A Queer World

Coast Town Police Department Works an Hour to Get a Drink for a Canary.

All for a Canary.

Long Beach, Cal., Jan. 16.—The police department worked more than an hour to get a drink for a canary.

Somebody, passing a show window in a store temporarily closed, saw the bird repeatedly thrust its bill into an empty water cup attached to its cage. A crowd gathered. Someone telephoned the police. Detectives responding ascertained the store was under the protection of a private agency. Operatives of that concern were notified. Finally a man with a key to the store responded. He filled the canary's water cup.

Must Pay the Piper.

San Bernardino, Cal., Jan. 16.—Divorces are luxuries in California, according to Judge B. F. Warmer. He refused yesterday to cut a fee of $75 awarded to the attorney by Mrs. John A. Caster, defendant in an action brought by her husband.

"It's unfair to ask an attorney to come into court and go through the muck-raking of any divorce action for less than $75 or $100," said Judge Warmer. "Divorces are a luxury. The fiddler, if he is the attorney, will be paid."

Hard on Snake Throwers.

Tokio, Dec. 22.—(Correspondence of the A. P.)— Hikasaburo Kurihara, president of the Chugai Shinron (New Magazine) and Yoshido Nakamura, who were charged with instigating the men who threw a snake on the floor of the diet during a debate on universal suffrage last February, have been sentenced by the Tokio local court to three months imprisonment. The actual throwers of the snake were given two months each. All have appealed.

Not Used to City Life.

Los Angeles, Jan. 16.—A deer which strayed from the Santa Monica mountains into the streets of Glendale, a suburb, there to take fright at automobiles and street cars, was chased over fences and through back yards and finally roped by a cowboy employed in the motion pictures, who said he planned to train it to act before the camera.

Girl Attempts to End Life Behind Counter in Store

Prompt action on the part of fellow clerks probably saved the life of Dorothy Herbert, 18, clerk in a downtown store, who gulped a dose of poison Tuesday while at work behind her counter.

Other clerks rushed her to a doctor, who administered first aid and caused her to be taken to Wise Memorial hospital, where her condition is said not to be critical.

Failure to receive her pay for three weeks from an eastern concern for whom she was demonstrating in a local store left her without funds and is said to have been the cause of her attempt to take her own life. Miss Herbert's parents are dead. Her two brothers are students in Omaha. She had been living at the Paxton hotel.

Endres Asks for More Men; No Action Taken by Board

M. L. Endres in a written request to the county commissioners yesterday asked for nine additional deputies. Six of them, he says, he wants for law enforcement, the other three for jail duties.

Although the county board adjourned yesterday without taking action on Endres' request it is reported that Endres will not be given the men. The board will convene again today to discuss the request.

"If the county board does not give me the men, I will go before the legislature," said Endres.

Douglas County W. C. T. U. Holds Jubilee Meeting

At the third annual meeting of the Douglas county W. C. T. U. after the passage of the prohibition amendment, called yesterday for 10 a. m. at Hanscom Park Methodist church, there were 24 members present at noon.

Mrs. M. D. Viento, president, blamed two large missionary meetings, also sheduled for yesterday, for the lack of attendance.

Mrs. Viento spoke enthusiastically of the spirit shown in the national W. C. T. U. convention to which she was a delegate.

Open Hearings to Be Held on Thomas' "Black List"

Public hearings on remonstrances filed by Elmer Thomas against 170 places in Omaha said to be violating the liquor and gambling laws will begin Thursday morning at 9. The city council agreed that each of the accused proprietors be granted a separate hearing before a special committee consisting of Commisioners H. W. Dunn, D. B. Butler and Joseph Koutsky.

A speed of 1,200 miles an hour will be entirely possible in aircraft within the next 25 years, according to Professor F. W. Pawlowski of the aeronautical engineering department of the University of Michigan.
