

"The reports of the average weights of hogs said to have died in the past five years, viz: 103 pounds in 1876, 104 pounds in 1877, 108 pounds in 1878, 98 pounds in 1879, 104 pounds in 1880, serve to show that the mortality lies almost entirely among the very young pigs, before they have begun to be fatted for the market. We note, in tabulating the mortality among hogs, to one cause alone are attributed all deaths. Whether the hog dies from lack of water in a dry time, from lung disease brought on by excessive wet, from a naturally feeble constitution, from excessive cold, or from any other causes too numerous to mention—in fact, unless it dies at the hand of the butcher—hog cholera alone is blamed * * * There has been a large and steady decrease from 17 per cent in 1876 to 7 per cent in 1880, in loss of the entire number of hogs in the state from so-called hog cholera.

All diseases are included under the caption of hog cholera so called.

Your attention is invited to the difference between the average live weight of hogs marketed 252 pounds and the average weight during the past five years of hogs dying from so-called hog cholera of 103 pounds, and this difference shows that the deaths occur chiefly among young hogs and pigs.

In view of the above fact, there seems to be very little occasion to question the healthy condition of mature hogs when ready for market.

With regard to trichinosis there has but eleven deaths occurred in the State, attributed to that disease since 1866. In 19,067 deaths in Chicago during the years 1879 and 1880, but two occurred from trichinosis. This statement is from Dr. John H. Rauch, secretary of the Board of Health, who adds the very significant remark, that trichinoses in every case occurred from eating raw ham or sausage. "I regard," says Dr. Rauch, "the danger to life from this source as practically amounting to nothing, it being so easily prevented by cooking."

Senator Vorhees called up the resolution calling upon the attorney general for information regarding the names and number of deputy U. S. marshal's appointed in Indiana to attend the polls in October last; when, upon Senator Edmunds' motion the resolution was amended so as to embrace the necessity for the employment of such marshals. The amendment of course was going a little too far to suit the Democrats, but as they had commenced investigation in that direction they swallowed the unsavory dish.

We notice that Senator Saunders is chairman of the committee on Territories; and is a member of the committees on Indian Affairs, Railroads; and that Senator Van Wyck is on the following committees: Agriculture, Public Lands, Mines and Mining, Improvements Mississippi River. This is according to the arrangement of the committees by the Republicans.

The six day shoot between Carver and Scott, in London, ended Saturday evening last. The contest was very close all the way through it; each day's shooting closing with a tie or only two or three balls difference, and finally closed, Carver having a score of 9,737 and Scott 9,735.

The Democrat entreats Church Howe to come forward and exert his influence.—Lincoln Globe.

Why doesn't the Democrat subsidize the fifteen-dollar man of the Globe. He is handy and on the market.

About twenty years ago in the town hall at Chagrin Falls, Ohio, Gen. Garfield and Prof. William Denton held a public discussion on the "Origin of Man," the former taking the biblical position, the latter taking the scientific theory of evolution. The discussion lasted a week before a dense audience, and proved particularly interesting and edifying. Both sides were maintained with ability, and disputants were courteous and friendly to the last.

The Blair Pilot contains a bitter attack upon Hon. H. H. Shedd, speaker of the house during the last session. Considering the source from which it emanates, Mr. Shedd need not worry over the attack, as we believe the people of the state are pretty well acquainted with Hilton and know of his unsavory reputation and lack of sense and discrimination.—Wahoo Republican.

An Eastern Journal on Governor Nance.

Philadelphia Press.

Governor Nance, of Nebraska, has just vetoed a bill passed by the legislature of that state which outranks in one respect even southern repudiation. The latter is content with shaving down its present obligations, but the financiers of Nebraska wished to provide also for the "adjustment" of future debts. The bill proposed to authorize any town, city, village or school district in the state to compromise any debt which they felt unable to pay in full. The Governor justly observes that such a law would cast "a cloud upon the financial integrity of the people of Nebraska and injure the credit of the state." True, if the creditors do not consent to the compromise they will presumable still have their present remedies for enforcing the rights in full, but the bill contemplates and aims to promote a generally shaving down of present and prospective municipal liabilities within the state. The Governor terms it a step toward repudiation. A step it would be, indeed, and one taken in seven-league boots.

