TAR PARTY HEAD IS FOUND GUILTY

Jury Convicts Man Accused of Leading Attack on Maryland Girl.

By International News Service.

Frederick, Md., Oct. 3.—Harry Leatherman, former Sunday school teacher, was found guilty today of being the ring leader of the mob which tarred and fethered Dorothy Grandon last July.

The jury deliberated more than 18 hours. Leatherman was found guilty of aiding and abetting Mrs. Mary Shank, one of the confessed leaders of the crowd, which attacked the young girl.

Leatherman was declared not guilty, however, on a count charging him with actually pouring tar and feathers on Dorothy's naked body.

Sentence Suspended.

Judge Hamond Urner suspended sentence, announcing the case would be disposed of after 20 other persons indicted with Leatherman were tried. Leatherman was held under $3,000 bond. He faces a term of from 18 months to 20 years in prison.

The testimony showed that on the night of July 24 a mob of about 50 men, together with Mrs. Shank, surrounded Dorothy and that the girl was beaten, stripped of her clothing and tarred and feathered.

Mrs. Shank accused Leatherman of forcing her to beat and pour tar over Dorothy's body. Leatherman admitted he was in the crowd but declared he merely was an onlooker.

Other Trials Soon.

The trial of the other men indicted with Mrs. Shank and Leatherman will be called in court next Wednesday, Storm announced.

In the little county jail, two young girls, Dorothy Grandon and her companion, Mabel Mills, rejoiced when they heard the news of the verdict.

"It's my turn to laugh now," Dorothy said. "Harry Leatherman is getting what he deserves. He didn't show me any mercy and I hope he gets the same treatment. Leatherman was having a good time when he brought that mob out to tar and feather me last July. He thought he would get away with it. He didn't and I'm happy he was found guilty."

Dixon County Co-Operates in Taxation Investigation

Ponca, Neb., Oct. 2.—Dixon county supervisors voted to co-operate with William H. Smith, state tax commissioner, who is gathering information as to property values in connection with suits brought against the state by various railroads over their taxes.

According to letters sent to the various county boards by Governor C. W. Bryan and Attorney General O. S. Spillman, railroads are resisting in part the assessment of their properties by the state board of equalization and assessment.

Father of World Flyer Is Cabinet Maker

All the parents of the other world girdling aviators have been published many times since the flight started last spring, but this is the first picture that has been shown of the father of Lieut. John Harding, jr., a cabinet maker of Cadillac, Mich., as the skilled woodworker would not consent before to have his portrait printed.

Now that the flight is over, however, the proud father says he wants the world to know that "Johnnie" Harding has a father who has been watching his son's progress with pride and satisfaction.

KIANGSU FORCES OPEN OFFENSIVE

Chekiang Forces Retreat Two Miles in Vicinity of Sungkiang.

By Associated Press.

Shanghai, Oct. 3.—An offensive for which the invading Kiangsu forces attempting to take Shanghai have been gathering men and munitions for the past three days, started last night southwest of Sunkiang, at a point 35 miles south of Shanghai. The defending Chekiang troops were forced to retreat two miles to new positions after intensive night fighting in which both sides employed artillery.

According to an observer who returned from the front, the Chekiang troops were pushed back to positions five miles southwest of Sungkiang. The railway station at Sungkiang last night was a bedlam of terrorized residents, the remnant of thousands of refugees who had previously fled to Shanghai.

As the offensive of the Kiangsu troops proceeded it assumed the aspect of a general engagement, the observer said.

On the front west of Shanghai occasional firing was reported, but the Kiangsu offensive expected in that area today by the Chekiang forces had not developed.

AIR "FLIVVERS" FEATURE RACES

"Flying Bathtub" Entered in Contest Event at Dayton Meet.

By Associated Press.

Wilbur Wright Field, O., Oct. 3.—Spectators at the international air races today were shown what advances have been done to bring commercial flying to the point where it will be more universal. Aerial "flivvers," tiny-appearing planes, some of them powered with motorcycle engines, furnished the greatest interest of the program.

Eight of the small ships, many of them "home-made," were to compete for the Dayton Daily News trophy. Lieut. John A. MacReady, McCook field, famous altitude and distance flyer, planned to fly a "baby bomber" with an engine of 18 horsepower.

Ettienne Dormoy, technical engineer at McCook field, will pilot his "flying bathtub," which travels 50 miles on a gallon of gasoline. The plane has no fuselage and the fuel tank is underdeath the top wing.

Another entry will be a Mix flying plane with a 15.2-horsepower motor, piloted by Jack Lass of Dayton, who was Lincoln Beachey's mechanic. The ship is 12 years old and is one of the oldest and smallest planes in the country.

A model airplane constructed by Robert V. Jaros of the University of Chicago, remained aloft for 10.14:2 minutes in the Mulvihill model trophy race, setting what is said to be a new world's record.

Jaros, representing the Model Aero Club of Illinois, also set a new world's record for distance, according to announcement.

His glider traveled a mile and a half. The best previous distance was 6,000 feet and the last record for time 5.5 minutes.

Ponca—With 40 nonresident pupils in the high school here and six in the grade school, the income of the school district from tuition fees this year will be $4,500.
