Kearney County (50)

Though Kearney County was not organized until 1872, the history of the region goes back at least to the establishment of Fort Kearny, in 11848, and indeed further back than that. For Kearney County from the middle 1820's was travelled over by fur traders, missionaries, and emigrants.

The establishment of Fort Kearny in 1848 markks the beginning of more or less permanent activity in the county. Fort Kearny for many years was an important guardian of the overland trail and an important stop for stage coaches, freight wagons, and the fleet horses of the Pony Express. Indeed, Fort Kearny, was one of the best known posts on the plains. Its history has been treated earlier in this column.

Fort Kearney was abandoned in 1871, and the reservation made available for occupation by settlers. Already there were people in the area—there was a rather considerable civilian settlement at Kearney City, better known as Doby Town, just west of the fort—and Nebraskans lost little time in making up the fine, flat valley land of the former military reservation.

One of the leading early settlers of Kearney County was Moses H. Sydenham, who published a weekly newspaper called the Central Star, through which he advocated the removal of the United States capitol from Washington, D. C. to "Centoria," the point from which he issued his newspaper.

At the first election, held June 17, 1872, the voters — all 31 of them — decided to locate the county seat at Lowell by a vote of 23 for that point to 5 for Kearney City. In 1876, the voters re-located the county seat on the unbroken prairie where the city of Minden was to develop. The people of Lowell got out an injuction against the removal of the county records and the actual transfer was not made until 1878. By that time, there were a few buildings in Minden.

The early history of Kearney County is as colorful as that of any county in the state. Fortunately, Kearney County is one of the counties which has the benefit of a recent historical sketch —Heroes Without Medals, the very fine history published by Roy I. Bang in 1952.

In 1860, there were 474 persons reported as living in the area. In 1870, however, only 58 persons were shown in the area. Once the county was organized, the population grew rapidly and in 1880, returned a total of 4,072, which increased in 1890, to 9,061. The peak of population of the county was reached in 1900, when the census returns showed 9,866. Since that time, there has been a gradual decline and the population in 1950, was 6,409.

Place your Orders

George Thun, Leo Osterholm and Doc Pucelik are planning to spend the Holiday weekend at Bassett fishing. They will be the guests of Frances Hebard of Bassett, formerly of Weeping Water. They will take orders for fish until midnight Saturday. Just call 5035. Collect calls will not be accepted.

* * *

Vacation begins

Del Heedum manager of Hinky Dinky, will go on vacation starting Monday, May 30. He doesn't have any specific plans as yet—will cut the grass and rest. He may be able to get up to Ak-Sar-Ben to wager a few bob on the Giddaps, and that will be it.

* * *

Go East Young Man?

Steve Davis and Mary Lou will journey to Chicago starting Saturday. Steve is a delegate from Plattsmouth Rotary Club to the International Rotary Convention. This is the Golden Jubilee celebration and should be quite a convention.

* * *

Heads for Northwest

Frank Biles and Georgia will go to Creighton, Neb. over the holidays to visit Mrs. George Schneider, Mrs. Biles' mother. They will return Monday.

To Iowa

Paul Bowers and family of B and H Shoes will go to Clarinda Iowa to spend the weekend with the Frank Reed family, and then to Braddyville, Ia., to visit the George Bowers family.

* * *

Dinner guests

Marie Richards of the Style Shop will spend a quiet weekend at home — preparing a large Sunday dinner for her family—Mr. and Mrs. Herb Freeburg of Gambles will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Orville O'Hara of Spencer, Ia.

* * *

Unique Potted Plant

Mrs. Claude Ruse has a plant that is somewhat different—It consists of a coconut in a large vase, with several leaves growing out of the nut. It has been on display in the window for several days.

* * *

New Business

Construction has begun on the new drive-in located south of Plattsmouth, by Stites Farm Eq. Red Young, local contractor, is building the structure for the new firm.

Watch Out

Some of you will read this before you leave to go on your holiday weekend—so drive carefully — your life is worth a little time saved — let's try to prove the statistics wrong this time.

LeMay Announces Staff Changes At Offutt AFB

A series of Headquarters Strategic Air Command staff changes were announced today by General Curtis E. LeMay, SAC's commander-in-chief.

Brig. Gen R. M. Montgomery, SAC Chief of Staff since September 1952, will assume command of the 860th Air Division, Lake Charles Air Force Base, La., in early July. Brig. Gen. Jack Roberts, currently Chief of Staff at Eighth Air Force Headquarters, Carswell Air Force Base, Texas, will replace General Montgomery.

Replacing Brig. Gen James H. Walsh as SAC Director of Intelligence, is Col. R. N. Smith, presently Chief, Target Analysis Division, SAC Directorate of Intelligence. General Walsh has been assigned as commander of the 7th Air Division in England.

Col. Stephen D. McElroy, SAC Director of Personnel will take up duties next month as commander of the 376th Bomb Wing, Barksdale Air Force Base., La., while Col. Glenn P. Nell, SAC Adjutant, will become adjutant for the United States Air Forces in Europe. Successors for Colonels McElroy and Nell have not yet been named.

Chaplain (Col.) John C. W. Linsley, chief of SAC chaplains since December 1951, will go to Headquarters, United States Air Forces in Europe, as staff chaplain. Succeeding him will be Chaplain (Col.) Charles W. Marteney, who comes from Headquarters, USAF.
