Husband Was Cruel to Her, She Alleges

Alimony from $600 Monthly Income Is Sought in Petition Filed in Kansas City.

Eugenie Whitmore Dinkins, daughter of Harry Whitmore of Omaha, has filed a suit for divorce from her husband, William T. Dinkins, of Kansas City alleging violent and humiliating treatment.

They were married at Trinity cathedral here November 17, 1920.

Mrs. Dinkins charges intoxication, cruel treatment and that her husband failed to support her adequately.

The divorce suit, which does not come as a complete surprise to Mrs. Dinkins' Omaha friends, was filed Wednesday in Jackson county, Missouri.

At Father's Home.

Mrs. Dinkins has been living at the home of her father, 3905 Dewey avenue, for several months, and has been taking an active part in the social life of her home city Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Dinkins separated February 26, last, according to the petition for divorce. Mrs. Dinkins professes, in the legal document, that she faithfully performed all the duties of a wife, treating her husband with kindness and affection.

From June, 1921 to February, 1922, however, she alleges, she frequently was pushed violently on the floor in the presence of others while pleading with her husband to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors.

At 2 in the Morning.

Five days before their separation, she charges, her husband seized her violently by the wrist, tearing the flesh and wrenching and twisting her body.

He often left home in his motor car at 2 or 3 in the morning and drove to places unknown to her, she alleges.

Her husband is general superintendent of the Sinclair Oil company for the Kansas City territory, she alleges, saying the court for suitable alimony from his income which she claims is $600 a month. She also asks attorneys' fees and temporary alimony pending the divorce trial.

The Dinkins wedding two years ago in Trinity cathedral was one of the most elaborate and largest social affairs of the Omaha season. Trinity cathedral was crowded with guests. Dean Tancock performed the rites which were followed by a reception at the Omaha club given by Mr. Whitmore.

Among the bridesmaids was Miss Margaret Shelby, sister of Mary Miles Minter of the screen.

Tommy O'Connor' Shoots Ottumwa Garage Man

Ottumwa, Ia., Nov. 23.—"You're Tommy O'Connor," challenged Oliver Dimmitt, auto repairman, this evening, glancing from a picture of the notorious criminal hanging on the wall to a stranger who had been hanging around his shop most of the day. "But if you were I'd be the last man to peach on you, even if there is $5,000 in it."

Thus looking around he gazed into the barrel of a revolver, which was backed by the command: "Stick 'em up."

Dimmitt, laughing, said, "Now I know you're Tommy O'Connor."

"Yes, I am," the stranger replied, Dimmitt said, firing pointblank.

The bullet struck Dimmitt's right shoulder penetrating the lung and came out at the back. He is not expected to recover. The stranger fled.

Time Only Question When He Talked of Marriage, C. A. Anderson.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—When he talked to women of marriage, the only question that ever came up was the time, C. A. Anderson, arrested here at the instigation of Mrs. Edna Hoover Anderson, who claimed he deserted her, told the police last night.

Anderson, who claimed membership in a number of matrimonial clubs, admitted he had been married four times, divorced once and had been considering another matrimonial venture, according to police. In his rooms were found more than 400 letters from women, many proposing marriage. He said he had a wife and children at Salina, Kan., whom he deserted after business reverses, the wife later divorcing him.

Starting out to see the world he went to Omaha and to Minneapolis and then to Peoria, Ill., where he said he secured several hundred dollars from a young woman by telling a hardluck story. Later he said he went to Tulsa where he had several love affairs.

At Kansas City, he claimed to have met, wooed and won a wife in 24 hours. He left her after obtaining $2,500, he told the police. His next matrimonial venture was at Des Moines, where he married a girl after a street car flirtation. He could not recall her name, according to police.

Coming to Chicago, he married Mrs. Hoover but left her two days later when he learned she had no money. He said women offered him money without proposals of marriage but that he never accepted it as long as he could find work.

RADIO

Radio Week to Be National Affair

Committee Sets Last Week in December and Ask for Suggestions.

