FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

THE COUNTRY'S BUSINESS.

NEW YORK, October 19.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s mercantile agency reports the business situation not improved. The manifest shrinkage in the volume of trade at this port is shared in by seven of the largest commercial centres. Eleven cities show a slight gain in business. Merchandise shows a decline in volume as the season approaches the close, but there has been a fair amount of profit in transactions of the week, as prices have been pretty steadily maintained. Collections are good and notwithstanding the large increase in the number of failures the losses as yet by bad debts do not impair the expectations of a fairly profitable season. Grain markets are irregular and closed weak at about previous rates. There has been a slight variation in the price of cotton with a tendency somewhat downward. Pork and lard are fairly steady with but slight variation in price. No special change in wool. Large speculation has taken place in petroleum during the week, but the fluctuations are slight, ranging between 3 and 4 cents. The money market continues to show remarkable ease, there being plethora of money for everything except stock speculation. Deposits amount to nearly $500,000,000, showing an increase of $30,000,000 as compared with last year, indicating large withdrawals of money from speculation.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, October 19.

Money—In better demand at 3@4 per cent; closed at 2 per cent.

Prime Paper—6@7 per cent.

Exchange Bills—Dull at 4.81; demand, 4.84.

Governments—Strong; coupon 4's ⅛ higher

Stocks—Much less active than yesterday in the same hours and fluctuations of prices were over a narrower range than yesterday. After 12:30 there was a sharp attack by bears on five or six stocks, causing a decline of ½ to 1¾ per cent in half an hour to 1 o'clock, after which the market became too strong for them and not only rallied for all stocks that were attacked but for some other and there was a general advance, leaving the advance at 2 o'clock ½ to 1¼ per cent over prices at 12:30. In the last hour the market fluctuated and as the general result changes were lower prices than at 2 o'clock, compared with yesterday's close. The most important changes were the following declines: Lackawanna, 1½; Western Union, 1; Oregon & Transcontinental, 1; other declines being fractional. Of those higher were Northwestern 1⅞, preferred 5 per cent, Pullman Palace car 2. In the last half hour there was a difference in Northern Pacific preferred of 4 per cent between regular and seller, 3 on large, on operations made by a New York branch of the Boston firm.

THE WEEK IN CHICAGO.

Special dispatch to the BEE.

CHICAGO, October 19.—The leading produce markets during the past week were moderately active and on some days were extremely so. There continues to be an export demand and each day shows an increase in the visible supply at this point. Reports from New York indicate that grain is moving abroad, but not in sufficient quantity to affect prices here. The bulk of trading was confined to local dealers. Country speculators are waiting for a more lively market, which it is apparent can only exist under a large demand. The short interest, which is very large, insists that no grain will be required by Europe until after holidays and that present prices are in consequence too high. The daily downward movement of the markets seems to confirm this widespread opinion. Nevertheless there is a large amount of long wheat held in New York, and several large dealers in Chicago are pronounced bulls on 94 cent wheat. Prices for wheat have ranged with a limit of 1c and close to-night about that much lower than Monday's opening figures. The cereal has been at times very active and stronger with rising tendencies. This feature was due, however, to the shorts covering. How successful has been the latter's operations in the past six weeks may be judged from the transactions of N. B. Ream, who yesterday filled his load of 1,100,000 wheat at an average profit of 12 cents a bushel.

Corn has been fairly well dealt in. Following the example of wheat it has declined steadily excepting occasional spurts of higher prices, caused by local influences. The same causes that affected wheat govern the movement of prices of corn and the short interest who figure on 40 cents a bushel for the cereal comprises a majority of the dealers. There is no shipping demand ed by country speculators.

Oats and barley have each shared in the moderate liveliness of the week. They have ruled steady and presented no special features of interest.

Hog products were rather dull. Most days there was not sufficient life in the market to change quotations. Foreign advices quote dull and steady markets. While there is a fair export demand, there is apparently a desire among holders to await the result of the present feverishness in Wall street before pulling large lines. Prices exhibit small change, and fluctuations were few and unimportant.

The jobbing trade reports a moderate degree of activity. Groceries are going off well.

Dry goods are less active and have fewer and closer buyers to deal with.

Shipments of currency to the country show a large increase. Railroad receipts from the west are slightly improved.
