FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

A SPLENDID CHANCE
To obtain
A choice piece of acre property
Close to Omaha.
I can offer for sale
Several five, ten and twenty acre tracts
Just west of the city.
This land is splendidly located to receive the benefit of Omaha's future growth.
It is only 25 minutes' drive from the postoffice and 15 minutes drive from South Omaha.
The new parks, boulevard's and fair grounds in West Omaha will make outside acres very valuable.
The new Nebraska Central railroad will be built close to this property.
Ten acres will give you a beautiful home, support your family, and if properly taken care of in fruit or vegetable gardening, will pay each year more than the salary of the best paid mechanic in Omaha. You can work in town and furnish your children your children pleasant and profitable employment right at home. Put the boys at work in the garden; set the girls taking care of the small fruit and the poultry, and while you are doing this the city is growing steadily and the first thing you know your acres can be divided
Into choice residence lots
That will bring $800 to $800 each.
If you want a gilt edged investment
Or comfortable home
Or a first-class place for
Small fruit and market gardening
Call and see the property I offer.
George N. Hicks, agent.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Meeting of the Triennial Council Most Auspiciously Opened at Minneapolis.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF LEADING REPORTS

Churches and Membership Show a Gratifying Increase—Healthy Condition of Finances—Work of the Home Missionary Society—Resolutions, etc.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 12.—The triennial Congregational council met in this city today and the sessions promise to be the largest ever known. The New England contingent is very heavy, while the interior and western states send delegates in great numbers. Quite a surprise it is to many members of this church to learn that the membership in the south is now large and increasing all the time. Among the delegates to the council will be quite a number of colored men. In Georgia it has been found that the membership among the white population has increased beyond the expectation or even the knowledge of the church in the north.

The body was called to order by President Northrop. The address of welcome delivered by Rev. George N. Wells of Plymouth church, was responded to by Dr. Northrop. For moderator, Rev. Dr. A. H. Quint of Boston was chosen almost unanimously.

Churches and Membership.

The reports to be considered during the council sessions will be among the most important matters to come before the body. Of these, that of the secretary is the most important. It shows that the number of churches is now 5,000, standing at 4,986 on the 1st of January last. The east has 2,120 churches, while the interior, comprising fourteen states, has 1,842, and the west 1,124. During the triennium just closing 138 churches were added in the east, 300 in the interior and 270 in the west, a total of 708. Of this number 291 have disappeared, leaving a net gain of 417.

The membership of the church is now 525,000, the east having 392,000, the interior 169,000, and the west 54,000. The gain in the past three years in the east was 15,000, in the interior 22,739, in the west 11,660, the percentage of increase being largest in the west. Illinois gained most, 4,892 members.

The Sunday schools have gained 45,100, reaching now a total enrollment of 625,975. The east gained 9,955, the interior 21,635, the west 13,713.

There are now 2,994 young people's societies, with 145,109 members.

The contributions in three years were $7,117,103, an average per member per annum of $13.55. It was an increase over the previous triennium of $1,188,800. The east gave $4,710,725, an average of $15.58 per member; the interior $2,006,694, an average of $11.87; the $399,699, an average of $7.22. The home west expenditures meanwhile increased $4,962,996, reaching a total of $18,929,790, the east having $10,852,111, the interior $5,633,207 and the west $2,444,472. The denomination had only 850 churches at the beginning of the century.

Home Mission Work.

The American Home Missionary society report shows that in 1891 the whole number of Congregational churches in the states and territories was 3,202. Of the 1,800 churches which have been established in that time, about five-sixths are either the planting of this society or have received aid from it. The missionaries of the society are found now in forty-five states and territories. The receipts last year were $645,189,000. There are 420 fields occupied with 915 missionaries. The additions to the home mission churches last year were 11,320. The membership of the Sunday schools in connection with these churches is 154,722. The average annual expense of the society per mission is $441. There are ninety-one foreign speaking missionaries. There are thirty-seven state unions, representing 2,500 churches.

The report has a special section on the responsibility of the home missionary society for the undue multiplication of the feeble churches on missionary ground. The evil was pronounced too prominent to be denied. The society has a rule never to plant a church or mission on grounds which are in the proper sense of the word cared for by other denominations. The report sets forth that no superintendent in present employ of the society has ever, with the knowledge of the society, sought to start a congregational church where it was not needed.

Resolution on Christian Union.

Christian unity is the subject of an important report. The great interest in the cause of Christian union is noted as one of the most manifest and one of the most auspicious signs of the times. The promotion of Christian union must begin from within. The Roman Catholic body is recognized as a branch of the church of Christ and the report welcomes the opportunities to cooperate with its members in the advancement of the cause of Christian truth and Christian morals. The attitude of the Episcopal church coming forward in England and America with the olive branch is heartily commended. This resolution is commended for adoption:

Resolved, That the national council considers it of paramount importance that all who confess and call themselves Christians, whatever their religious inclinations be, should bear in mind the command Christ gave to his disciples; that we hail with devout satisfaction the progress of the spirit of fraternal union among the Christian people of every nation for the promotion of the end which is acknowledged to be our aim, and that we regard with earnest sympathy and approval the increasing tendency of Christians of different branches of the church to join hands in efforts to diffuse the blessings of the gospel.

Call for the Puritan Sabbath.

One of the most important committees to report is the one on Sabbath observance. "We are not frightened by the bugbear of a Puritan Sabbath as something that is feared and carefully avoided. There may be the remotest possibility that the great command can be too strictly and literally observed, but the probability is not dangerously imminent. We want that same Puritan Sabbath and we hold sacred its pure hour which has come down to us with too large and goodly an inheritance of every blessing that can endow a nation with enduring riches to lead us to despise their example or lessen our need that we walk in their footsteps."

The fact of an increasing disregard for any proper observance of the Sabbath is noted. Excursions, theaters, concert halls, free exhibitions, base ball, passenger traffic, drinking saloons and the Sunday newspaper all are classed together and come in for their share of criticism.

"This has spread to the ranks of professing Christians. The one offense of Sunday traveling church members are especially guilty of has become so pronounced and so common that it attracts no attention and provokes no comment. Instead, it is increasing and church members are contributing to this form of Sabbath desecration. The love of money is found to be the most common of the causes of the evil. Take away the gains which accrue from this desecration and the evil would cease."

Dr. Quint, upon assuming the office of moderator, made a brief address, urging that harmony be preserved, and designating the present as the most important meeting in the history of the Congregational church.

B. M. Cutcheon of Michigan was chosen first vice president and moderator, and Rev. George C. Lew (colored) of South Carolina second assistant.

Committees were appointed and the council adjourned to 2:30.

Cholera

When properly treated as soon as the first symptoms appear, cholera can nearly always be cured. The patient should go immediately to bed and remain as quiet as possible. Send for a physician, but while awaiting his arrival take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy in double doses after each operation of the bowels more than natural. If there is severe pain or cramps take it in double doses every fifteen minutes until relieved. This remedy has been used with great success in seven epidemics of dysentery that were almost as severe and dangerous as cholera, and if used as directed a cure is almost certain. Every family should have a 50-cent bottle at hand ready for instant use. After the disease is under control castor oil must be taken to cleanse the system. No other physic or substitute will do in place of castor oil. For sale by druggists.
