Ansley.

The above items were omitted last week.

A photographer has pitched his tent in our midst.

Mrs. Lewis, who conducts the Transit hotel, is seriously ill.

A fine rain visited this section of the county Tuesday night.

The oldest daughter of J. R. Rhodes is reported to have diptheria.

Joe Lewis, of Chicago, a brother of Mrs. J. H. Kerr, is here on a visit.

The Ravenna base ball nine failed to put in an appearance last Sunday.

C. G. Lind, republican candidate for register of deeds, was in Ansley last Friday.

Mr. Miller, junior postmaster of the Mason City postoffice, was on the streets Tuesday.

Minnie Kerr, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kerr, is quite ill this week.

H. M. Wooddin was called to Otto county, Iowa, Wednesday, on account of the death of his mother.

Mike Carroll, the creamery man, has moved his family to town in order that his children may have the benefit of our schools.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dittmer died last Thursday night of indigestion and was buried in the Ansley cemetery Sunday afternoon.

The remains of William Brown, the seventeen-year-old lad who was killed in the explosion of a boiler last Thursday, was laid to rest in the Ansley cemetery Friday afternoon.

Milam Sharpless, who left here last week for the state of Washington, writes home that he arrived all safe, and is located in the town of Garfield. He is well pleased with the looks of the country.

E. H. Burrows and daughter Gertrude have gone to Denver on a visit.

F. M. Currie, of Sargent, was in town Tuesday. His visit was a business one and not political.

Tuesday being the first day to legally shoot prairie chickens, a number of our sports went hunting.

Rev. Shepard, of Litchfield will hold services in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, Oct. 6.

A merry-go-round has made its appearance in our midst, to gather in the spare nickels and make our poor people poorer.

Frank Watson and family, and Mrs. Denny and son William, all left here Monday morning in covered wagons for Woods county, Oklahoma.

S. B. McKenty, who is in the employe of the McCormick Co., and who is located with headquarters at Callaway, visited his family here last Saturday and Sunday.

Rev. Woods, pastor of the Baptift church, preached his last sermon as pastor here Sunday night. All of his time will be given to the church at Mason City, hereafter.

Thieves entered the billiard hall of Simpson Bros. the other evening and helped themselves quite liberally to cigars. It is thought to be the work of the gang of thieves Ansley harbor in her midst.

Some sneak thief entered the McCargar feed mill by a window and stole all the brass from off the threshing engine. The fact that the proprietor is a poor man and is in a critical condition from injuries received in an explosion, goes to show that some people will stoop very low.

"Owl Club" is the name of a new organization composed of fifteen young coupie. The purpose of the club is to have a social good time during the weary winter months. Your correspondent hopes that its members are not as homely as the bird after which the club is named.

Mrs. S. E. Lewis, who conducted the Transit hotel at this place, died last Thursday at 2 o'clock p. m., and was buried in the Janesville cemetery Saturday. Deceased was sixty-four years old and leaves four sons and one daughter to mourn her death. The cause of death was paralysis.

Oliver Case, of Ellenville, Conn., who is here looking after some real estate matter, went out during Monday afternoon with Dr. E. A. Hanna. While getting out of the buggy he was kicked on the right arm by one of the horses, breaking it just above the wrist. It is now the general opinion that the doctor's horse has an eye for business—for the doctor.

Snake Run.

Mr. Frye will take Geo. Gordon place as teacher.

J. M. Lloyd lost a fine four year old mare last week.

John Stewart and family, left last week for Iowa, for a six weeks visit with relatives.

Geo. Gordon quit teaching his school last week and took his departure for California, where he accepts a position on the rail road.

Everybody went to the fair and came home with a few bruises, and carrying a cane, and a little rubber ball to remember the fair.

The most of the threshing is done. Oats made from eight to twenty-five bushels per acre. Rye made about thirteen, and no wheat threshed.

Ryno.

