HORSES WINTERED—I would respectfully announce to the citizens of Omaha that I have better accommodations for wintering horses at Omaha fair grounds than can be found in the west. I have 180 large warm box stalls, with four large yards for exercising during the day, the walls are 8 feet high and are warmer than most stables. We have facilities for feeding warm bran and oats 3 times a day; horses wintered this way are fit for work at any time, while horses wintered in the old way of starving and freezing in the corn stalks takes half the next summer to get in condition to drive. The horse cars run to the grounds every 30 minutes. Parties having horses at the grounds can see them at any time. For particulars and terms address, A. Thompson. 777-1j*
