THE SPECULATIVE MARKETS

Wheat Declined to the Lowest Point Reached by the Present Crop.

PURCHASERS WERE HARD TO FIND

Big Deliveries in the Northwest Were Quickly Followed by Bradstreet's Announcement of an Enormous Increase in the Supply.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 19.—A drop in the price of wheat to the lowest point yet reached on the present crop, and lower than known for many years, was partly a result today of the World's fair dedication. Traders who were long seemed afraid to carry their holdings over the holidays and began to liquidate, but there was little or no demand, and it was necessary to make constant concessions to find purchasers. The break amounted to 1½c, from which there was ½c recovery. Corn is ½c off. Provisions show a gain of from 5c to 12½c. Nearly everything seemed to favor the bears in wheat. The receipts were heavy, cables weak and domestic markets all tending downward. The big deliveries in the northwest were quickly followed by an announcement from Bradstreet that there had been an increase in the stocks on both coasts during the past week of nearly 7,250,000 bu. Mitchell, who has been a good deal of a bull, began having at the opening, but finding everything against him soon sold out his purchases. Dunn, Logan, Kennett-Hopkins, Milmine-Bodman and Schwartz-Dupee were all free sellers.

Shorts seemed confident that they were on the right side and the break seemed to offer little attraction for them to buy in. The opening was about the same as yesterday's closing. Prices declined with some fluctuations from ⅛c to ⅞c, improved from ⅛c to ⅝c, eased off again, the closing being from ⅛c to ¼c from the bottom for the day. The trade is beginning to figure on a 4,500,000 bu increase in the visible supply next week.

In corn the fairer weather was regarded as bearish as it rendered large receipts probable and it was further weakened by the sunny conditions which ruled on corn and oats. Sibley was a free seller, as were also Logan, Schwartz-Dupee and Bartlett-Frazier. The market opened dull and easy at from ⅛c to ¼c decline and sold off from ⅛c to ⅜c, rallied slightly, changed some and closed with near futures from ¼c to ⅝c lower and May with a loss of from ⅝c to ¾c. Receipts in the west again greatly exceeded the shipments.

Oats were active, though weak in sympathy with wheat and corn and assisted by liberal realizing by longs. There was also good short selling. May declined ⅞c, but rallied from ¼c to ⅛c and closed steadily.

Provisions came up smiling amid the defection in the grain markets. A firmer hog market and buying by the clique were the chief influences. The advance amounted to 15c for pork, 12½c for lard and 7½c for ribs. The close was from 2½c to 5c from the top.

Freights were quiet at 2¼c for wheat and 2c for corn to Buffalo.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 510 cars; corn, 505 cars; oats, 280 cars; hogs, 21,000 head.

We session of the Board of Trade tomorrow or next day—Thursday and Friday.

Traders' Talk.

CHICAGO, Ill., O. L. 19.—Counselman & Day to Cockrell Bro's, Commission company: Wheat opened quiet and easy owing to brilliant weather and lower cables. Trade was dull and the market without especial incident until the Bradstreet's announced an increase of over 7,250,000 bu. in the available supply. Then buying by little holders became enormous and prices declined to 74½c and 79c for May, after which December rallied ⅞c and May ⅝c on covering by shorts. It was a day of general evening up for the holidays. The fluctuations on Saturday will probably be small and the course of prices next week will be determined by the movement of cash grain. Stocks have grown so unexpectedly large that any further additions are a serious cause of embarrassment to holders. Corn and oats declined with wheat from the same pressure of stock, liquidation by longs who see stocks piling up in all directions and have become weary of trying to sustain prices. Provisions were advanced and closed higher on purchases by Wright and Cudahy of rather more product than they sold yesterday. It looks as if the short interest was still large and obstinate and that prices would be driven upwards still farther by bull manipulation.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 19.—F. G. Logan & Co to Duncan, Hollinger & Co: Our letter of yesterday fully expresses our views to day on wheat values. The clearances from the seaboard are light and our receipts continue heavy. The increase of 7,250,000 bu. in the visible supply was the principle cause of the decline. We do not look for any advance until country receipts let up. Corn was steady. The country commission houses talk heavier receipts. This of course means lower prices. Oats were active. Hog product was strong, the Wright following still supporting it.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 17.—Kennett, Hopkins & Co to S. A. McWhorter: Quite early in the day the longs began to let go but the market was not particularly weak until Bradstreet's visible supply report showing an increase of over 7,000,000 bushels was posted. Then there was a good deal of discouraged selling but the resting at 75c for December absorbed a million or two and checked the decline for a time under 75c. The market turned decidedly weak as had been anticipated. The old low price record had been broken and wheat bought weeks ago under hopeful expectations went overboard on stop orders. The backbone of bullish sentiment has been broken and ultimately lower prices are probable, though a temporary rally may occur any time. Corn and oats opened firm but soon weakened under large speculative offerings. At the bottom a good investment demand sprang up and steadied the market. It is the big receipts that are pressing values downward. Speculators take hold now and then and give prices a little lift, but they soon get tired and sell out. The steady stream in hogs helps the hog market. Manipulation helps both. Where it will stop is what a good many would like to know.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

Bears Hammered New England and Marked Down Prices for Other Stocks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A break of 2 points in New York and New England shows that a snag has been struck in the alleged deal with the Boston & Maine and it had an adverse influence on the stock market this morning. The bears not only hammered New England, but used every effort to mark down prices for other stocks. The selling for the short account was quite heavy, but outside of New York Central and Northern Pacific preferred the general list yielded only ¼ to ¾ per cent. During the afternoon the absence of offerings of long stock caused the shorts to feel apprehensive and as the day came to a close the desire to cover became quite general. As a result prices advanced ½ to 1½ from the lowest, and the final quotations as a rule were the highest attained.

