Census Taking in the Country.

The work of the census enumerator in the country districts will be somewhat difficult, but when it is finished government officials will be enabled to gain an idea of what an enormous industry agriculture in the United States is. The information asked by the enumerator should be given by a farmer for it will not be used as a basis for taxation, nor communicated to any assessor. It will be under all circumstances treated confidentially.

The farmer will be asked to give facts about every kind of crop produced and every kind of animal on the farm. Farmers who wish to give accurate figures would do well to be preparing them now and have them ready for the census taken on the 15th of April. Where a farmer does not know the exact figures relating to his farm, crops and animals, careful estimates will be made. The census taker will report the owner and the tenant of land, how the land is rented, for cash or on shares, whether the owner operates his own farm or hires a manager. Where a man's wife owns the land or he is an heir to an unsettled estate or a guardian of a minor, he will be reported as owner.

A report will be required of the enumerator on the domestic animals, the animals slaughtered, the dairy products, grains and seeds, mixed crops, corn, the amount of the farm in pasture, the fruit produced, the garden output, and many other interesting items.

Hornick items in Sloan, Iowa, Star: Miss Anna Bartlett, of South Sioux City, Neb., was the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. C. Sherrard, Friday evening and Saturday. Mrs. E. C. Sherrard royally entertained a party of friends at a Valentine's Day Wednesday afternoon. Red and white hearts were used profusely in the decorating, lines of them being strung about the room. The place cards were dainty little red hearts with a conundrum on each. An elaborate luncheon was served. The winner of the guessing contest carried off a pretty valentine.

Omaha Bee, 17th: William P. Warner, United States marshal for the Nebraska federal district, qualified Wednesday before Judge W. H. Munger as his own successor and took the oath of office for another four years without a quiver. Deputies J. B. Nickerson and George W. McCullum of the local Hensel, at Lincoln, Logan Sammons, at Kearney, and A. W. Wright, at Chadron to go before the proper authorities and be sworn in for another four years.

Walthill Times: J. B. Rossiter, of Walthill, court reporter for Judge Graves, has decided to make good in his official capacity. We note with much pleasure that the newspapers in several of the county seats where Mr. Rossiter has attended court, are highly commending him for the manner in which he performs his duties. Amos Lamson received a communication last week concerning a claim his grandfather had against the government for damages on account of deprivations committed by the Omaha Indians over fifty years ago. The claim was prosecuted and proved 25 years ago. The owner of the claim has been dead fifteen years. The letter received last week announces that it is now desired to settle this old claim. The letter was received by Amos because his name is the same as his grandfather's. The children of Amos Lamson, Sr., who would be entitled to the money paid on the claim, are delighted to learn that a settlement is announced as pending. George Lamson, one of the children, says he no longer doubts but that some of his grandchildren are liable to get the money.

Miss Mabel and Helen Niebuhr entertained a number of young people at their home on Friday evening in honor of Miss Anna DeBoise and Miss Marion Byers, both of Sloan, Iowa. The evening was spent in games, and a delicious lunch was served at 11 o'clock. On Friday, February 11, 1910, in Sioux City, Iowa, occurred the marriage of Miss Rachel Releaf Welch, of Sergeant Bluff, Io, and J. W. Whittecar, of this place. The bride was a school teacher in Sergeant's Bluff and the groom has been working for Louis Herman of this place. We wish this couple much joy and a long and happy life.

Sioux City Journal, 23rd—Although John G. Newman, of Jackson, Neb., discovered that his daughter, Miss Vance Newman, had eloped with a neighbor, Herman Smith, too late for the father to telephone to Sioux City and have the police stop the marriage ceremony, he still is on the war-path, and late yesterday afternoon beseeched sheriff Rockwell, of Dakota county, to arrest the couple. Mr. Rockwell suggested that the father might cool down and think differently of the episode later, but he says his latest knowledge of the condition of things is that the irate parent has been unable to bury the hatchet. The words, "Stop the marriage ceremony," came singing over the telephone wires to the Sioux City police station from the indignant parent early yesterday morning, and when the news was sent back that his daughter's name was no longer Newman, the police here believed the anxious father had dropped the matter. It developed later that he wanted Sheriff Rockwell, with whom he is well acquainted, to do the arresting. Early yesterday morning, Deputy County Clerk Frank J. Tripp was called from his warm retreat by the basebarn, where he had seated himself to spend his day off, by a hurried call over the telephone from a couple who wanted a marriage license immediately. He said he would be down about 9 o'clock. A telephone message from Jackson came for Mr. Tripp, but when he answered the phone he could get no satisfactory reply and failed to prevent the marriage. F. K. Rinlin was called and the ceremony was performed in the court house. The bride and groom did not announce their future course of action, but it is expected they will return to Jackson and make their home on a farm. Mr. Smith is the son of John Smith, a farmer living near Jackson, and is 28 years of age. His bride is the daughter of a farmer. She is 17 years of age. Information from Jackson is to the effect that the young people have been keeping company for several years.

Everything in the line of harness at the new shop of Carl Fredericksen & son. P. Larsen and mother were Sioux City shoppers last week. John Johnson and Nels Hansen were visitors one day last week at the H. Hansen home. John Jensen and wife were Sunday guests at the P. Sorensen home.

A number from here are in attendance at district court this week. We are still in the implement business and will continue to remain there, with a still larger stock than ever before. Our line consists of the Superior grain drill, that will work everywhere or anywhere, and that need no recommend as they are O. K. the world over; we handle the famous Moline line of machinery, Rock Island discs, New Superior fanning mills. Come and take a look at our line before buying, as it was never so complete. We guarantee our prices against any dealer in the same line of goods. As we have convinced others, a trial will convince you. Renzo & Green.
