A Leading Firm.

McNitt & Galusha the popular and successful up town clothing merchants with the usual vim and energy have leased the rear end of the Chicago store and are filling it up with a large line of clothing, hats, caps, trunks and valises, etc., in addition to their immense stock of furnishing goods. This firm, although in business only a few months have made a record for themselves that is unsurpassed for fine fitting garments and good goods, at reasonable prices. It is a record that they may well feel proud of. With the acquisition of the new store room they will have better facilities for business and can handle a much larger and more extensive line of clothing, and will therefore be better able to please their customers. Their sales in the last few months have been simply astonishing and far beyond the most sanguine expectations, which leads them to believe that they will do a much larger business this season than any house west of Lincoln. One can now enter their store, buy their clothing, hats, caps, etc., and from there pass into Spokesfields dry goods and grocery house, buy what you want to eat and wear and be happy, all under the same roof. If you are going to buy clothing remember that McNitt & Galusha's is the place to go. Opposite the post office Red Cloud.

Departed this Life.

On Thursday morning at about 11 o'clock, Miss Lillie Letson, the oldest daughter of Mrs. Allison Letson of this city, departed this life. Miss Letson had been sick for a long period and about a year ago she went east with the hope of beneficial results, but only temporary relief was gained and on returning home she was compelled to take to her bed, and await patiently for the Savior to call her home. She was a great favorite with her acquaintances, and beloved and adored by all whom she came in contact with. Her premature death will be a sad blow to her mother and relatives who are greatly grieved at her demise. THE CHIEF tenders to her parents relatives and friends, the heartfelt sympathy of the people of Red Cloud, in this their greatest hour of affliction.

Our friend, S. F. Spokesfield, has rented the commodious store room in the Red Cloud National bank known as the Chicago Store room and will be comfortably located there by the first of the week. Mr. S. is one of our leading merchants and is always found in the first ranks of business enterprise. His new location will give him a big advantage in business over his previous quarters by the acquisition of more room and a better chance to display his large and well selected stock of dry goods and groceries. THE CHIEF wishes him an abundance of prosperity.

Frank Dickerson, brother of our esteemed citizen, M. W. Dickerson, who for many years was a resident of Red Cloud, died quite suddenly on Tuesday evening, at his home in Lebanon, Kansas. He had been in failing health for many years past. He leaves a wife and several relatives in this city to mourn his premature departure. THE CHIEF extends condolence to the bereaved relatives and friends.

On Wednesday, March 24th, Miss Lottie Reigle arrived at the age of seventeen years and in honor of the event her numerous young friends gave her a grand surprise party, which was a very pleasant affair. THE CHIEF congratulates Miss Lottie at this time and wishes her many returns of the happy occasion. She received many tokens of friendship from her friends.
