OBITUARY.

August E. Roessler was born in Germany, October 17, 1872, and died Friday, April 24, 1903, being thirty years old. At the age of nine years he came to America with his parents, locating in Indianna. In 1883, he came with his parents to Nebraska, locating first at Plattsmouth and removed to Custer county in 1890 near Berwyn, where he has since resided making his home with his parents. He had accumulated considerable property after reaching his majority. He owned a farm of 160 acres adjoining his father, clear of incumberance, twenty two head of cattle, half of twenty five brood sows and necessary farm machinery to farm his place of which 90 acres are in cultivation and five or six acres in alfalfa, the ballance being fenced to pasture. He had some money; his parents found two hundred dollars of his money in the house with other effects but whether it was all he had no one knows. Some four years ago he had a spell of sickness and he was in a worse condition apparently than his late illness, but the family did not detect any symptoms of insanity and his rash act was a great shock to his parents and relatives. Yet since his death they recall sayings and actions that lead them to beleive he had for some time premeditated suicide. His last sickness dates from last fall, but up to within a week or two before his death he was able to work. He had gathered nearly all of his own corn and assisted in shelling it. Just the day previous to his death he was out and looked over every thing about the place in which he was interested, closely observing every thing. They now construe his actions to have been giving a last farewell look, having fully determined to end his existance. He had always been a dutiful son and loving brother, friendly with his neighbors and had the respect of all. He leaves to mourn his untimely death, father, mother, two brothers, Emil, who is married and lives near Berwyn, Powell, the youngest brother who lives with his parents and Mrs. H. F. Grabert.

The funeral was held at the Berwyn schol house, Sunday 26, at 2 o'clock and was conducted by Rev. Bellis. His remains were laid to rest in the Janesville Cemetery.