The effort to establish the last week in December as national radio week is being backed by the radio interests, the press, manufacturers, dealers, amateurs and the great army of broadcast listeners. The tentative program is the most comprehensive plan ever undertaken to popularize radio with the American public and aims to double the million persons now interested.

It is hoped that listeners will send in their ideas of what they would like to have broadcast at that time in order that the programs may satisfy the popular demand.

In a way national radio week will be epochal. In the first place it is the initial movement of its kind. Secondly, radio has been developing at so rapid a pace that a project such as national radio week has had no place in a scheme of things that concerned itself primarily with keeping an eye on daily developments. But radio and particularly radio broadcasting has developed into a great force for general good.

Plans are now in the making. Big, powerful stations will chain together across the continent to put on the air programs that will be heard simultaneously in Main and Lower California, in Oregon and the marshes of Florida. Other stations will celebrate the week in their own way, in their own cities, their own communities and everybody is invited to participate in their own homes, their own localities or in any way that will help along the great undertaking of popularizing radio.

Four Physicians Plan Crime to Study Convicts

Doctor Tells Judge of Scheme as He's Sentenced for Transporting Stolen Auto

Portland, Ore., Nov. 23.—The story of four physicians who have sought prison sentences in order to study psychopathology among convicts was told here by Dr. E. J. Lenihan, after he had received a sentence of 18 months in federal prison on charge of taking a stolen automobile from Portland to Spokane. He surrendered recently at Missoula, Mont.

When Judge R. S. Bean asked him if he had anything to say before sentence was passed, Dr. Lenihan replied:

"Only this, your honor. I hope you will not give me a jail sentence." He explained that he wished to receive a penitentiary term in order to carry out his plan of studies. The court replied that from the nature of his offense he would not be disappointed and imposed the sentence.

To newspaper men Dr. Lenihan said he was a graduate of a large university in the east, that he and several associates planned to make studies of criminals at close range and that three of his medical friends had each been sentenced to penitentiaries and now are serving time. He gave the names of each. He said two of them were in Atlanta federal penitentiary, but would not tell where the other was.

He said he had made numerous attempts to obtain a prison sentence in New York, but each time had succeeded only in getting a jail term.

State of Pennsylvania Hard Hit by Drouth

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—Pennsylvania is experiencing one of the worst drouths in its history, according to word reaching here from all sections of the state. Johnstown, once the scene of one of the most disastrous floods on record, now is the most acutely affected by the dry spell, which dates back to last July. Word came here from Johnstown today that if there was no relief in the next three days the Cambria Steel company would be compelled to reduce operations by 50 per cent, throwing 8,000 men out of employment.

The situation also is becoming serious in the coal regions, where reduction, and in some cases, suspension of operations seem imminent.

The wheat crop, it is said, will suffer most seriously unless there is rain or snow fall very soon.

Meterological authorities say the drouth is the most serious in this state since 1909.

Results Are Gained in C. of C. Spud Drive

The drive to facilitate the more rapid disposition of the great Nebraska potato crop is now well under way, and results already are apparent, according to J. M. Gillan, secretary of the agricultural bureau of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce.

Grocers are reporting the sale of larger quantities of potatoes by the bushel, Mr. Gillan says. The Chamber of Commerce received letters of appreciation for starting the potato marketing drive from the commercial clubs of O'Neill and Scottsbluffs yesterday.

C. M. Daly, secretary of the O'Neill organization, expresses regret that the drive was not started sooner, while the potatoes were being dug, but both he and William Morrow, president of the Scottsbluff organization are confident the drive will be of great value to the potato growers of the state.

Girl Accepts Ride: Hurled From Car

Her Companion Leaps From Speeding Auto—One Girl in Hospital—Severely Hurt.

Two girls accepted an automobile ride home from the Roseland dance hall Monday night, when invited to do so by three men. One is now in the hospital, recovering from injuries received when she was thrown from the car, and the other is in a state of nervous collapse as the result of leaping from the automobile, according to police reports.

