Parents' Problems

What should be said to children about Santa Claus?

Little children may be told that Santa Claus is the Spirit of Christmas, responsible for the filling of their stockings and the trimming of their Christmas tree. If they materialize Santa Claus and think of him as he appears in the familiar pictures and verses, no harm is done, either now or later. Older children might be given a more literal explanation.

Moods and needs and desires change with the passing of time.

Then why try to thrust a certain form of change or amusement upon a person weeks or months ahead merely to set your own mind at ease that the ones involved may be sure of a vacation.
