BIG HARRIMAN PLAN

DEAL WITH GOULD MEANS INVASION OF PITTSBURG.

One of the First Results of Deal Will Be Appropriation of $10,000,000 to Put Wabash Lines in Shape to Handle Promised Iron Tonnage.

That the Gould-Harriman deal of Thursday is the biggest affair of the kind in railroad history for the past two decades has come out at Pittsburgh, Pa. The Pennsylvania and Vanderbilt interests, which have practically enjoyed a monopoly of the Pittsburgh iron and steel tonnage, are not a little perturbed over the developments. It is found that one of the first things Mr. Harriman will do is to spend something like $10,000,000 in fixing up the Wabash lines at this end, bringing them to that state of perfection which will be required in order to haul the steel products promised the Wabash by Andrew Carnegie before the Goulds would consent to break ground for the Pittsburgh connection.

The Goulds never completed the roads as they should be. For this reason the United States Steel corporation, successor to Mr. Carnegie and which now stands ready to deliver the promised 25 per cent of its Pittsburgh tonnage to the Wabash, never felt like going out of its way for less than a half completed railroad line.

It was Joseph Ramsey, then president of the Wabash road, who made the agreement with Andrew Carnegie which the Goulds never permitted him to fulfill, that of building to the doors of the different steel works in the Pittsburgh district a line of road fully as good as the Pennsylvania or the Baltimore and Ohio. This done, Carnegie agreed in writing to give to the Goulds each year 25 per cent of his iron and steel tonnage. On this condition the Goulds decided to come into Pittsburgh, but the work was never so well done as to win the confidence of the steel makers.

CHURCH LEADER FACES PRISON.

Arkansas Doctor Accused of Being Counterfeiter.

The arrest of Dr. L. W. Blanchard, a prominent physician and church worker of Harrison, Ark., for fifteen years, and his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blanchard, has revealed probably the largest and most complete counterfeiters' outfit ever found in the state. Dies, molds and hundreds of spurious coins of various denominations were found by the officers, the counterfeit money being buried in the field and concealed in the house. J. H. Blanchard and wife, it is stated, admitted they had made counterfeit money, but denied having attempted to pass it themselves. Mrs. Blanchard said her son had practiced medicine successfully in Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado.

POISON FOUND IN STOMACHS.

Many Theories in Guinness Case Are Upped.

Coroner Mack announced Thursday that Dr. Walter Haines, of Chicago, who analyzed the stomach of Andrew Helgellen, the last victim of Mrs. Belle Guinness, finding strychnine and arsenic in fatal doses, has also found in the stomachs of Mrs. Guinness and her two children arsenic and strychnine in quantities sufficient to have caused the deaths. This discovery has upset many former theories in the case, and has opened up the possibility of Mrs. Guinness having killed the children in the same manner in which she took the lives of her victims and ended her own life with a fatal dose.

FIERCE BATTLE WITH MOB.

Florida Sheriff and Deputies Fail to Save Negro.

Three men and a score wounded, some probably fatally, is the record of an attempt by a mob at Pensacola, Fla., to storm the county jail and take out the negro, Leander Shaw, who assaulted Mrs. Lillian Davis near there. The mob numbered probably 1,000 persons and gathered early, but there was no indication that the jail, which completely surrounded the jail, contemplated making a rush until nearly two hours later. The first indication was when a railroad iron was brought into play by about a dozen men upon the iron gate of the jail yard. At the same moment the entire mob seemed to catch the spirit, and with yells and curses dashed for the jail entrance.

Some climbed over the tall iron fence while others hammered upon the gate. The sheriff, with half a dozen deputies, stood in the windows upstairs with drawn revolvers and riot guns. The sheriff pleaded with the mob, at the same time telling it that he would defend the prisoner at the cost of every life present. His words had no effect, and the moment the first blow was struck on the gate a volley of shots flashed from the upper windows of the jail. This was answered by the crowd, which poured volley after volley into the jail windows, wounding two deputies. The mob was momentarily driven back with many wounded and one dead as a result of the deadly aim of the sheriff and his deputies.

At midnight the mob, which in the meantime had been reinforced by many residents of the surrounding country, made another attack on the jail. The sheriff and officers were overpowered by men who had crept over the rear wall and covered them with rifles and revolvers. Others broke down the cell door and took Shaw out. The negro was carried to the center of the plaza and hanged to an electric light pole, after which fully 500 shots were fired into his dangling body.

In the last attack on the jail H. C. Kellum, a street car conductor, was killed, while two deputies and four of five of the mob were wounded.

HONZA CAUGHT IN SWAMP.

Slayer of Mrs. Kocur, a Wealthy Widow of Granite City, Ill., is Caught.