C. G. Empfield is building a frame house on the homestead.

I. D. Shuman has returned from his visit amongst relatives near Gem, Kansas.

A. J. Reeves is building a frame shed to house his carriage, wagon, implements and such.

B. O. Shedd informs us that the rats are numerous. He has fed them strychnine and rough-on-rats, but they laugh and grow fat. He says he saw a dozen knawing on one ear of corn at the same time. Weather cool and pleasant.

C. H. Landreth has again made his appearance on the Loup with his thresher. He has threshed for several farmers, Grain poor. Wheat makes six and eight bushels per acre, rye eight and ten. As far as I can learn there will be very little rye sowed, no wheat. All fear chintz bugs.

Ortello News.

Mr. Hill's house is almost ready to be occupied.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cornish spent Sunday and Monday in Ortello.

Miss Mattie Fodge went to Broken Bow last Thursday, returning Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Boyce returned to their home in Dundy county last Monday.

Mrs. Hewitt and children departed for Mullen, Neb., last Monday night. They go to visit Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hewitt.

Mr. Empfield came to Mr. Waddingtons last Wednesday and returned again Sunday. He comes oftener than his brother used to.

Ortello was well represented at the fair last Thursday, some members of almost every family being there. Tom and Frank Butler entered three ponies in the races.

Some many of our people attended the fair, that we shall not attempt to give their names. Many of them stayed for the street fair, which was rather disappointing. Apparently, the main object was to see who could be the rudest and have the most fun.

Anselmo.

Mr. Pilant of Kearney was in town Monday.

H. K. Atkinson went to Broken Bow Monday.

Miss Nettie Hannawald spent Saturday and Sunday in Merna.

Mr. Richardson of Hoosier Valley moved his family into town last week.

Mrs. R. Gordon and Mrs Eli Fenner of Merna were Anselmo visitors last Friday.

Etha Allen came home Saturday from Lincoln where she went to attend school.

Mr. and Mrs. Mae Johnson of Merna visited with W. E. Warren and family last Sunday.

Mr. Andy Beck, came in from Indiana Sunday morning, to visit his relatives, C. D. Pelhams.

Mr. Potter, our genial butcher, moved his family over from Gandy Friday. We welcome them among us.

Mr. Bass, sr. and family moved into the Heffman building last week. Mr. Hecker moved into the house vacated by Mr. Bass.

Mrs. Kate Bowman is in from the country where she has been through the summer. She intends to stay in town for the winter.

Redfern News.

John Miller is threshing this week.

A show is the attraction at Lodi this evening.

Grant Patterson and John Williams have finished threshing.

Farmers are getting their threshing done as speedily as possible.

Harry Gibson and Artie Youny took in the fair at Broken Bow last week.

Mrs. A. P. Cox, after a very pleasant visit in Cass county, is at home again.

Miss Cora Bain left last Saturday for several months visit with relatives in Chicago.

Martin Ward and daughter Miss Emma, of Lodi, visited at D. E. Youngs last Friday.

C. B. Drum, of Callaway, has been doing some repairing on wells in this neighborhood recently.

"Redfern News" in last weeks paper was rather disconnected, not owing to the fault or the writer, however.

Oscar Jones had a tooth pulled sometime ago, and had a very serious time with it, but is now able to be at work.

Regular services were held at Redfern last Sunday, for the first time since the tabernacle meetings began four weeks ago.

Miss Lucy McCarter, in company with her friend Miss Lulu Signor, of Lexington, visited at Redfern, one day last week.

A. J. VanAntwerp of Lodi passed through this vicinity last Sunday, on the way to his school, near Etna. He was accompanied by his father and Chas Lind.

While working several miles from home in threshing, W. B. Gibson was taken very seriously sick, and for a few hours his life was despared of, but prompt medical aid saved him, and he is now better.

A tabernacle meeting, under the supervision of the Evangelical Minister Rev. Keene, has been in progress for some time near Beebe Chapel, but is closed now and a revival is being held at the chapel at the present time. Some of the visiting ministers were: Rev. G. S. Smith, of Lincoln; Devol, of Cameron and J. S. Tubbs, of the M. E. church. Rev Keene was also assisted by Rev. Wolford, of Gothenburg, and Rev. John Clark of Redfern.
