AMUSEMENTS.

"A Crazy Idea" was the bill presented by the Woodward Theater company at the Creighton yesterday and the audience lost no opportunities of expressing their delight. This very funny comedy will be repeated today. Tomorrow the "Lawyer's Clerk" will be the bill. Frey and Fields, only two more performances. Next week, the four Angela sisters.

HYMENEAL.

Anderson-Workman.

TEKAMAH, Neb., Aug. 19.—(Special.)—A. M. Anderson and Miss Nellie Workman were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Workman, in this city, Rev. A. G. Wilson officiating. Only the members of the families of the contracting parties and their immediate friends witnessed the ceremony. At 6 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Anderson departed for Fairfield, Ia., from which place they will go to Rock Island, Ill., and from there to Buffalo, N. Y., returning to Tekamah in about two weeks. The groom is county clerk of Burt county.

Vance-Hocker.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Aug. 19.—(Special.)—The marriage of Mr. F. E. Vance and Miss Etta B. Hocker, both of Peru, occurred at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. M. Moyer here last evening, Judge H. W. Brandon officiating.

Touched for Twenty Dollars.

Tom T. Jones, a young man from Red Oak, Ia., enroute to Fremont, stopped over for a few hours yesterday and now wishes that he had not done so. He is $20 lower. Jones started out to see the town last evening and wandered up near Thirteenth and Webster streets and asked the watchman at one of the gates of the Union Pacific car shops if he might inspect the works. This was denied him on account of the lateness of the hour, and he turned about and was on his way to the city when he encountered two strangers. They struck up a conversation and it developed that they were bound for the same town that he was. Jones wanted to go to the Union depot to get some baggage left there and the two accompanied him. They dropped into the saloon at the corner of Tenth and Jackson streets and had a number of drinks. Upon getting the baggage all three returned up-town and started for the Webster street depot about 9 o'clock. Upon approaching the switching grounds the new found friends said they wanted to go north a couple of blocks in order to say good bye to a friend and Jones accompanied them. They had not gone far in the shadow of one of the freight depots than the strangers placed a revolver to Jones' head and requested him to hand over. This he did and the highwaymen then disappeared.

Work of Bandits.

SILVER CITY, N. M., Aug. 19.—The Black Jack gang of border bandits early this morning rode up to the ranch of "Shorty" Miller on Mule creek, about sixty miles west of here, and calling him to the door shot him, inflicting a wound which will likely prove fatal. A posse of cattlemen was at once organized to follow them and unexpectedly came upon the bandits on Dry creek about twenty miles distant from the Miller ranch. A fight ensued in which Edward Moss was killed and Elgin Hill is reported missing. Officers from Grant and Socorro counties are in pursuit.

BANKERS FINISH BUSINESS

Twenty-Third Annual Convention Comes to An End.

HENDRICKS CHOSEN FOR PRESIDENT

Delegates Eat Luncheon at a Big Distillery in Ontario, While Band Plays "Yankee Doodle" and "Dixie."

DETROIT, Aug. 19.—The twenty-third annual convention of the American Bankers' association came to an end at 1 o'clock this afternoon. According to precedent, First Vice President Joseph C. Hendricks of New York was raised to the office of president. George H. Russell of Detroit received a large majority of the votes cast for first vice president, although the nominating committee had recommended F. W. Tracey of Illinois for the honor.

Business was transacted with a rush today, a number of papers having been carried over from yesterday. Several papers were ordered printed without being read.

Luncheon at the great distillery of Hiram Walker & Sons at Walkerville, Ont., and a boat ride to Bois Cheve Show Ka this afternoon wound up the social feature of the meeting. While at Walkerville several impromptu speeches were made. Returning President Lowry responded to repeated calls, and was followed in rapid succession by Messrs. Hendricks, Russell, Leachers, Powers, Jordan and others. Then the twenty-third convention of the American Bankers' association terminated in a combined burst of patriotism and good fellowship, cries of acclamation for the stars and stripes and "God Save the Queen" being together from 1,000 throats. The band played "Dixie" and "Yankee Doodle" alternately, and the delegates from all sections of the country united in pronouncing the convention of 1897 an unqualified success.

SESSION OPENS.

Promptly at 9 o'clock the gathering was called to order and the reading of papers left over from yesterday taken up. The question "What Legislation is Needed in Respect to the Currency" was discussed in an interesting paper by N. B. Van Slyke, president of the First National bank of Madison, Wis. The speaker thought reforms to be permanent should be gradual, rather than radical, and in this direction he suggested as the first important step a currency reform by evolution—the retirement of the troublesome greenback and the treasury notes, a floating debt and the practical business methods of funding this debt into 3 per cent government bonds in denomination from $50 to $1,000, and multiples then of each. "Such 3 per cent bonds, if payable in fifty years," said Mr. Van Slyke, "and irredeemable before, would take up the present bonds issued, as they mature, and if by permitting banks to issue their circulating notes upon the par of such 3 per cent bonds in the same proportion only as the government circulating notes might be returned, redeemed and then forever retired, it would keep the volume of all the currency undisturbed by the gradual decrease of one class and corresponding increase of the other until finally doing away with the government's banking business and placing it with the banks, where it legitimately belonged."

"Savings Banks" was the title of a paper read by Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland. Mr. Herrick said in part:

The benevolent motives prompting the establishment of mutual savings banks in the early period of the country's development for the encouragement of thrift, resulted in creating one of the most powerful trusts, of money-powers in the world, for in only 60 nation, savings banks there are nearly $1,500,000,000. While this vast accumulation is owned by more than 5,000,000 people, a per capita of the entire population exceeding $30, it is controlled by comparatively few men, and it is a remarkable fact that in all the years past they have not been accused of abusing the power reposed in them. On the contrary, it is universally admitted that they have exercised this power justly and very beneficently.

The 980 savings banks, together with trust companies and like institutions—a necessity to large corporations and similar interests, are a medium for handling their securities—practically own all of the municipalities and state debt, and, together with individual holdings, some nine-tenths of the national debt. They also carry the real estate loans, and in large part (probably one-half) the railroad debt of the country—a large portion of which, influenced by threatened adverse legislation, has come back to us from abroad.

If the hard times through which we have passed since the memorable year of 1893 has so little affected the condition of savings banks deposits, and has failed to lessen the confidence of our people in the worth and stability of these institutions, the future seems bright with promise for their greater usefulness in the wise control of the savings of the people.