STATE NEWS.

—At Kearney, a few days ago a four year old daughter of S. L. Savidge was poisoned to death by eating a piece of bread she found, that had been spread with rat poison.

—State Journal: Geo. P. Tucker sold last Monday to Dawson Collins, a house and lot in Nebraska City for $250. The property was purchased by George some twelve years ago, and it cost him about $1,000. This is a fair sample of George's investments in Nebraska City; but what he has lost in Nebraska City he has made up in Lincoln.

—Women are already allowed to vote in Nebraska at school meetings if they have the necessary qualifications—owning real property and having children to educate. Single ladies who have neither should buy a town lot and get married, and so on—if they want to vote.

—The Nebraska state teachers' association will meet in Omaha on the 28th, 29th and 30th of the present month.

—A school marm of Omaha, 35 years old, disappeared the other day with one of her pupils—a child aged 18. It isn't thought that the mature old girl is quite crazy, but only made a paroxysmal dash for verdant pastures.

—The traveling wind-bag of the Lincoln Globe sneaked away from this place last week as if he were a fugitive from justice.—Bloomington Argus.

That's the way he went out of this place a few weeks ago. But he wouldn't belong to the paper he does were he a defferent kind of a man. He is a fine illustration of the "eternal fitness of things."

Dr. Hinckle, the German Consul in this city, looks upon the death of the Czar and the succession of the Czarowitz to the throne as a misfortune to the German party in Russia. Nicholas, now Alexander III., is generally understood to be allied to the Muscovite party, and is not likely to show much favor to the men of German antecedents, whom his father delighted to honor. This change in policy will probably result in complications, if not in war, with Germany. Mr. Herman Raster entertains the same views, but goes further. He believes that a war between Germany and Russia is inevitable; that the policy of the new Czar will tend to precipitate it, and that the sooner it comes the better it will be for Germany.—Inter Ocean.

Over a month ago a resolution was adopted in the Illinois legislature directing the committee on railroads to prepare a bill to provide against extortions, discriminations and other unjust practices of the railroads. The committee has just reported that no such law is needed, and the legislature has concurred in the report.—Omaha Republican.

A Good Housewife.

The good housewife, when she is giving her house its spring renovating, should bear in mind that the dear inmates of her house are more precious than many houses, and that their systems need cleansing by purifying the blood, regulating the stomach and bowels to prevent and cure the diseases arising from spring malaria and miasma, and she must know that there is nothing that will do it so perfectly and surely as Hop Bitters, the purest and best of medicines. How to Make Soap for a Cent a Pound.

Shave into small pieces five bars of Dobbins' Electric Soap, and boil in three quarts of water, until the soap is thoroughly dissolved, so that upon straining through a sieve nothing remains, add to the solution or "suds" three gallons of cold water; stir briskly for several minutes to mix, and set it away to cool. Though it will look like nothing but soap-suds while warm, a chemical reaction will take place, and in twenty-four hours time will develop forty or fifty pounds of magnificent and white soft soap costing less than one cent a pound, and as good as many of the adulterated compounds called soap, and sold at seven to ten cents a pound. How long would it take for any other soap used the same to become anything but "soap-suds?" Any housewife knows that it can not be done with any soap she has ever used. See if it can be done with Dobbins' Electric. J. M. CAMPBELL,

Cities of the Second Class.

The following act was introduced by Mr. Turk, of Richardson county, for the convenience of towns organized as cities of the second class and became a law:

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Nebraska:

SECTION 1. That in all cases where any municipal corporation containing less than 1,500 and more than 1,000 inhabitants shall have legally organized as a city of the second class, under a law in force at the time of such organization, and shall not have organized as a village under the provisions of the act to provide for the organization, government and powers of cities and villages, approved March 1, 1879, and shall not so organize by the election of officers on the first Tuesday of April, 1881, the organization of such corporation as a city of the second class shall continue and be in force until changed as now provided by law.

