WE are in receipt of a copy of that excellent paper, the Iowa City Republican. Yes we'll exchange.

THE last Colorado horse thief, to meet the requirements of lynch law, was escorted to his doom by a brass band, no torture being considered too great for a stock robber in that State.

IN their eagerness to do honor to the greatest living American, Gen. Grant, the American people have of late forgot that there exists such a man as Rutherford B. Hayes.

A deaf and dumb girl stopped at a Lincoln hotel the other night, and on retiring, blew out the gas. The clerk scented the escaping gas, and going to the transom, flashed the rays of a lamp into the girl's face and woke her up just in time to save her from suffocation.

MR. STRAHORN, author of "The Rockies and beyond" says: We are only beginning to find out how big a country this Union is, and will need to investigate and develop many years to know how immensely valuable it is. Besides containing the treasure vault and mint of America, the country west of the Missouri is at once the granary and cattle and sheep hive of the continent; and instead of being the least valuable of our domain, as was thought only a few years ago, possesses more elements of real wealth than any region of similar extent in the known world."

A cold-blooded murder was committed near Bellevue, twelve miles below Omaha, on Saturday evening. The victim of the horrible deed was named James Daily, who, with two comrades—John Ward and James Winters — were traveling with teams from Minnesota, where they had recently been engaged in railroad grading. They were on their way to Plattsmouth, to engage in work on the Missouri River Bridge at that point. Eighty dollars in money which the murdered man had with him is supposed to have been the cause of the dastardly crime.

COL. INGERSOLL speaking of James G. Blaine as a probable candidate for the presidency, says: "I like Blaine personally very much, and I hope the republican party of the United States will adopt a platform upon which all liberals can stand. Mr. Blaine and I do not agree on some religious questions; but I think he is a man broad enough in his views to see that all should have equal rights before the law, whatever their religious opinions. I never will vote for another man in my life, for any office, however great or however small, who is not in favor of giving to every other human being every right that he claims for himself.

FRED. DOUGLAS, in a paper read before the Social Science Convention, discussed the subject of negro exodus. His views, as coming from a life-long champion of negro rights and an uncompromising denunciator of wrongs which for years made our country an object of derision and disgrace to the rest of the world, naturally attracted much attention. He believes the recent movement to Kansas and Nebraska ill-timed and ill-advised. He holds the agitation and advocacy of a general stampede from South to North an abandonment of the principle of protection to persons and property in every State in the Union. Mr. Douglas points to the taxes which colored men, despite the intolerance of the Southern people, are paying in Georgia and Louisiana, and thinks it wrong that, at the very time when their success is beginning to be assured, they should be incited to leave their homes for untried and unknown localities.

NO CHINESE AT LEADVILLE.—Custer City, Idaho, has followed the example of Leadville, and refused to allow Chinamen in her midst. Our city, young though it is, has already accomplished a marvelous part in the work of developing the great west. It has poured out the millions of its exhaustless wealth, revived the drooping industries of the state which is destined to play an important part in the coming years of our country's history, and called it from despair to a high purpose. This has been a great work, but Leadville can point with pride to one even greater. She has refused to admit Chinamen, set an example which if followed by the other great cities of the kind, will soon solve the most vexed and most serious problem of the hour.—Leadville Eclipse.

THIRD-CLASS MAIL MATTER.

The following is the ruling of the post office department in regard to partly printed matter:

"Bills for merchandise, etc., partly printed and partly written, and not receipted, are entitled to pass in the mails as third class matter, provided they contain no writing which is in the nature of a personal correspondence. The words "please remit," "this account is overdue" etc., written thereon, subjects them to first-class matter. This ruling will also apply to "statements of accounts."

This includes also bills of lading, partly written. The rate of third class matter is one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof.

THE DEADWOOD BLAZE.

DEADWOOD, Sept 26.—A fire broke out in the Star Bakery, on Sherman street, at 2:20 this morning, and following that thoroughfare swept everything before it. On Lee, Main, Gold, Wall, Patton and Williams street, and several residences on Centennial avenue, fanned by a light breeze and nothing to contend with, except a very inefficient fire department, everything was at the mercy of the flames. Less than half a score of the pronounced fire proof warehouses withstood the severe test. The buildings being mostly of wood and poorly constructed, they burned like so much chaff. The fire spread with such rapidity, that any attempt at saving anything would have been useless. All along its course, terrific explosions of gunpowder, petroleum, liquor, etc., were of frequent occurrence. Buildings were blown into atoms. The hook and ladder and hose carriage were the first things to burn, leaving nothing but a few feet of worthless hose with which to battle the devouring element. The new water works were tried for the first time yesterday, and this morning were put to their full capacity with little success in subduing the flames, on account of the scarcity of water. The hillsides were almost a solid sheet of flame, and water from the boulder ditch could not be had, otherwise considerable property would have been saved, as the ditch ran almost directly over the worst spot. The wildest excitement prevailed on account of the fearful force of the flames, and people thought of little besides saving their own lives, hundreds escaping with only their night clothes. Every team within five miles of the city was called into service to help save what could be got out, and probably about 20,000 people are homeless and many destitute.

About one hundred and twenty-five buildings, besides fifty or sixty dwelling houses were destroyed, and while it is utterly impossible to get any definite figures regarding the loss, well-posted business men place it at $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. The fire is still burning, but all its material is exhausted and no danger of its spreading, unless unfavorable change in the wind.

