AN EXHIBIT WORTH SEEING

The art exhibit which will continue until January 1 is having only a fair number of visitors. But all who do visit the gallery pronounce the exhibit well worth seeing. The pictures are all attractive and very well arranged.

Two of the larger pictures which have received much favorable comment are, "Below the Island," by Edward W. Redfield of Centre Bridge, Pa., and "Where Brook and River Meet," by Gardner Symonds of New York. Both are scenes representing a winter landscape. The coloring, especially in the former, is something out of the ordinary. Of the smaller pictures, "The Pinnacle" is probably the most attractive.

All excepting thirteen of the pictures are for sale, ranging in price from $300 to $3,000.

The listed price for the complete exhibit is over $50,000.

Today and Friday are the last days in which the students will have an opportunity to see the exhibit. CAMPUS CAMPAIGN IS COMING

Y. M. C. A. Meetings After Vacation Will Bring Big Men to Nebraska—Similar to Other Universities.

Immediately after the holidays a series of meetings has been arranged for by the Y. M. C. A. which will bring to Nebraska some of the biggest men in college work in America. The meetings will be held from Jan. 14 to 19, and the speakers will include such men as Henderson of Brooklyn, who has just finished a similar campaign at Syracuse University, Dad Elliott, the International Student Secretary; Heinzman, the State Secretary of Kansas; Nipps, the Interstate Student Secretary and a number of other equally prominent men.

Careful preparations have been made for these meetings, and a committee of fifty has been organized and working on the matter all fall. This committee has been divided into subcommittees to take care of every detail of the work.

A similar series of meetings has just been finished at Wisconsin University, and nearly all the larger universities of the middle west are planning on a movement such as this one for the month of January.
