Wheat Surprises Traders by Taking a Shoot Right From the Start.

CORN CHANGEABLE AS THE WEATHER.

The Trade in Oats Holds its Own—A Feature of the Provision Market the Buying of Pork by Hutchinson.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Wheat sold at the highest price of the day a few minutes after the opening, when December touched $1.05¾ and May $1.09¾. These prices were exactly 1c over the close last night. The market started with much force and activity at about ¼c over last night at $1.05 for December, and while small shorts were being run in and bull houses were bidding for wheat it had every appearance of a good bull market. There was some reason for early action, too. Cables came firm and slightly higher on unfavorable weather abroad. The weather chart confirmed dispatches from the northwest saying that all spring wheat states were deluged with rains, that all stacking and threshing were stopped and that damage must follow. While receipts here were a few cars over the estimate the movement to both spring and winter wheat markets was smallenough to be a bull argument. The crowd was bullish while this little advance was going on, but when it stopped because of free selling of long wheat by Bloom, Brosseau, Tuttle and Stauffer, followed by others, there was a change of sentiment with many of the shorts out of the way. The offerings were not taken except at concessions. Prices started down almost as quickly as they advanced and long before noon December was back to the closing prices of yesterday at $1.04⅝; about midday a further decline set in led by selling through Irwin, Jones & Co., Milnor, Bodman & Co., Baldwin & Farnum and others, followed by the crowd, by this time bearish. Cables announcing clearing weather abroad, lower closing Liverpool prices and dispatches giving the Pioneer Press as authority for a liberal estimate on the Minnesota crop, all helped along the selling. There were no export clearances either at New York or Baltimore. On this late decline prices went off quite sharply to $1.03⅞ for December and $1.07½ for May before 1 o'clock. This put prices 1¾c under the close yesterday and 2¼c off from the top prices of the morning. The wheat market did not make any recovery from bottom prices. Sales of December were claimed at $1.03⅞ and May at $1.07⅞ and last prices were: September $1.01, December $1.03⅞ and May $1.07½. There was too much bullying wheat coming out all day on bull news to expect anyrally.

The corn market is as changeable as the weather. The prospects of frost one day causes buying and helps prices; excellent weather and no sign of frost causes the crowd to sell out what they bought on frost talk. Other influences are largely disregarded. There are many who believe in 50c corn and 60c corn later as they believe in 40c corn. The market opened today with prices ¼c to ⅜c off from last night and trade bearish on the improved weather. There was general selling out of corn bought yesterday. This carried September down to 45⅝c and May to 48⅝c, or just ⅝c under the close yesterday. This was the first hour; then the market rallied and sold at 46¼c for September and 48⅝c for May. This was on taking of fifteen loads for export at New York and a special demand for the month from certain local houses, but a good portion of the trade kept on selling all day and before 10 o'clock September went off to 45⅝c again and May to 48⅝c, the low point up to that hour. Receipts were 412 cars and for tomorrow 535 cars, a liberal estimate. Bradstreets decreased available stocks east of the Rockies only 500,000 bushels last week, or about the decrease shown by Chicago alone. Shipments were 400,000 bushels. There was an improved feeling in corn at the close, but it came too late to cause any rally. Early months all closed at the same price—45⅝c for September, October, November and December, with May at 48⅝c, with 48⅝c bid on the floor after the close.

There was a general picking up of oats early by brokers representing houses short on the market. This gave the market an upturn, even after wheat and corn had started on a decline. Later in the day, when the decline was sharp in leading markets, oats merely lost the early advance and closed steady for May and a fraction higher for the early months. Counselman bid for oats early. Simons and Ellison were buyers also; September sold at 25½c to 25¾c and the close October 25½c to 25¾c to 25¾c; May 28¼c to 28⅜c to 28⅜c.

Early dispatches from the yards gave 19,000 hogs received and better prices for choice lots, easier for others. With this before them provision dealers opened the market strong and at slightly better prices all around. A feature of the early market was the buying or bidding for pork by Hutchinson. Prices started up on this and later dispatches gave the hog market strong and higher, with receipts increased to 20,000. January pork sold at $12.02½ up to $12.20, off to $12.00 and closed at $12.10, September pork was bid up to $10.35, with the best sale at $10.25 short before the close. Lard sold at $6.25 for September, $6.35 for October and $5.72½ for January and closed at $6.22½, $6.35 and $5.70. Ribs were 2½ to 5c higher at $5.2½ for September, $5.47½ for October and $5.35 for January. Offerings were very light early, but packers sold products on an advance as usual.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—CATTLE—Business slow from first to last, and when that is the case it is easily understood by those concerned that prices are weak, running down to a shade easier. There was a limited demand for good steers, with the exporters slow ahead, but the most of that class of stock sold nearly as well as yesterday; it was a class below exporters; that is good fat steers, but slightly off in appearance and style. It should be remembered that when cattle are plenty and demand slow buyers can see a hundred and one defects that are not observable to the naked eye when cattle are scarce and in demand. Texans, rangers and stockers underwent little or no change. First class natives, $4.90@5.25; second class, $4.50@4.85; third class, $3.85@4.25; common, $2.75@3.50; Texans, $2.40@2.90; rangers, $3.00@4.10.

HOGS—Business active with another upturn of 5@10c on all classes. Packers paid $4.00@4.35 and some heavy, together with butcher weights, sold at $4.40@4.60; also light sorts at $4.45@4.60.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—STOCKS—Raiding of Rock Island and a severe selling pressure in all granger and coal stocks late yesterday, left the street very much at sea. The source of selling was not easily found. That much of the offering was long stock let go by disappointed holders is not doubted this morning, while the conservative element does not believe the talk about passing of dividends on any of the standard stocks. Figures produced this morning giving Rock Island earnings for August $165,000 short of the same month a year ago, not only justified the action of the closing hour yesterday, but was the cause of a further drop of 1 per cent the first hour today. This, and an interview with Gould in which he says he is a bull and yet attacks certain granger stocks, gave tone to the early market. Trading up to noon left the list irregular. Chicago Gas and cotton oil are firm and ⅛ to ¼ higher. Sugar refiners dropped off 1¼ to 8⅛ and rallied to 81. Lake Shore held steady, while New England opened ⅛ lower and made no recovery. Rock Island, after dropping to 83¼, recovered to 83⅞ and St. Paul declined ⅝ to 71⅛ and back to 71⅝. Coal stocks were about steady and trading was of a slow character at midday. After noon a few stocks rose to better prices, viz: Atchison to 43⅝, Rock Island to 84, Lake Shore to 108⅛. The improved feeling in Rock Island was due to a division of Atchison traffic of the southwest. At the advance offerings were free and closed at 83¼, or ⅜ off for the day. Atchison dropped back to 42⅞. Chicago Gas rose to 51 and Sugar closed at 81, with very little feature to trading. Money ruled 4@6 per cent. Sales were 105,000 shares.