Andrew Honza, charged with killing Mrs. Annie Kocur, a wealthy widow of the former "King of the Poles," of Granite City, Ill., was found by the police Wednesday half dead in a swamp two miles northeast of there, where he has been hiding since the crime Sunday night. Honza has been without food for three days. In his despair and terror he had tried to end his own life by stabbing himself over the heart, but his hand lacked nerve and strength, and the wound only weakened him. Honza told his captors he shot Mrs. Kocur after a quarrel over the storing of some furniture. Mrs. Kocur's 14-year-old son, who witnessed the shooting, said Honza made improper advances to his mother, which she repulsed, and that Honza became enraged.

ALL CINCINNATI OUT.

Entire Town Takes Part in Celebrating Taft Day.

Officially notified Tuesday of his nomination for the presidency by the republican party William H. Taft, standing on the porch of his brother's home in Cincinnati, O., the city of his nativity, formally accepted the honor, pledged anew his allegiance to the policies of President Roosevelt and declared that the chief function of the republican administration will be to clinch what has been already accomplished by the present occupant of the White House.

In doing this, however, Mr. Taft pointed out in what is regarded as a conservative expression in his address that there will be a serious and difficult work to do, principally "to devise ways and means in which the high level of business integrity and obedience to law which [President Roosevelt] has established may be maintained and departures from it restrained without undue interference with legitimate business."

Mr. Taft spoke for one hour and eleven minutes. Because of the intense heat, which he appeared to feel more keenly beneath the canopy of the speakers' stand than did those on the open lawn, he cut his enunciation of principles in many places, passing over entire sheets of his manuscript at a time, explaining his course and the reason for it, in order that his hearers might read the entire speech as it was given out for publication.

The occasion of the notification and the exercises was made a holiday by the residents of Cincinnati, all of whom without regard to party affiliation seemed to take part in the varying demonstrations. There were concerts in the downtown parks, parades, a flag raising at the Taft household, daylight fireworks, balloon ascensions for the visiting members of the notification committee, while the heavens were ablaze for hours with vari-colored lights of exploding rockets, soaring bombs and surprising effects of the modern fire worker's consummate art. From a brilliantly lighted river steamer, Mr. Taft, surrounded by visiting politicians and a host of his friends, witnessed the night display.

CASTRO OFFENDS BRITONS.

Closes All Ports to Trade of the West Indies.

Following the issuance of a decree by President Castro last May prohibiting the dispatch of vessels from Venezuela, gulf ports to Trinidad, cocon and other Venezuelan products have been forwarded from these ports to the island of Granada in the lesser Antilles, and thence to Trinidad. President Castro has now issued a decree prohibiting the dispatch of vessels with cargo for Granada or other islands in the Antilles, thereby closing the gulf ports entirely to the export and import trade with the West Indies. Great indignation is felt in the British Indies, and it is felt that the government's aid will be sought to give protection against the methods of President Castro.

ESCAPE FROM CRAZED BULL.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wells, of Pilger, Dadly Frightened.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wells, living six miles north of Pilger, had a narrow escape from being gored to death by a bull. A bull belonging to John Rudy, a neighbor, had got into the lot and was lying down quietly while Mr. and Mrs. Wells were milking but as they were leaving the lot he suddenly arose and with head down, seemingly crazed, he made for Mr. Wells, who succeeded in getting over the fence just in time. He then turned on Mrs. Wells, who was making for the fence and she also escaped by a narrow margin. The bull got worse as the day progressed. He would chase birds or anything that would alight in the lot. He would back off and with head down, tail erect, dig for a weed and gore it in the ground. He kept this up until about the middle of the afternoon, when he died. No one dared venture near him, as he had long sharp horns. It is a mystery what was the matter with him.

ROADS SAY VALUES ARE LOW.

File Lists of Real Estate Transfers Covering Nebraska Lands.

Both the Union Pacific and the Burlington railroads filed lists of real estate transfers with the state board of equalization recently to show the sales value in most instances is higher than the value placed on the same lands by the county assessors. A. W. Scribner, for the Union Pacific, filed transfers in all but three counties through which this road runs, covering a four-year period from 1902 to 1907. The total value of the transfers was $13,376,442, and the total value as fixed by the assessors was $9,480,444 on the same property.

NEBRASKA STATE NEWS INTERESTING HAPPENINGS From Day to Day Condensed FOR OUR BUSY READERS

BAD STORM AT LONG PINE.

Heavy Loss Results from Lightning and Continued Rainfall.

