THE CONDITION OF TRADE.

Bankers Report the Financial Situation as Dull and Quiet.

A SCARCITY OF FIRST CLASS PAPER.

Jobbers Say Trade is Very Fair and Mail Orders Numerous, With Collections Rather Slow—Canned Goods Steady.

Mr. Hughes, manager of the clearing house, reports the clearings of the week as footing $4,951,173.17, an increase of 25 per cent, and balances footed $1,111,347.69. Bankers say the money market is dull and quiet and express some surprise that it should remain for so long a time, as it has in its present lethargic condition. Of course speculators would gladly borrow all the available surplus, but first-class paper is remarkably scarce and while bankers do not care to go and hunt for it they express a desire to have more offered for discount than has been presented of late. As the season of navigation on the great lakes opens soon there will be released much money now invested in grain at the lake ports and this will be added to the available surplus, so that there seems to be a probability that money will continue easy during the spring and summer. Local rates are about 8 per cent for prime mercantile paper.

Trade is said by jobbers to be very fair indeed, and mail orders are numerous and liberal. Collections are rather quiet and the indications from this source are that money is rather scarce with traders in the country, but there have been but few failures or assignments and the situation as regards outstandings is not looked upon as at all uncomfortable. Values have been steady during the past week and fairly well maintained, no great changes of any kind being quotable, though dried fruits continue firm and active and holders are very stiff in their views, the opinion seeming to be general that the recent advance was legitimate and permanent for this season at least.

The Brazil coffee market is somewhat stronger and prices are steady, but buyers do not seem to take hold freely and there is a halting, irresolute tone to the market not encouraging to holders. Nevertheless there is nothing tending to show that lower figures are likely to be made soon. The total visible supply of Rio and Santos foots 462,114 bags, against 573,065 bags in March 1889, and 440,188 bags in March 1888. Of mild coffees the New York Shipping and Commercial List says: East India grades have ruled quiet and steady, the only fresh business consisting of a few jobbing sales from second hands to dealers. West India descriptions have been in moderate request.

The sugar market is virtually unchanged, being if anything firmer at the close of the week than in the earlier part, but there is not much disposition shown to buy beyond a supply for immediate needs. The quotations at New York for refined sugars when exported less drawbacks are: Cut loaf, per 100 lbs., $4.25; cubes, $4.74; crushed, $4.55; powdered, $4.81; granulated, $4.55.

Canned goods are steady and choice brands of corn and tomatoes are in fair request, but the supply is very liberal and buyers can have all they call for without disturbing prices materially. The flour market is dull and unchanged and prices are easy, tending downward.

Hides are quiet, but the market is firm. Tallow and grease are unchanged and wool dull.

In the drug line trade is pretty fair. Acids are unsettled and inclined to higher prices. English chemicals are firmly held. Opium is steady but there is no quotable change in values. Quinine is somewhat higher and very active for German, with domestic quiet and unchanged. The leaf tobacco market is seriously disturbed over the prospect that congress will impose a duty of $2.00 per pound on sumatra wrappers, and holders are loathe to sell. Prices have advanced rapidly, and in all probability all grades of imported leaf tobacco will rule higher during this year than last. The iron market is quiet with a tendency to lower values. Lead is dull. Tin is quiet and steady with a fair demand.

Local produce markets are well supplied and the demand is pretty good for choice butter. Eggs are coming in very freely, the market is weak and prices have declined to 9c per dozen. Cheese is firm and holders are stiff in their views. The vegetable markets are well supplied with both new and old, and waiters are dealing on new stuff as the season advances. The market for choice old potatoes is firm. Poultry is in fair supply and the demand pretty good, but a few days of warm weather would lower prices promptly. There is an over-supply of game and prices are nominal. Retail trade has been affected somewhat by the wet weather, but leading dealers report trade good and collections fair.

The Bank of Commerce of Omaha will surrender its state charter April 14 and organize it as the National Bank of Commerce, with a capital of $250,000.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, April 5.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Trade in dry goods was very moderate today, something of a holiday feeling prevailing, but the tone of the market seemed to be rather improved than otherwise, the weather favoring the retail trade and the weak spots of the market have apparently touched bottom.