SEC. 2. That all acts performed and elections held by such corporations so legally organized as cities of the second class, under the laws in force at the time of such organization, shall be held to be valid for all purposes, as if done and held by cities of the second class duly organized under the laws in force for that purpose.

"WHAT'LL YE HAVE, BOYS?"

Mustn't Say That Any More.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Nebraska:

SECTION 1. All persons are prohibited from treating or giving away any liquor, beer, wine, or intoxicating beverage whatever, purchased and to be drank in any saloon, or other public place where such liquors or beverages are kept for sale.

SEC. 2. Any person treating or offering to treat any other person, or accepting or offering to accept any treat or gift of any intoxicating drink whatever, in any saloon or public place where such liquors are kept for sale, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction thereof be subject to a fine of ten dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail of the county for ten days, or both, at the discretion of the court; and in addition thereto shall pay into said court the sum of fifteen dollars, to be paid to the attorney prosecuting the case, if there be one; and if no attorney prosecutes, then to be paid into the school fund of the county, in addition to the fine.

A Law.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Nebraska:

SECTION 1. That section 8 of an act entitled "An act to protect cultivated lands from trespass by stock," approved March 8, 1871, be amended to read as follows:

SEC. 8. Cultivated lands within the meaning of this act shall include all forest trees, fruit trees and hedge rows planted on said lands, also all lands surrounded by a plowed strip not less than one rod in width, which strip shall be plowed once a year.

SEC. 2. Section eighth of said act, as now existing, is hereby repealed.

The man who wields the pen for the Seward Reporter is afraid that the Republican is saying too many complimentary things for Church Howe and his work in the recent session of the legislature. The Republican did not agree with Mr. Howe on many questions, but it is not so narrow-minded as to condemn him or any other man for opinion's sake. Wolfe desired to be a member of the legislature himself, and not having been successful, has been afflicted since with a crankiness which refuses to be comforted. His talk about monopolists and railroad tools will go for naught, even among his "alliance" readers, whom he expects to please by this sort of twaddle.—Omaha Republican.

Wolfe bolted his own party nominations. Church Howe never was guilty of that political sin.

From a careful examination of the statistics of 250,848 cases, Prof. Ed Andrews gives in the Chicago Medical Examiner, the following estimate of the relative danger from different anæsthetics:

	Death.		Administrations.
Sulphuric Ether,	1	to	23,204
Chloroform,	1	to	2,723
Chloroform & Ether,	1	to	5,588
Bi-Chloride of Methylene,	1	to	7,000

NITROUS OXIDE, no deaths in 75,000 administrations.

Edward R. Squibb, M. D., than whom our country has no more able pharmaceutist and toxicologist, in a lecture on anæsthetics before the Medical Society of the State of New York, says: "Nitrous Oxide was the first anæsthetic; and the safety and certainty of its effects, even in inexperienced hands, for all momentary operations, and the promptness with which persons recover from its use, render it perhaps the most important of all anæsthetics, because destined to relieve a greater aggregate amount of pain, with greater safety than any other agent.

Proposals For Military Supplies.

HDQRS. DEPT. OF THE PLATTE,
CHIEF QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE,
Fort Omaha, Neb., March 11, 1881.

SEALED PROPOSALS, in triplicate, subject to the usual conditions, will be received at this office, until 12 o'clock M., on Tuesday, April 19, 1881, or at the same hour (allowing for the difference in time) at the offices of the Quartermasters at the following named stations, at which places and time they will be opened in presence of bidders, for the furnishing and delivery of Military Supplies during the year commencing July 1st, 1881, and ending June 30th, 1882, as follows: Wood, Hay and Charcoal, or such of said supplies as may be required at Omaha Depot, Fort Omaha, Fort Niobrara, Fort Sidney, Cheyenne Depot, Fort Russel, Fort Sanders, Fort Steele, Fort Hall, Fort Douglas, Fort Cameron, Fort Robinson, Fort Bridger, Fort Laramie, Fort Fetterman, Fort McKinney and Fort Washakie.

