nation, which needs its gold, will tell you that the gold standard is all right. (Applause.)

MR. ROSEWATER'S CLOSING SPEECH.

Shows that Debts Cannot Be Paid with Shadows and Rainbows.

In his closing speech Mr. Rosewater said:

I want Mr. Bryan to answer me, now. How many men who have money to loan can make a profit on it except by loaning it? They can make money only by the interest upon the money. We all know that since England established the gold standard eighty years ago, the price of money has steadily gone down from something like 6 or 7 per cent to 2 or 3 per cent, so that the income of the great portion of the money-loaning class is greatly shrinking, instead of being greater, by reason of the loans they have made.

In the first portion of his speech Mr. Bryan said something must be done, and I repeat it now, in conclusion, that something must be done, and that is to stop all this foolish agitation about creating something out of nothing, and paying debts with shadows and imaginary rainbows. He admits here today that he does not know whether silver will go up to $1.29. He admits, then, that the man who brings silver to the mint will get dollars that are not worth a dollar. He admits furthermore, that all of these silver dollars will not be exchangeable for gold, but for silver only. Now, then, all you who have no silver at all, no mines, no plates, no spoons at home, to convert into dollars, I would like to know how you are to get any of those dollars that he expects to coin at the mint of the United States? (Applause.)

But he says this great American nation needs the aid of no other nation on earth and is able to hold up the silver of the world and restore it to a parity of 16 to 1, when he knows very well that all the nations of the earth could not do it. All the nations of the earth tried to hold up silver when it went down to 10½ to 14, when it went down to 14½, to 15 and to 16. The French empire, the republic of France, the Belgian government, all the governments in Europe, tried that game, but they couldn't do it.

DISASTROUS TO AMERICAN PEOPLE.

But he tells us that paper money was our primary money in 1873. In the empire of Russia today they have precisely the kind of money that we had then. They call this money and credits rubles. They have $864,000,000 of credit rubles, and these credit rubles are legal tender for all debts and customs, and yet will not exchange with 50 cents on the dollar. They have something like $450,000,000 of gold accumulated in the Russian treasury, but that belongs to the czar and is not in the reach of the common people. Only recently they have established a system of banks, by which any man who has gold may deposit the same in any of these banking institutions and receive gold in return, or rather gold certificates, exchangeable for gold, but gold money does not circulate. And, therefore, Russia is one among the lowest in the civilized nations among the commercial nations of the world. Her peasantry, paid with this depreciated currency, live in a state of serfdom and slavery, upon potatoes, cabbage and tea. That is all they have. These people are about as impoverished as those in Mexico; not far above the Japanese, and Mr. Bryan wants the people of the United States to go down to the level of the Russian and Japanese.

Japan is making preparations to raise the standard of money to gold. The people of the United States are asked to go back to silver. Why, it is preposterous, and in closing, fellow citizens, I appeal to you to exercise your reason and judgment, and form your judgment in the light of past experiences rather than upon future option, for this is nothing more than gambling in the future, and Mr. Bryan's attempt to inveigle this nation into a gambling scheme on silver would be the most disastrous game the American people have ever played. (Great applause.)

MR. BRYAN CLOSES THE DEBATE.

Admits that Silver Money Is Something Like Gold.

Silver money is not flat money. The only kind of flat money is paper money, which is not a promise to pay something else. Silver money is something like gold. The government selects so much silver and says it is a dollar and makes it a legal tender for all public and private debts, just as it does with gold. And we claim that by selecting both gold and silver we have more money, and therefore, can maintain the parity between money and property.

Mr. Rosewater, says: "How are you going to get money, even if it is coined?" I might ask him, how are you going to get money if it is not coined? You can get money when it is coined. First allow silver to be converted into money and then the people who convert their silver into money, cannot make anything out of the money until they spend it; buy something with it, and you can sell to them. We raise wheat, corn, hogs, cattle, etc., and find prices going down because people cannot buy what we have to sell, but find debts going up because we cannot get enough money with which to pay them.

My friend says, if we will stop agitating we will remedy the greater part of these troubles. That is the cry always. Never was there a tyrant that did not denounce the agitator. (Great applause.) Yes, that is the cry, "Don't agitate." If they could have their way about it they would pass a law making it a penal offense for a man to raise his voice against the policy of the bond owner of Wall street.

WILL CONTINUE TO AGITATE.

