DEXTER L. THOMAS has laid out an addition to the city of Omaha named Mascotte, and we notice that the streets are properly named Rocco, Lorenzo, Bettina, Pippo and Frederick, and seeing that the same is on the Belt Railway and at a point where the Omaha Northern R. R. promises fairly to make a junction with the Belt Line, and lots only $100 to $200, we think the location well named, and that the purchasers will have a Mascotte, as the indications point the lots to be worth from $500 to $800 soon. These lots are to be sold on contract, 20 per cent cash and balance $5 per month. Apply to Dexter L. Thomas, Room 8 Creighton blk 488dec 3

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—[Special Telegram to the BEE.]—The wheat market, liberated from the restrictions placed upon it by privilege traders, stretched itself to-day and inflated its lungs with the glorious air of freedom. The scalpers were at a loss what to do for a time and they moved with greater caution than when fortified by privilege insurance, but as the day wore away they recovered confidence and operated on a larger scale. Professional privilege traders are doing no end of kicking and threaten to carry their business elsewhere, but if the history of the first day repeats itself the trade will soon reach the conclusion that the abolition of puts and calls is a good thing. Wheat advanced 3¼c and closed at the top. There was moderate local buying early on improved cables and reports from the northwest that the demand for cars to bring the grain forward from the country was slackening up. To-day there was some covering on account by parties in Minneapolis and Duluth, but not much. New York was a heavy buyer late in the day, and local shorts did some brisk scrambling for cover. Receipts at western primary points are about 600,000 bushels less than last week.