The Grangers and Manhattan led the upward turn. National linseed oil jumped 2½ to 39 and receded a point. Among the influences operating in favor of higher prices of the day were the easier rate for money near the close, the decline in sterling exchange, the placing of round amounts of railway bonds in Europe by Drexel, Morgan & Co. and other leading banking houses on this side and the heavy tonnage of the railroads, which is attested by the favorable traffic returns of lines west and south. The transactions reached 283,476 shares, of which 31,115 were in unlisted stocks. The market closed strong in tone.

The Post says: The steady output of New England's stock began at the moment of today's opening and continued throughout without interruption to the close of business. There were not wanting efforts to hold the market for this particular stock and it was undoubtedly the bold stand of a few operators that prevented a sudden and violent break, but they could not check the decline. As it was, the price yielded comparatively slowly, but the whole movement suggested the marketing of heavy blocks of stock. In the closing hour of business the tone of the general market was better and there was some covering of the forenoon's short contracts. But trading, as a whole, was too lifeless to possess any great significance.

London Financial Review.

[Copyrighted 1892 by James Gordon Bennett.]

LONDON, Oct. 19.—[New York Herald Cable—Special to THE BEE.]—A slightly better tendency noticed in the stock markets during the afternoon was completely neutralized by large withdrawal of gold from the bank, which makes the prospect of an advance in the rate of discount tomorrow almost a certainty. Consols have given way ⅛ for the money account. Foreign government securities are flat. Home railways, which were tolerably firm about middday, showed some degree of depression during the last hour. Brighton deferred fluctuated considerably, and closed at a decline of 1 per cent. Americans were dull and inactive all day, and close at about their lowest, no support being forthcoming from New York. Nearly a general decline ranging from ⅛ to ½ per cent was established, the lead being taken by the Lake Shore, the only favorable exception being a rise of ½ per cent in Denver preference. Canadian lines have been neglected. Mexicans closed firm, first preference having improved ¼ per cent, second preference 1 per cent and ordinary ¼ per cent. Argentine lines have again been dull but are in several cases ½ to 1 per cent lower. Money was little wanted; the discount market, however, has been very firm, two and three months bills being quoted at 1¾ to 2 per cent.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—Sellers had little fault to find with today's cattle market, there being an active demand and prices ruled stronger all around. The supply of natives amounted to about 9,000 head and the range of sales was from $1.60 to $5.65. Cattle good enough to bring more than $5.25 were few, in fact. Most of the offerings lacked the quality to bring as much as $5.00, the prevailing prices being from $1.75 to $2.50 for cows and bulls and from $3.50 to $4.85 for steers. The run of westerns was estimated at 4,000 and there was about the same number of Texans. The former were quoted at from $3.30 to $4.50 and the latter at from $2.25 to $3.00. The calf market was firmer at from $4.75 to $5.50 and stockers and feeders were in good request at from $2.75 to $3.40.

There was no abatement of the firmness that for some time past has distinguished the hog market. There were eager buyers for the small number on sale at an advance of from 5c to 10c per 100 lbs., but judging from the temper of buyers it is safe to say a considerably increased number could not have been placed to equally good advantage. It did not take a very good quality of hogs to bring $5.60 and only a small proportion of the supply went out of sellers' hands below that figure. Choice assorted light sold around $5.75, and there were sales of heavy, and medium weights at from $5.60 to $5.65. It was thought that something fancy in glut have brought $5.80, but no sales were reported at that figure. The closing week at from $5.55 to $5.90 for heavy, and at from $5.45 to $5.75 for light. Culls were quoted at from $5.50 to $5.60.

Sheep and lambs sold well. They were in light supply, only about 7,000 arriving and sellers unloaded at a small advance. Native sheep were quoted at from $3.50 to $5.25, westerns from $3.30 to $4.60 and lambs at from $5.75 to $7.75 for common to choice. Extra lambs would have brought $8.00.

Receipts: Cattle, 18,000; hogs, 30,000; sheep, 7,000.

Ace High in Toughdom.

Bert Smith, a 20-year-old colored bootblack, was arrested by Officer Cox for assaulting Oscar Green, a 10-year-old newsboy on the corner of Fifteenth and Farnam.

For his years Smith is well educated in the ways of toughdom. He has spent a considerable time on the hill, once for knocking out a boy's eyes with a bootblack's box. When arrested yesterday he was unmercifully pounding the little newsboy's head. He broke away from the officer and made an attempt to pull a knife but was pounded into submission. He was fined $10 and costs.