We have felt the iron in the flesh and we shall continue to agitate until they take away from us this dishonest dollar that reaps where it has not sown. Now, my friend here, in expounding the gold standard theory, says that we want simply quiet and credit. I say that we want something to base credit on. Show me a man who has property and I will show you a man who can borrow money, but show me a man who has no property of any value, or property which has lost its value, and I will show you a man who cannot borrow money of any man. We think we can maintain the gold and silver standard at the ratio of 16 to 1 without the aid of any other nation on earth.

I believe this nation great enough to legislate for its own people on every subject. (Great applause.) Mr. Rosewater is not in favor of any other national bimetalism. He is not in favor of anything except the gold standard, and I call your attention to the fact that throughout this whole debate he has refused to answer the very first question I put to him. He has refused to discuss the effects of an increase of the purchasing power of the dollar. I have quoted the royal commission; I have quoted Sherman, Blaine, Carlisle—all these people and I say to you, my friends, that the man who wants a gold standard wants to increase the value of the dollar for the benefit of the man who owns money and he wants to oppress other men who produce the wealth of the world. (Loud applause.)

BIGGEST STRIKE ON RECORD.

Entire "Katy" System Threatened with Serious Trouble.

ST. LOUIS, May 16.—A special to the Republic from Denison, Tex., says: The most serious strike ever known in the southwest is threatened. The grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which has been to St. Louis to lay the case of Engineer Will Lanams before the Missouri, Kansas & Texas officials, returned today.

After a conference the company refused to reinstate Lanams, and the grievance committee entered into a federation with all the organizations of railway trainmen, six in number, and the entire system of the road has been organized and federated. A committeeman said today:

"You can state officially that unless Engineer Lanams is reinstated inside of five days there will not be a wheel moving on any part of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas system. We are organized for the fight and every order of railway trainmen is bound with us that every wheel shall stop within five days if Mr. Lanams is not put back to work."

The ultimatum of the Brotherhood has been sent to the Katy headquarters.

Woodmen of the World.

Word has been received that E. Motz of this city, deputy of the order, recently organized a camp with sixty charter members in Kansas City. The camp was called Baron Hirsch, No. 163. The members rewarded the deputy's work by bringing in twenty more names before he left the city.

ANTE ROOM ECHOES.

"The Omaha District Logrolling association" was formed at the last meeting of Omaha lodge No. 120, Modern Woodmen of America. This new body is composed of camps in the vicinity of Omaha and its primary object will be to arrange for picnics and other general entertainments to be given for the benefit of members of the order.

The meeting was attended by representatives of camps in Plattsmouth, Papillion, Blair, Union, Dodge, Arlington, Omaha, South Omaha and many other points in the neighborhood of this city. While the principal object of the delegates was to form the association, they did not forget the order they represented. Consequently a considerable number of addresses laudatory of the order were made by them over the refreshments that were served during the course of the evening.

After the organization of the association the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Clarke O'Hanlon, Blair; first vice president, Mrs. C. H. T. Riepen, Omaha; second vice president, T. L. Jones, Fremont; third vice president, W. D. Stanbaugh, Arlington; secretary, George B. Riher, Blair; treasurer, R. S. Schmalling, Blair.

It was decided to hold the first annual logrolling at Blair, but the date was not chosen. This will be selected later on in the year, but it is promised that it will occur in the early future.

The local members of the order are already preparing for the entertainment of members who will visit the city during the state fair. Visitors of the last fair were entertained in a royal manner and this precedent is to be followed this year.

Sons of Veterans.

The following circular has been issued from the headquarters of the division of Nebraska at Valley, Sons of Veterans, by Chaplain M. R. Gilmore, who is also the captain of camp No. 164 of Valley:

VALLEY, Neb., May 12.—To the People of Nebraska: I have the honor to address you as chaplain of Nebraska division, Sons of Veterans, United States of America. Another Memorial day is drawing near, another opportunity for a proud and happy people to give expression to their feeling of love, honor and reverance to the memory of the heroes who offered upon the altar of our beloved country all that they held dear in life—home ties, bright prospects of success in the various avenues of progress in human attainment, and very many of them life itself—in order that our nation might live and our free institutions endure as an incentive to hope among the oppressed of earth's toiling millions. The noble dead should receive no less than their just meed of praise.

The survivors of the shock and stress of that "time which tried men's souls" can receive no higher reward than the consciousness of duty done, and a realization of the approbation and respect of a people properly thankful for the blessings and benefits secured by such sacrifice. Let us all, as loyal people, mindful of the debt of gratitude we owe, bless the waning afternoon and evening of their lives, as their sun recedes on its downward track, by reverently, lovingly, assisting them in the proper observance of this day, most sacred of all the days in the calendar of the Grand Army of the Republic and the societies kindred to it.

