Wheat Opened with a Flourish of Buying Orders.

TRADING WAS HEAVY FOR TWO HOURS

There Were Buying Orders for Wheat in the Hands of a Majority of the Commission Houses When the Market Opened.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Wheat opened with a flourish of buying orders that temporarily advanced prices, but the contemplation of the largest visible supply on record dampened the bulls' spirits, May losing ½c. Corn lost ⅝c for May. May oats dropped ¼c and provisions closed with declines all around.

There were buying orders for wheat in the hands of a majority of the commission houses when the market opened, and there were numerous local operators who instructed their brokers to dispose of long wheat. The trading was heavy for two hours. An advance of from ⅛c to ½c per bu. over Saturday's closing prices was realized for the wheat sold at the opening. May wheat on Saturday closed at 61¼c and opened this morning at from 61⅝c to 61¾c. Not much brought the higher of these quotations, but a good deal found buyers in the first two minutes at 61⅝c. After that the tendency was gradually downward, although every ⅛c decline brought hosts of fresh buyers. The cables came in strong and the advance was altogether dependent upon the feature of the day's news. Nearly everything was bearish. The northwestern receipts were enormous. The clearances from the principal Atlantic ports were light. The visible supply increased 1,062,000 bu. The total amount in the visible supply is 82,282,000 bu., which surpasses the heaviest ever previously existing. Rosenkranz was reported to have sold, through Pardridge & Leaming, about 250,000 bu. August Brossard was reported to have sold out. New York sold, through Harry Lester, all the wheat that certain big New York speculators bought here on Saturday. Half an hour from the close May was down to 60¾c, and it wound up easy at that figure.

There was much weakness in corn during the early bullishness in wheat. The cold, dry weather, with a prediction from the signal service of its probable continuance for two weeks, touched the market on a tender spot. The new corn needs cold, dry weather to fit it for shipment. The quantity on ocean passage increased 352,000 bu. and the visible supply increased 127,000 bu. To-day's receipts were 434 cars and 820 are estimated for tomorrow. May, which at the close on Saturday was 49⅞c, started at that, but quickly dropped to 49⅛c, only a very little finding purchasers at 49⅜c. It worked off to 49¼c and closed there.

The easiness which was prevailing in the room was prominent in oats. The demand was good from the outside, as well as from city account, but the total amounted to hardly an average fair day's business. The visible supply showed a decrease in oats of 45,000 bu., making the total stock now amount to 9,910,000 bu. At the opening May sold at 32⅞c, later at 32⅝c, and then declined to 32⅜c, closing at 32½c.

Provisions had a weak day and closed with a moderate decline for everything on the list. Pork, after selling off 12½c, closed with some recovery and a net loss for the day of 7½c. Lard at the end was also 7½c lower for the day and ribs 5c lower. Moderate selling by packers and sympathy with corn caused the decline.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Business for current wants was conducted on a narrow line, and purchases were restricted to positive requirements. The cold weather in the west and in the northwest sent some orders, but they were for moderate quantities of special assortments. Four-yard brown cottons are well sold ahead, and engagements control the chief production into the new year. Standard drills are alike conditional. Many makes of denims, ducks and stripes sold into the new year deliveries are backward. Some makes of mediums to fine dress goods are so oversold that samples have been withdrawn. Printed fabrics, ginghams and domestics for spring are being ordered very freely. Printing cloths are in good demand at 2 11-16c bid and declined.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

Speculation on 'Change Was Fairly Active Though Prices Were Irregular.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Speculation on the Stock exchange today was fairly active, but the market was unsettled and the movement of prices very irregular. London was a seller of the international stocks, chiefly St. Paul, while Boston sold Burlington and Chicago sold Northwestern. The doubts expressed as to the declaration of the regular dividend on Burlington & Quincy had an unfavorable effect on the entire market, and reports of decreased earnings of Northwestern were another depressing influence. The market was weak and lower at the opening and there were fractional declines in the early dealings. About 10:30 New Jersey Central led a pretty general rally, with a gain of 1⅝ per cent. The improvement was not maintained, and before 11 o'clock had been reached a large measure of the advance was lost in the active list, while some of the specialities fell off materially. Lake Erie & Western preferred losing 2 per cent, Canadian Pacific 1⅝ per cent and Tobacco and Consolidated Gas each 1 per cent. Delaware & Hudson receded 1⅝ per cent. The market continued heavy until after 11 o'clock, when a rally ranging up to 1 per cent was led by Sugar. A quick reaction followed, in which Chicago Gas declined 1¼ per cent, Lake Shore 1 per cent and the general list a fraction. In the afternoon a heavy tone characterized the dealings, but it was only the specialties which made any losses, and for the half hour preceding 2:15 the movement of prices was light. After delivery hour there was a reaction, led by Western Union and the grangers and coal, but the temper of the speculation underwent a change before 2 o'clock, and during the last half hour prices moved up steadily and the market closed steady. The early losses were not entirely made up in the closing rally, and most of the list showed a decline, compared with the final sales of Saturday, notably Pullman, 1½ per cent; Canadian Pacific, 1⅜ per cent; St. Paul & Omaha and Tobacco, 1 per cent; Lead preferred, ¾ per cent. Of the grangers Rock Island is down ⅛ per cent, Burlington stands unchanged and Northwestern up ¼ per cent. Sugar opened ¼ per cent higher, declined ¾ per cent and advanced 2½ per cent, closing within ⅛ per cent of the highest and 1⅝ per cent above Saturday's closing. The bond market was weak throughout the day on fairly active trading, sales aggregating $1,301,000. In the late dealings some issues made advances, including Kansas & Texas seconds and Atchison seconds, they selling up ⅞ and ⅝ per cent, respectively. Foreign stocks were weaker, with a less bouyant tone in the Paris bourse. Brazilians were exceptionally firm on reports of a fresh loan.

The Evening Post's London cablegram says: Except for mining shares, the markets were dull today. Americans were flat, closing near the worst. St. Paul and Canadian Pacific were especially weak on traffic returns. The prospects of further gold shipments to America are not stimulating stocks, because the movement is regarded as artificial.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK MARKETS

Week Opens with Much Encouragement to Both Sides of the Deal.

RECEIPTS SHOWING A BETTER QUALITY THAN

More Good Beef Steers on Sale Than for Many Days—Prices Hold Steady to Strong—Hogs Open Strong and Close Higher.

MONDAY, Nov. 19.

The week opens out with a good, liberal run, 206 cars in all, fewer cattle, but more hogs and sheep than arrived on last Monday.

There was not a very lively cattle trade today, although prices averaged up pretty much the same as on Saturday. The supply was rather liberal and the good to choice beef grades sold at strong Saturday's prices. Some 1,250-lb. rangers brought $4.25, and a bunch of choice 1,476-lb. native beeves brought $5.55. On the medium and common grades trade was slow. Prices were hardly quotably lower than last week, but sellers generally were glad to get Saturday's prices. It was rather a dull market, but the close found practically everything sold.

The market for cow stuff was steady to a dime lower than last week. There were fully sixty straight loads on sale, and lots of odds and ends. The decline was mostly on the medium and common grades. Veal calves sold at fully steady prices, but the market for bulls, stags and rough stock generally was lower.

Only a moderate amount of business was transacted in stockers and feeders, but last week's prices were firmly held on all grades. Good, fleshy stock ruled strong. Good to choice feeders are quotable at $2.70 @3.30; fair to good, $2.35@2.60, and common grades from $2.25 down. Representative sales:
