DROUTH ENTIRELY BROKEN

Nebraska Fields Have Finally Had the Soaking All Were Eager For.

CROPS IN THE STATE ARE NOW EXCELLENT

More Rain Was Needed in the Northeast, but that Has Fallen Since the Reports Were Received—Returns from Every County.

The weekly crop report issued by George E. Hunt of the Nebraska state weather service, acting in co-operation with the United States Weather Bureau for the week ended June 18, says:

Copious rains have fallen in the southeast section of the state, greatly enhancing all crop prospects, while the drouth has been quite generally broken by local showers in all sections. From the northeast section, a portion of the state which has heretofore been least affected by the drouth, the reports are unfavorable except as regards corn and pastures. The corn crop is in good condition throughout the entire state, and many correspondents are of the opinion that the prospects for an abundant yield have not been better for a number of years. The rains came too late in most districts to be of any great benefit to wheat and oats, and those crops will undoubtedly turn out much below the average. A general improvement is noted in pastures and gardens. Rains have fallen in the northwest section since the following reports were mailed, and the outlook is favorable for showers in all eastern Nebraska today.

SOUTHEAST SECTION.

Butler County—Good rains have helped all vegetation. Corn and pastures in good condition. Small grains have improved, but crops will be very short. Cherries will be full crop. A large crop of millet is being sowed.

Cass County—All crops have been benefitted by late rains. Corn in splendid condition. Potatoes slightly injured by bugs.

Clay County—Corn excellent. Abundant showers makes evrything grow. Cherry crop good. Wheat is filling, but very little will be long enough to bind.

Fillmore County—Good rains made corn prospects exceptionally good. Wheat and small grains are practically beyond help. A large acreage of millet sown.

Gage County—Abundant rains have improved all crops and grass. Wheat will be better than was anticipated.

Jefferson County—A favorable week for all crops. Corn doing splendidly. Wheat and oats heading, and harvest will be two weeks earlier than usual.

Johnson County—A very favorable week. An extra good crop of corn is expected, but other crops and grass and apples will be very short.

Lancaster County—The best growing week of the season. Late oats and wheat filling. Corn promises an excellent crop.

Nemaha County—Corn fine. Wheat filling. Potatoes good. Apples, average crop expected.

Otoe County—All crops improved by recent rains except oats, which will be too short to cut in many places.

Pawnee County—Rye harvest has begun. Small grains are filling. Corn growing very fast. Potatoes are good.

Polk County—A good week. Pastures, wheat and oats looking better. Corn growing very fast.

Richardson County—Wheat harvest has begun. Oats growing. Corn doing well.

Saline County—All crops greatly benefited by the rains. Oats doing well, and wheat filling fairly, but is very short. Corn a good stand. A good crop of cherries.

Saunders County—Corn promises a big yield. Rains have helped small grains and pastures.

Seward County—Abundant rains have made corn grow vigorously, and oats are improved, but wheat is too much injured to be benefited much.

Thayer County—The best week of the season. Corn growing rapidly. The wheat and oats that are left are improving.

York County—A dry week. Oats heading out short. Corn average size. Hay will be short.

Concordia, Kan—A fine week. Wheat nearly ready for harvest; a good yield expected. Corn is splendid.

NORTHEAST SECTION.

Antelope County—All crops except corn are ruined. Rye, wheat and oats are dried out beyond recovery. Oats a total failure.

Burt County—Past week very warm and dry. Corn looking fairly well.

Cedar County—Hot and dry; no rain. Corn doing well. Small grain short.

Cuming County—Corn in good condition. Small grain and hay one-half crop.

Dixon County—Corn looking well and making good growth. Oats and wheat are practically a failure. Scattered light local showers. Potato bugs very numerous.

Holt County—No rain. Corn not suffering yet. Small grain generally will not be worth cutting.

Dodge County—Conditions very unfavorable to crops. Wheat and oats a total failure. Light showers have helped corn and grass.

Knox County—Corn and millet doing well. Small grain, grass and garden truck are badly damaged by the drouth.

Pierce County—Corn beginning to suffer for rain. Many fields of small grain show but one-half the average stand.

Platte County—Dry, with high south winds. Small grain a failure. Pastures short. Corn looking fairly well.

Stanton County—Prospects much improved by rains. Pastures loking better. Corn in splendid condition. Wheat and oats are a failure.

Woodbury County, Iowa—Warm and dry week with small amount of sunshine. Rain much needed.

Yankton County, South Dakota—Oats heading out short. Wheat fairly high but thin. Hay very light. Corn not suffering much yet. Pastures are getting short and stock will soon suffer unless rain occurs soon.

CENTRAL SECTION.

Buffalo County—Neither wheat or oats will make sufficient crop to pay expenses of harvesting. Corn a good stand and fully up to average for size.

Custer County—Planted corn doing moderately well. Listed corn about one-half stand. More rain needed.

Dawson County—Light showers helped all vegetation except small grain, which is a failure.

Greely County—Week has been favorable for all crops. Corn doing nicely. Wheat and oats look much better.

Loup County—Showers have improved crop prospects materially. Corn all right. With plenty of rain wheat may make half a crop.

Merrick County—Light shower latter part of week very beneficial. Corn doing well.

Nance County—Corn doing well. Grass and other crops need rain badly.

Sherman County—Pastures improving. Light showers. Corn doing well.

Valley County—Corn generally in good condition. Small grain very nearly a total failure.

Wheeler County—Small grain and grass suffering from drouth. Corn fairly well. More rain needed.

SOUTHWEST SECTION.

Adams County—Very little rain. Barley crop failure. Other small grain will give but a small yield. Corn looks well.

Dundy County—Rain during the week has started spring wheat and oats.

Franklin County—Corn making good growth and has a good color. Potatoes doing fairly well. Pastures need heavy rain.

Frontier County—Nearly two inches of rain fell Thursday. Corn looking much better. Rain was general over county.

Furnas County—Drouth broken and farmers are happy. Rain of 14th changed corn prospects materially.

Harlan County—Good rains latter portion of week. Small grain a failure. Corn looks well.

Hitchcock County—Good rain on the 14th has improved corn prospect. Pastures looking better.

Kearney County—Late planted corn and oats doing well. Abundant rains badly needed.

Perkins County—Heavy rain during week materially helped all crops.

Red Willow County—Prospects for crops very poor and everything suffering from drouth.

Webster County—Good growing week. Corn doing fine. Small grain has improved.

WEST SECTION.

Cheyenne County—Two heavy rains during week. Wheat, rye, barley and oats will make about half crop. Corn doing well. Grass excellent. Garden truck splendid.

Lincoln County—Rains on Thursday and Friday saved the corn crop, which is now in good condition. Potato crop will be good. Small patches of wheat are reviving and doing well. Pastures improved.

Thomas County—Rain on Thursday helped corn greatly. All crops growing as well as can be expected.

NORTHWEST SECTION.

Sheridan County—Light showers, not sufficient to do much good; prospects not as favorable as a week ago.

Rock County—One-half an inch of rain and still raining. Corn will come out in fine shape.

Keya Paha County—The great drouth is at last broken, but not until three-fourths of the small grain was destroyed. Corn and potatoes doing fine.

Dawes County—Local showers every day last week, except Sunday and Monday; heavy rain last evening, covering almost if not all of the county. Best prospects for all crops that we have had in five years.

Cherry county—All crops revived by showers. Small grain will be short.

Box Butte County—Good, soaking rains have improved crop prospects. Farmers greatly encouraged.