Proposals will also be received at this office to the day and hour above named, for the delivery on the cars at the point nearest to the mines on the line of the Union Pacific Railroad, east from Kearney Junction, of two million pounds corn, and one million pounds oats. Bids for grain should state the rate per 100 pounds—not per bushel.

Proposals for either class of the stores mentioned, or for quantities less than the whole required, will be received. Each proposal should be in triplicate, separate for each article at each station, and must be accompanied by a bond in the sum of one thousand dollars, (1,000), executed strictly in accordance with the printed instructions, and upon the blank form furnished under this advertisement, guaranteeing that the party making the proposal shall not withdraw the same within sixty days from the date announced for opening them; and that if said proposal is accepted and a contract for the supplies bid for, awarded thereunder, he will, within ten days after being notified of the award, (provided such notification), accept the same and furnish good and sufficient sureties, at once, for the faithful performance of the contract.

The Government reserves the right to reject any or all proposals.

A preference will be given to articles of domestic production.

Blank proposals and printed circulars, stating the kind and estimated quantities of Wood, Hay and Charcoal required at each station, and giving full instructions as to the manner of bidding, conditions to be observed by bidders and forms of contract, &c., will be furnished on application to this office or to the Quartermasters at the various stations named.

Envelopes containing proposals should be marked: "Proposals for.....at ..... and addressed to the undersigned or to the respective Post and Depot Quartermasters.

NEMAHA CITY.

[These items were intended for last week.]

— Now for windy weather.

— Robins and blue birds are here.

— The road south from Nemaha City may soon become impassable if it is not mended.

— Notices of annual school meeting are posted.

— Wm. E. Hill, grain buyer of Nebraska City, spent a day or two Nemaha recently.

— Henry Carse has bought Widow Hoover's residence property. Mrs. Hoover has moved to her farm.

— Rev. Wessels has bought the corner lot, on which the Times building stands.

— The new school house, two miles southwest of Nemaha City, built where formerly stood "Coal Tar," has been named the "Champion." Take notice and govern yourselves accordingly.

— This will be a profitable year for steamboating. Plenty of water to float boats. With a railroad running only half the time the boats could compete.

— If the Missouri river appropriation was applied on freeing the channel from snags, so that boats could travel with much less risk than otherwise, the public would realize some beneficial result from it in reduced transportation rates.

— J. J. Bender, having admitted a partner in business, the firm intend to carry as complete a stock in their line as can be found in southeastern Nebraska.

— Village election on Tuesday, April 5th. The Board of Trustees elected last year have made so many improvements, sidewalks, public square fenced, sent the attorney of the Board to Texas, etc., etc., that it might be well to re-elect them, and then again it might not.

— The Nemaha River is on a high. The miller at the old Bennett mill and Seymour Howe have had to flee to high ground in a boat. The bridges on the Nemaha river are in danger.

— A very dirty, debased and ignorant looking man came in to vote in a township in Michigan. Said one of the ladies, offering him a ticket: "I wish you would oblige us by voting this ticket." "What kind of a ticket is that?" said he. "Why," said the lady, "you can see for yourself." "But I can't read," he answered. "Why, can't you read the ballot you have there in your hand, which you are about to vote?" asked the lady. "No," said he, "I can't read at all." "Well," said the lady, "this ballot means that you are willing to let the women, as well as the men, vote." "Is that it?" he replied; "then I don't want it; the women don't know enough to vote."

A Lecture to Young Men
On the Loss of MANHOOD
A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment, and radical cure of Seminal Weakness, or Spermatorrhœa, induced by self-abuse, Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, etc.—By Robert J. Culverwell, M. D., author of the "Green Book," etc.
The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience, that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or medicals; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain, and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself privately, cheaply and radically.
This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.
Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps.