There is a tendency among some, thoughtless of the significance of acts, to make this a day of sports and games. Let us trust that no thoughtful, earnest, grateful citizen will in any way, by presence or participation, countenance this tendency, but that in all places the day will be properly observed in a respectful, reverent manner, and that thus it will be made an effective object lesson in patriotism to the rising generation in the public schools, which are the hope of the country, and to our fellow citizens by adoption from foreign lands.

Sincerely, with faith, hope and love for our country, M. R. GILMORE,
Chaplain of Nebraska Division and Captain Camp No. 164, Sons of Veterans.

Order of the World.

On and after Monday, May 18, Myrtle lodge No. 399, Order of the World, will hold its meetings in the hall over the Boston store every Monday evening. The lodge is growing rapidly and the members taking great interest in the organization. The monthly entertainments given by the lodge for its members and friends have proved to be one of the attractive features toward securing members.

Omaha lodge No. 299, Order of the World, is making extensive arrangements for a May party at the hall Monday evening, May 25.

Riverview lodge, Order of the World, was organized in Forest hall, Sixth and Pierce streets, Thursday evening, April 30. The lodge starts out with the brightest of prospects and already a goodly number of new members have united with the organization. The officers are as follows: President, Davis Tong; vice president, A. M. Back; past president, Miss Annie McMahon; secretary, J. J. Fenton; treasurer, W. Brandes; chaplain, Miss Annie Galvin; marshal, James Hardy; guard, C. F. Moore; sentinel, D. Huff.

District Manager Irving G. Baright is slowly recovering from a severe attack of rheumatism which has confined him to his home for the past five weeks.

Ancient Order of United Workmen.

It has been finally determined to consolidate Beacon lodge and Goodrich lodge of this city, the new body to bear the name of Beacon. Some time ago Goodrich lodge voted unanimously in favor of the consolidation, action being delayed until the decision of the other lodge. At the meeting of last week Beacon lodge decided in favor of the consolidation, practically with unanimity.

The new lodge will contain a membership of about 130. The consolidation was brought about in the interests of economy, as several hundreds of dollars can be saved thereby annually. It was also the sentiment that the combined lodges could do better work for the order than they could separately.

The final consolidation depends, of course, upon the decision of the grand master workman of the state, but it is believed that his sanction can readily be obtained, since the almost unanimous desire of the two lodges for it has been expressed.

Gossip of the Lodge Room.

The entertainment to be given by Ivy Rebekah lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, which was to have occurred last Tuesday night was postponed to next Wednesday night on account of the inclement weather. An excellent time is promised.

Triune lodge, Knights of Pythias, gave a very enjoyable dance in Morand's dancing academy on last Thursday night. There was a good crowd in attendance in spite of the fact that the weather was not all that could be desired.

Omaha lodge No. 7, the newly organized lodge of the United Order of the Treubund, gave its first entertainment last night in Knights of Labor hall. The affair was delightfully informal, consisting of selections, musical and otherwise, from those present. The latter end of the evening was occupied in dancing. Refeshments were served during the course of the evening.

Knights Templar Election.

On ascension day, May 14, 1896, the following officers of Mount Calvary commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, were duly installed by the senior past grand commander, R. E. Sir Harry P. Deuel, assisted by Sir H. Victor White, past eminent commander, as grand marshal: Sir Edwin Haney, E. C.; Sir Perry A. Lyons, G; Sir George E. Warner, C. G.; Sir James W. Maynard, E. P.; Sir Albert P. Brink, S. W.; Sir Alfred M. Oleson, J. W.; Sir Leverett M. Anderson, T.; Sir Eben K. Long, R.; Sir Samuel D. Caldwell, S. B.; Sir Benjamin F. Thomas, S. B.; Sir Oscar R. Allen, W.; Sir Fred W. Richards, T. G.; Sir John E. Simpson, S. G.; Sir Willard E. Wells, F. G.; Sir Cuthbert R. Griffiths, S.

Fraternal Union.

Banner lodge, No. 11 will give an ice cream social next Friday evening, to which its members and their friends are cordially invited, in the Continental block, Fifteenth and Douglas streets.

Mr. J. W. Cheney has gone to Minnesota where he will organize lodges for the order. Mr. Cheney has been for the past twenty years a newspaper man and is quite well known in that state.