WORTH REMEMBERING.

Taking Land for—Assessment of Damages.—A jury, in assessing the damages sustained by a land owner by reason of the establishment of a public road across his land, cannot take into consideration for the purpose of reducing his damages, all conveniences and benefits accruing to him by reason of the location of the road, but only such conveniences and benefits as are direct and special as to him and his land, and such as are direct, certain and approximate result of the establishment of the road. They cannot take into consideration such conveniences and benefits as are received in common by the whole community: Roberts vs. Board of Commissioners of Brown county, 21 Kans.

Increased value of the land may often be taken into consideration in fixing the amount of the damages sustained by the owner thereof in laying out and establishing roads. But this can be done only where such increased value arises from some direct, special and approximate cause, such as draining the land, or building bridges across streams running through the land, or making some other valuable improvement on or near the land, by means of which the owner will be enabled to enjoy his land with greater advantage. Increased value, founded merely upon increased facilities for travel and transportation by the public in general is not the kind of increased value which may be taken into consideration for the purpose of reducing the damages to be awarded to the land owner. Ib.

Widow's Homestead—Dower. A widow entitled to both homestead and dower in land of her deceased husband, caused her dower to be assigned, and accepted the assignment; but, being ignorant of her right to a homestead, did not then claim it. Being administratrix of her husband's estate, she also procured from the probate court an order for the sale of all the lands of the estate, but no sale was ever made. In a proceeding subsequently instituted by her to have her homestead set out: Held, that her acts did not constitute either a waiver or an estoppel, so as to prevent her from asserting her right. Seek vs. Haynes, 68 Mo.

Foreclosure.—A mortgage may be foreclosed for interest overdue on the mortgage note, where the principal of the note is not yet due. Butler vs. Blackman, 45 Conn.

A few evenings since a freight train on the Union Pacific ran into a drove of horses near North Platte, killing and injuring some twenty of them.

Nance county, formerly the Pawnee reservation, has a population of 400 good, solid, enterprising people.

A serious cattle disease is prevailing on the Loup. A man named Woodlen, last week, lost nine heads.

A drove of 200 cattle passed through Wilber last week, from Rawlins county, Kansas, and will be wintered in Nebraska.

The fire at Hastings on the 15th, destroyed less than $50,000 worth of property instead of $100,000 worth, as previously stated.

A fifty pound fish was captured last Sunday week in the Platte river while trying to wiggle over the shoals, near the Island bridge north of Juniata.

Wm. Altemus, a farmer near Dakota City, recently killed a wolfe and two cat-amounts on his place. One of the latter weighed over eighty pounds.

On Tuesday of last week a Mr. Ashton who lives six miles northeast of Wahoo, caught his foot in the pinion wheel of a threshing machine mangling it in a terrible manner.

Parties at Dakota City are fitting up cribs to store 50,000 bushels of corn, which they intend to purchase. A load of new corn has been marketed at that town of which half the ears would measure 14 inches.

The Niobrara Pioneer states that the locating surveyors were opposite that place on the 12th, setting grading stakes. The cars will be running to the banks of the Niobrara river at that point by November 1st.

The entire printing outfit used on the Lincoln State Democrat has been sold to Capt. Ashby of Beatrice to be used on his new paper. Mr. W. T. Meades has gone to Chicago to purchase a new stock of material and a cylinder press for the Democrat.

The new elevator at DeWitt was destroyed by fire last week. There were 900 bushels of wheat and nearly the same amount of barley in the building at the time, which was all consumed, together with two horses. The loss is over $3,000 with $1,000 insurance.

Mr. Schefelbeil, who resides near Fontenelle, had a two year old child killed by a mower about two o'clock on Tuesday of last week. It was playing in the grass and the driver did not see it until it was too late to stop the machine. Its body was cut in two.

Farmers at Hebron are complaining that it is impossible for them to get cars for the shipment of wheat or other grain. They claim that a combination of grain buyers and railroad officials monopolize the rolling stock and reduce the price of grain below the real market value.

Two young men of Madison county, named Marshall and Portman have been working for and boarding in the family of a respected farmer, named Walker, who has a charming daughter. Both young men were "mashed" on the girl, who rather favored Portman, who bears a good character. Last Sunday week he took her out riding. Marshall, the jilted, became wrathy, procured a shot gun and waited in ambush for the return of the lovers, when he fired a double-load into the head and neck of Portman, who cannot possibly recover. Marshall was given the option of suffering arrest or decamping forever, and he chose the latter.

MR. J. M. Johnson, of Riverton, has shown us some fine specimens of coal found on his place, near that town. We hope that it will prove something better than a number of similar discoveries have done. There is no discount on the quality of the coal, but the quantity is what is generally lacking. After a few bushels have been dug out the supply is exhausted. This on Mr. Johnson's place is found only three feet from the surface. There has been nothing definite known as to the extent.—Bloomington Guard.

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—In the year 1875 I treated with Kendall's Spavin Cure a bone spavin of several months growth, nearly half as large as a hen's egg, and completely stopped the lameness and removed the enlargement. I have worked the horse ever since very hard since and he never has been lame, nor could I ever see any difference in the size of the hock joints since I treated him with Kendall's Spavin Cure.