The girls are:

Sarah Louis, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Louis, 2526 Decatur street. She is in Wise Memorial hospital.

Ida Bernstein, 17, daughter of William Bernstein, 2020 North Twenty-second street.

Sarah was thrown from the car when she repulsed advances made by the men, and Ida leaped out after her, according to police reports, which state the affair occurred at Eighteenth and Davenport streets. Ed Melvin, 4611 North Twenty-second street, was being held for investigation in connection with the case.

Farmers Union National Body to Meet in Omaha

Osborne Wins Contest for Convention by Unanimous Vote—Record Attendance Is Planned.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 23.(Special Telegram.)—Omaha, in contest with a dozen cities, has won the next convention of the National Farmers' union. The vote to send the representatives of the big farm organization to the agricultural metropolis of the United States November 22 of next year was unanimous.

C. J. Osborne, president of the Nebraska Farmers' union, who led the fight for Omaha, induced the convention to suspend the rule requiring that selection of meeting places be referred to the national board of directors. It is the first time in the history of the organization that such a course has been adopted by a national convention.

Los Angeles, Little Rock, Seattle, Portland, Des Moines and other cities sent urgent telegrams inviting the union to meet at their cities, but Omaha triumphed over them all. Osborne told the delegates that a better understanding of Nebraska was desirable, and he was sure every citizen of its biggest city would welcome with open arms the representative farmers.

C. S. Barrett, president of the organization, said he would see that the biggest bunch of farmers ever assembled under one roof would attend the convention in Omaha. A committee was appointed, with Osborne as chairman, to get into immediate touch with representative farmers in every part of the country with a view to making the Nebraska meet the greatest agricultural event in the history of the United States.

Is 1923 To Be A "Hell-Raiser's Year?"

"Discontent has swept the country"; there is a "restless searching of the electorate for some new way out of its troubles." "It will be a 'Hell-Raiser's Year.'"

In these words, independent Kansas City, Chicago, and New York editors in turn explain what happened on November 7th, and they express what seems to be the prevailing sentiment in second thought editorial interpretation of the election.

There is a very interesting news-feature in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, November 25th, which analyzes the cause for Republican defeat and what the Democrats really gained. "There has been a general smashing of pronounced reactionaries," gleefully reports a labor daily (Minnesota Star), while the Newark News remarks that the radicals bearing a party badge are in the ascendant, armed for assault for party control two years hence. If the forecast of conditions is accurate the programs of reactionary groups in Congress as shown in this article will be enlightening to the public at this time.

This Laxative Works Fine on Old People

Thousands have kept themselves healthy with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

ADVANCING age with its subdued ambitions and strivings could be made very happy if only good health accompanied it, and the basis of good health, as everyone learns upon reaching the age of 60, is the regular daily movement of the bowels. If it can be effected through the food you eat, the water you drink and the exercise you take, so much the better. But if nature will not operate it must be assisted or sickness will follow. Neglected constipation causes the blood pressure to go up 28 per cent, and that is the forerunner of hardening of the arteries. It makes rheumatism and gout worse, too.

The ideal constipation remedy for people of advancing years is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is gentle and mild, and does not cramp or gripe. It is a mistake to think you need a violent salt or powder or pill, calomel, coal-tar drugs and such things. They purge and weaken you, and their reaction tends to make you more constipated than before.

Now try the milder method. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin does not lose its good effect with repeated use, and increased doses are unnecessary. Mrs. E. M. Burgess of Enfield, N. C., who is 73, keeps herself in good health with it, and Mr. Charles Chorman of Stapleton, Staten Island, N. Y., wasted fifteen years and considerable money on other remedies before finding steady relief with Syrup Pepsin.

Use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself the next time you suffer from constipation, biliousness, headache, sleeplessness, indigestion, piles or night cramps. Many thousands of elderly people use nothing else, and it costs them less than a cent a dose. Druggists have sold it successfully for 30 years, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!