One of the most rain and electrical storms ever known visited Long Pine and vicinity Sunday night. During the storm several residents were stunned by bolts of lightning, but none of them seriously injured. The rain came down in torrents and for a while riveted out an entire lot of places. The storm began at 8 o'clock in the evening and did not slacken up until after 3 o'clock the next morning. Several buildings were struck by lightning and the department store owned by Geo. A. Smith & Son took fire and the interior was an entire mass of flames. The fire department immediately responded and within fifteen minutes after the fire started two lines of hose were playing water on the flames. The whole store and contents were badly damaged and the proprietors have not yet given out an estimate of their loss. The contents were entirely covered by insurance, but there was none on the building. Night Marshal Z. B. Cox, while on his way to ring the fire bell, was badly stunned by a bolt of lightning and was later found in the street in a comatose condition. He was immediately taken to his home and is getting along nicely. The storm came from the northwest, but by midnight a stiff wind was blowing from the south. Saturday had been a very hot day and in the evening the temperature dropped about 15 degrees, indicating that a bad hail storm had taken place somewhere in the north. A number of ranchmen and farmers report large losses among their cattle and other live stock.

PLAN PERMANENT RIFLE CAMP.

Movement on Foot for Purchase of Tract near Ashland.

The first group of 200 members of the National Guard in camp at the state rifle range, near Ashland, have passed a week of hard work and satisfactory practice. The soldier boys are immensely pleased with their summer outing notwithstanding the hard work and strict discipline. Highly creditable scores have been made by a number of the men, and Adj. Gen. Schwartz and the other officers of the guard are greatly pleased with the results being obtained under this new guard system of encampment.

The location of the Platte river is pronounced ideal and far superior in many respects to any encampment of former years. It is clean and sanitary and convenient for hard rifle practice, while well removed from the temptations of a larger city. So enthusiastic are the officers over the location that a well defined movement is under way for the purchase of this tract of land by the state for a permanent rifle camp, similar to such camps for the National Guard in Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and other states. The second group of the guard will arrive in Ashland this week for ten days' practice, the third group arriving Aug. 10. The most expert team developed at the summer camp will be sent to the national meeting to be held at Camp Perry, in Ohio, the latter part of August. The present camp is visited daily by a large number of persons from Ashland and vicinity.

HALF MILLION FOR DRAINAGE.

Salt Creek Valley Farmers Plan to Build Big Ditch.

The movement for organizing Salt creek valley into a drainage district and the subsequent straightening of Salt Creek channel, has met with the enthusiastic support of practically all the farmers between Lincoln and Ashland. During the last week meetings have been held at Ashland, Greenwood, Waverly and Lincoln and preliminary steps taken toward the organization of the drainage district. At all of these meetings Superintendent Bignell, Chief Engineer Darrah of the Burlington and E. C. Hurd of the Interurban railway, have been present, giving the advantage of expert knowledge of the situation. Mr. Darrah has presented many shows of maps of the drainage area of Salt Creek, the sinuous course of the stream and estimates of probable expense. Owing to its serpentine course, the channel from Lincoln to its mouth at Ashland is 21 miles and the area drained amounts to several hundred acres. It was shown that in several places drainage ditches of two miles in length would cut out fourteen miles of meandering channel. It was estimated that the cost of properly draining the valley would be in the neighborhood of $500,000, but owing to the great damage sustained by the farmers in this area the last few years they are all favorable to the formation of the district. The floating of the necessary bonds and the early commencement of the work.

RAILROADS AND SANDPITS BUSY.

Railways and Farmers Are Crying for Laborers.

There is great activity at all the stone quarries and sandpits along the Platte river between Ashland and Plattsmouth. Full forces of men are at work at all of the Louisville and South end quarries and many carloads of crushed stone are being shipped daily. The Burlington sand dredges have been at work constantly since the high water receded along the Platte. The Burlington also has a large force of men at work unloading dirt along the right of way wherever the river drift is also being removed rapidly from the Burlington's Platte river bridge at Ashland and the Rock Island bridge at South Bend. The railroads and farmers all through that section are crying for laborers with little success.

STATE FINANCIAL LINCOLN QUART.

Superintendent McBrien has sent the following letter in response to an inquiry of an eastern publication: "You refer to the 14th last received. So far as I know we do not have any school houses in Nebraska abandoned for lack of teachers. We have some school houses that have been abandoned for better ones. Nebraska is better off than it has been for years in having a sufficient number of well qualified teachers for its public schools. Few states have opportunities equal to ours for the professional training of teachers. The state university, two state normal schools, eight junior normal schools, twelve private and denominational schools and seventy normal training high schools constitute the machinery for the professional training of the teachers in Nebraska. Over 5,000 teachers are now attending summer schools, which gives you an idea of the professional spirit among Nebraska schoolmasters. During the last three years the aggregate increase in teachers' salaries in this state has been over $1,000,000. This accounts, no doubt, in great measure for our now having a sufficient number of teachers. Under separate cover I am mailing you a copy of our bulletin on normal training in high schools. During the last year we have trained over 1,500 prospective teachers in these schools and during the next year we shall train over 2,000 prospective teachers.
