Omaha Grain

Omaha, Nov. 18.

Heavy buying of wheat by eastern commission houses caused a sharp upturn in all grain prices in the early trading, new high levels being reached. On the bulge liberal profit taking caused the loss of most of the gain in wheat, and closed corn lower than last night.

Total run of receipts at Omaha was 398 cars of all kinds of grain, as compared with 38 cars last year. Total shipments were 128 cars as against 117 cars a year ago.

Omaha cash wheat market was about unchanged to 1c higher, except durum, which was quoted 2@3c higher. Corn prices were irregular, being quoted ½c lower to ½c higher. Oats were steady, ¼c up. Rye was quoted 2c higher with a good demand, and barley was ½c higher.

Chicago Grain

By CHARLES D. MICHAELS.
Omaha Bee Leased Wire.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—All deliveries of wheat, nearby futures of oats and May oats advanced to a new high for the season today, as the result of general buying induced by pronounced strength in Winnipeg, but the best figures were not maintained, due to weekend evening up and profit taking and at the last wheat was 3-8@5-8c higher, corn unchanged to 3-8c lower, oats unchanged to 1-4c lower and rye 1-2@3-4c higher. Lard was unchanged to 2 1-2c higher and ribs unchanged.

With the exception of December rye, all deliveries of grain moved up into new ground for the season the past week, and the reactions from the extreme top were not severe, although corn was inclined to lag a little as compared with wheat at the last. Sentiment was decidedly bullish and there was little opposition on the way up at times. At the last wheat showed 3 7-8@5 1-2c higher, corn 1 3-4@3 1-8c up, oats 1@2c higher and rye 6 1-2c higher. Provisions developed a reactionary tendency and lard closed 7 1-2@15c lower and ribs off 2 1-2c.

Letup in Receipts Expected.

Reports that the importation of Canadian flour into the United States had been prohibited were found to be correct but the Treasury department order was a technical affair and was construed as of little importance by the grain trade after analysis. Shorts in Winnipeg wheat, especially in the November, are being punished, and with the forecast for a cold wave following rain or snow, some letup in the country movement on both sides of the international line is expected, although should the freezeup be general it will harden country roads.

Export demand was only fair and reports from the southwest indicated an increased car supply. Millers bought May at Minneapolis and a good flour demand was reported from that section. Spot premiums on red winter here were 1@2c lower, with No. 2 red sold at 10c over December.

Corn Undertone Heavy.

Corn showed a rather heavy undertone from the start, with persistent commission house selling in evidence which found support less aggressive, although the strength in wheat led to local buying. No letup in the western cash demand was reported from Omaha, with sales from Iowa at the highest prices of the season, but the eastern call continues slow, and a slight change in sentiment was noted. Cash premiums showed little change on spot.

Oats showed moderate strength early, but reacted with other grains later. Winnipeg advanced 1@1½c early, only to decline later. Cash demand is only fair.

A violent advance in rye to Winnipeg, with buying by houses with eastern connections, caused considerable activity and a higher range here. Longs sold on the bulge and the finish was on a good reaction from the top. Some export business was under way at the seaboard.

Pit Notes.

The order prohibiting imports of Canadian wheat and flour, it is learned, applies only to Canadian flour. Wheat can be imported under the new tariff bill and the duty paid. The trade was mixed over the situation and reports from Washington failed to make it real clear. Canadian wheat, while considerable feed and American, while are said to have been imported screenings are applied to this, as of late and sold at discounts of $5 to $6 per ton. Millers and grain men here say the ruling evidently applied to this, as under the anti-dumping law imports can be excluded when they sell at lower prices than the home-grown product. Treasury officials at Washington did not regard the ruling as important.

It was said that there will be no difficulty on imports based on fair market value and such imports can continue. The ban will be lifted as soon as suspicion is removed.

Grain stocks all over Europe are light, according to E. D. McDougal, vice president of the Armour Grain company, who landed at New York after a three months' trip abroad. He believes the demand from Europe will continue in sufficient volume to give us steadily advancing prices.

In commenting on the 14c advance in May wheat from the low point of the session, Joseph Wild, with C. A. Johnson & Co., says the upturn is surprisingly small Co., says the upturn is surprisingly small when every factor points to a much larger swing in the price. A price range of 35c or more would be in line with 1915-22 abnormalities.

Heavy selling of all grains at the highest prices of the season for all except corn was enough to give a setback at the last. It did not shake the confidence of the leading holders from their grains or their belief that the reaction was no more than usually comes at week-ends after a bull week. Reactions are to be expected at any time, but a majority of operators regarded them as temporary.

Financial

NEW YORK TIMES.
Omaha Bee Leased Wire.

New York, Nov. 18.—A week of exceptional variation in prices and of rapid changes in the financial mood ended with a stock market so inert and peaceful as to suggest the trading of a mid-summer Saturday. Transactions were, in fact, the smallest since the August vacation period.

This return of calmness so soon after Tuesday's overwhelming decline with Wall Street's accompanying despair, and Wednesday's abrupt recovery with the return of financial hopes, may possibly mark the program for the next few weeks. A period of dullness and hesitancy usually follows just such violent unsettlement, always supposing that the professional speculators have reduced their commitments to a safe margin and that no unexpected good or bad news upsets calculations.

Declines General.

Comparison of today's closing prices with those of the preceding weekend shows a long list of pretty substantial net declines, in spite of the recovery since Tuesday, many of them running to 3 or 4 points. This might mean that the "bear party" had not abandoned its position, but it is quite as likely to mean that a good many of the purchases made in the middle of the week were closed out by sellers on the late recovery. Taken as a whole the bond market also makes poor comparison with a week ago; in Liberty bonds and securities of home companies the week's net losses are considerable.

Foreign bonds are the exception, though even in these the full scope of recovery cannot be grasped except by making comparison with last week's low prices.

Most Bonds Rise.

Most of them rose again fractionally today, making the advance from Tuesday's low prices 4 and 5½ points, respectively in the two French government issues, 4 to 4½ in other French public securities, 4 in the Belgian bonds and 2 to 3 in various other European issues.

It was natural enough that, after the week's rapid recovery and with European markets doing little business, foreign exchange rates should have fallen back a fraction. The reaction was not great, however, and the Paris rables reported a movement of sterling on that market to a rate more favorable to Paris than has been reached on any day this month.

New York Bonds

New York, Nov. 18.—Bond prices moved in an indecisive manner in today's dull trading, gains and losses in active issues being about evenly divided.

In the foreign group, Czecho-Slovakian 8s and Framerican 7½s registered point gains, while the Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean 6s and Copenhagen 5½s slipped back 1½ and 1 points, respectively. Elsewhere, the changes were fractional.

Except for an advance of 1⅝ in Baltimore & Ohio gold 4s, the active railroad mortgages seemed to be under pressure. New Haven 6s, Atlantic Coast Line 7s and Chicago & Alton 3½s each dropping a point. American Telephone convertible 6s recovered all but a small fraction of their 2¼-point loss of Friday, but Montana Power 5s slipped back a point. General Electric 3s and United Drug 8s were sold at concessions and Lorillard Tobacco 5s brought slightly better prices.

The same irregularity prevailed in the Liberty group, but changes either way were not more than 12c on $100.

Total sales (par value) were $6,134,000.
