—The highest market price paid for butter and eggs at

L. Baum has some very fine white seed Wheat, Hungurian and Millet for sale

—Gov. Garber arrived in town last Thursday, and made a short visit with his friends here. The Governor is looking quite well at present. We were all glad to see him and regretted that his stay was so short.

—We regretted not seeing more farmers out to the Farmers Institute, on last Friday and Saturday. This is a matter that interests all, and should be taken hold of by the farmers in general throughout the county.

—The weather for the past three or four days has been the most like winter we have had yet. Saturday, the weather turned gradually cold and has been so ever since.

—The Commissioners have decided to purchase a safe for the purpose of keeping the county books in. This is a good step, as the books are in constant danger of being destroyed by fire

—W M Hattery, traveling agent for Hall's Safe and Lock Co., was in town last week and made us a friendly call.

—J. S. Gilham will deliver an address at the Farmer's Institute, held at Walnut Creek school house on Saturday, March 11th.

—W. N. Richardson started for Chicago last Tuesday with two car loads of cattle and one of hogs. This is the second trip of the kind Mr. R. has taken this winter.

—The people of District No. 2 are becoming a little vexed at the treatment the school building is receiving. It is probably the dirtiest building in the county. It is used for all purposes, and by all classes, yet none seem disposed to clean it after using it. An exception must be made in favor of Mr. Firman, the writing teacher. It is nothing more than fair that the various persons who use the school house should share the labor of keeping it clean. Would'nt it be well for the school board to adopt a regulation requiring that all who use it should either clean it or pay enough to have it cleaned after using it?

—The Bloomington Guard contains the following notice: "The undersigned will pay a reward of One Hundred Dollars for the recovery of the body of his child, drowned in the Republican river, south of Bloomington, on the 17th of Feb. 1876

L. W. WORTHINGTON.

—The little daughter of James Bogaurief died last Tuesday morning. She is said, by those who have seen her, to have been a very bright and beautiful child, and the parents have the sympathy of all their neighbors in their loss.

—All those who wish to secure bargains in Clothing Dry Goods, Hats, Caps and General Merchandise, had better call at L. Baum's store as he intends closing out his stock preparatory to leaving for the BLACK HILLS.

—Deputy U. S. Marshal Dailey, of Omaha, gave us a pleasant call yesterday He reports business lively, and we guess some others think it is to. Who is it that goes to Omaha this time?

—Last Friday we received calls from a great many of our Guide Rock friends, who were attending the Farmer's Institute at this place.

—Charley Potter has the best cigars in town. We know all about them, for he set 'em up.

—Mrs. Hulburt, the sister of Mrs. W. N. Richardson, started on a trip to California. Wednesday. The ladies of the village will miss her very much, as she has been, during her stay here, an energetic worker in all the ladies various organizations.

—Professor Snow, of Cloverton, has organized a singing class, which meets in the school house Monday and Saturday evenings. It is well attended and promises to result in good to those who attend, and the community.

WANTED.—500 Skunks and 500 Pole Cat skins at L. Baum's store, for which he will pay the highest market prices.

—Wearied with the unchanging dullness of the town, we recently procured a conveyance and drove down to the Flouring Mills of Messrs Potter & Frisbie. When we reached the mills we found business and energy enough to repay us for the trouble. We counted eleven teams standing about the mills waiting for their owners to be served. Entering the mill all was bustle and hurry. Farmers were weighing their grain, the miller were measuring out the meal, and the ponderous burrs were grinding around as if the news of dull times had not reached them. Mr Frisbie politely took time to show us about the mill, and answer our numerous questions without betraying any impatience. As the chief industrial enterprise of the county we have deemed it advisable to allot a portion of this issue to its description.

Two years ago, Mr. J. Q. Potter, an old miller from Iowa, undertook to dam the Republican river, and make its immense water power at this place available. The whole of the summer of '74 was spent in constructing a brush dam which proved unable to withstand the pressure of the ice in the following spring, and was swept away. With more energy than ever, Mr. Potter commenced to repair the injuries, and succeeded in putting his mill in runing order, when the tremendous floods of July again swept away the results of his labor. But misfortunes seem to arouse the lion in Mr. Potter's character, and he went to work again and built a dam which will effectually withstand the ice of spring or the floods of July. We examined the dam as carefully as possible, and came to the conclusion that if it were not strong enough, Congressional action would be necessary to dam the wayward stream. The rocky bottom has been drilled to the depth of four feet and stout posts of oak have been thus fixed in the solid rock. Back of these posts, the dam has been framed with large pieces of timber in every conceivable way to impart strength and solidify to the structure.

Leaving the dam, which has sunk so much money, the flouring mill demands notice. It is a large three story building, with every external and internal convenience for doing good and rapid work. There are three sets of burrs, one of which is used for grinding corn; the capacity of the mills is about two hundred and forty bushels per day. An inspection of the books, which are left open to all, gave us the following figures.

The average amount of meal and flour ground daily, varies from 8,000 to 10,000 lbs. The total amount of grain ground during the year was, wheat 21022 bushels; corn 6445 bushels. The average monthly expenses for running the mill are about $150.00 It will thus be seen that the mills ought to be doing a good business. But a conversation with Mr. Potter convinced us that there was not much profit, at present, in flouring mills. The grain ground has been largely of inferior quality, and commands but a small price. One thousand bushels which had been taken in exchange, netted them from 15 and 25 cents per bushel. They find it difficult to get a fair price for the most of the grain received at the mill Instead of making money, we are convinced that Mr. Potter has been falling behind

The action of the Commissioners reducing their toll, a few weeks ago has caused them to change the mills from custom to merchant mills Where they do grind for toll, they toll it in the hopper instead of the former mode which makes the one-seventh now allowed, higher toll, if anything, than that previously exacted

We left the mills with the conviction that to foster works of internal improvement, and induce capital to come into our midst, the people must act very cautiously, and do everything to encourage and protect rather than to retard and to oppress, those that are now struggling in their midst.

—We have for sale at this office, an order for one No. 9, Silver plated Wilson Shuttle Sewing Machine, with hard (piano) varnish, polished cabinet work, valued at $85, which we will sell for $45, and the purchaser pay the freight on machine from the place of shipment, or for $50 and we pay freight. 29td

—The owners of the lots where the Court House and Sherer's Drug store formerly stood will find themselves compelled to pay heavy damages to somebody yet for having their old cellars uncovered'

—Taking a walk to the north west of town the other day, we stumbled upon the Red Cloud Cemetery. There were seven little mounds, two protected, the rest exposed to fires and what not. The citizens of the village should speedily take some steps to remove the dead to a more suitable place and make provisions for the future.

—The "Old Man' started last Tuesday for Chicago, and told the "boys" to run the "masheen" while he was gone, and to 'take his place generally.' As far as business is concerned, we will do our best, but when it comes to taking care of that "fairest, sweetest, dearest, and most loving —!" we are out. She is "game" to the last, and says she will "play it alone," 'till the 'Old Man" comes home

—It is told, as a joke, that two young ladies of this place, tied a piece of red ribbon to the tail of a pet pig, owned by Jimmie Lobsitz. This causes Jim, to make some grand speeches in the pigs behalf.
