Report on Quarrel at Peru Normal Halted

Lincoln, Oct. 23.—The Cayiness investigation conducted by a committee of the state normal board slid off into oblivion at the Monday afternoon meeting of the state board. Fred S. Berry, chairman, filed a report that made no findings or recommendations, but indicated that further time was necessary. Instead of granting it the board discharged the committee.

The report deplored the personalities that had been indulged in and stated that a difference of opinion existed as to the facts, but that the board may be trusted to see that the best interests of the Peru normal are conserved.

A. L. Cayiness was named president at Peru normal a year ago. Soon after that several of the long time members of the faculty resigned. Citizens of Peru came before the board and said that Cayiness was autocratic and had forced these old members out. Cayiness reported that the old members acted as though they owned the institution, and that their continued presence made it impossible, for him as the responsible head to run the institution.
