GREAT COMBINATION OF BASE BALL

All the Ancient and Modern Features of the Great Game Are Exhibited During the Progress of the Contest.

It was worth the price of admission to see yesterday's game between the Originals and Wymore—it was so awful. Such a conglomeration of slugging, miscues and other base ball fruit was never uncorked in the history of the city as was shown the nice crowd of redbots who turned out. Wymore again demonstrated that it belongs in the kindergarten class in Yankee Doodle's game. Out of the mess Buck Keith plucked another victory and is now strutting about with the state championship banner in his fist. Score:

CRICKET TOURNEY BEGINS TODAY.

Opening Matches Scheduled to Start at Eleven O'Clock.

This morning at 11 o'clock the first matches in the tournament of the Northwestern Cricket association will commence at the ball park at Twenty-fifth street and Ames avenue. These games will be played between the Omaha and Minnesota and the Denver and Chicago teams. Both matches will be going at the same time and will be concluded at 6:30 o'clock. They both ought to be close, particularly that between the local aggregation and the club from the northward.

The Denver and the Minnesota teams came in yesterday, one early in the afternoon and the other at midnight. The two clubs are in the finest sort of fettle. The Chicago team will reach the city early this morning in plenty of time to engage in play at the hour set unless the train runs off the track. The Manitoba team is not expected in until Tuesday morning, although it may reach the city tonight. This aggregation is not down for a match until Tuesday.

All the teams are being met at the depot by representatives of the Omaha Cricket club and are escorted to their hotels. The local players not only propose to give the visitors a hot hustle for the top place in the tournament, but also intend to give them a first class time while they are here.

Croker Buys a Filly.

(Copyright, 1898, by Press Publishing Co.)

LONDON, July 17.—(New York World Cablegram—Special Telegram.)—Richard Croker was the principal actor in an exciting auction scene at the Sandown Park race track Saturday in which the Prince of Wales was also concerned. A 2-year-old named Little Saint was brought to the hammer and Croker, who had taken a fancy to her, opened the bidding. Her owner then bid $1,250, to which Lord Marcus Beresford on behalf of the Prince of Wales responded with $2,500, then Croker offered $3,000, the owner replying with $3,500, on which Croker raised the price to $4,000 and the Prince's representative offered $5,000 and retired amid great excitement. The contest continued between Croker and the owner, but the former was not to be beaten and finally secured the filly at $8,000, a record price for an animal down to be sold at $750. His plucky fight won him round after round of applause from the onlookers, the women clapping their gloved hands. Croker received the demonstration with sangfroid as he seemed more interested in looking over his new purchase. Little Saint was taken to training quarters at Wantage. Great things are expected of her at the stud, as she is out of Hermit and showed great speed.

Originals to Go to Wymore.

Buck Keith has arranged to play two more of the games for the state championship with the Wymore team on next Friday and Saturday. These games will take place in Wymore. In case the Wymoreans get this brace the fifth game will be played either in Wymore or this city according to lot. Games have also been arranged with the Tecumseh team for this city on a week from next Saturday and Sunday. This aggregation is another of the ball tossing outfits of the state that has aspirations after the championship.

Ruhlin Punishes McCormick.

NEW YORK, July 17.—At the Pelican Athletic club house tonight a boxing bout, scheduled for twenty rounds at catch weights, was fought between Gus Ruhlin of Akron, O., and Jack McCormick of Philadelphia. At the conclusion of the eighth round McCormick had been punished so severely that the referee stopped the fight and gave the decision to Ruhlin.

Strikes Out Anti-Sunday Law.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 17.—Judge McCray of the criminal court late yesterday afternoon held the anti-Sunday base ball law unconstitutional. Under the decision Indianapolis will hereafter have Sunday ball. Kansas City played here today.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Saturday.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Decided strength in corn prevented a decline in wheat today. July wheat left off ½c higher and September 3-8@½c lower. Corn gained ½@5-8c and oats declined 1-8@¼c. Pork lost 2½@5c and ribs 2½c; lard closed 2½c higher.

The increasing receipts of the new crop and excellent weather for harvesting and thrashing, together with disappointing cables, started wheat weak. The decline was checked by the strength developed in corn during the first fifteen minutes. Every time the wheat market attempted to start downward on its own account something would happen in corn to make it forget its troubles and join the improving fortunes of its now lively neighbor. September wheat had worked down to 67c about thirty minutes before the close, but just then corn made its most telling advance and wheat responded by a ¼c a bu. recovery. The demand for car lots of cash wheat was slow and prices were shaded. Chicago received seventy-nine carloads, of which seventy-seven were new. Minneapolis and Duluth together received forty-four cars, compared with 375 the corresponding day of the year before. The day's clearances of wheat and flour from Atlantic ports were equal to 400,000 bu. Beerbohm's estimated the world's shipments of wheat and flour for the week to Europe at 4,800,000 bu., compared with 4,026,000 bu. last year. July opened ¼c higher at 72½c, sold off to 72¼c, then rallied to 72⅝c bid, the closing figure. September began 1-8@¼c lower at 67½@67 5-8c, declined to 67c, rose to 67½c, then reacted to 67¼@67 3-8c, bid at the close.

Full sentiment in corn was stimulated by the continued dry weather. Prices started rather easier than at the close yesterday and when September had declined to 33c a good deal was for sale on stop loss orders. There were plenty of buyers, however, around that price, and after absorbing all the offerings the demand was still unsatisfied and the price had a lively advance to 33⅝@33 5-8c for September. There was a reaction later on realizing of profits, but the weakness did not last long and was more than recovered on influential buying by the bull leaders. September started unchanged to ⅛c lower at 33 1-8@33 3-8c, declined to 32 7-8@33c, up to 33⅛@33 5-8c, down to 33 3-8c, recovered to 34c and settled back to 33 7-8@34c asked at the close.

Oats followed corn, but did not display nearly as much strength as its leader. There was good buying early and September rose to 20c, but offerings were so liberal at this price that the market reacted. September started 1-8c higher at 19⅝@19 7-8c, advanced to 20c, reacted to 19 5-8c, then rallied to 19⅞@19 7-8c at the close.

Higher prices for hogs at the yards and a fair cash demand over night started provisions strong. September pork opened 2½c higher at $10.07½, declined to $9.95, then rose to $10 at the close. The range in lard and ribs was inconsequential.

Estimated receipts for Monday: Wheat, 116 cars; corn, 400 cars; oats, 175 cars; hogs, 40,000 head.

London Money Market.

LONDON, July 17.—Stocks remain inactive, the surrender of Santiago to the Americans not having had the expected influence. Except for investment buying of Illinois Central, New York Central and Pennsylvania and speculative purchases of Atchison securities on the understanding that the full interest hereafter would be paid, American stocks were dull. Atchison preferred, Illinois Central and New York Central fell ½ points, St. Paul 3-8 and several others a quarter. Spanish securities were benefited, going over 3-8 on Paris buying, but fears of a revolution caused a reaction. Lombard street is flooded with floating capital, though last week's gold withdrawals induced caution. Discount rates were raised to 2 13-16. Call loans were as low as 1¼, and short fixtures as low as 1 per cent.

CONDITION OF NEW YORK BANKS.

Net Decrease in Cash Holdings is Shown for the Week.

NEW YORK, July 16.—The Financier says: The bank statement for the current week reflects the operations incident to the financing of the new government loan, and the totals do not differ materially from what had been anticipated. The banks lost heavily to the treasury, although they gained something like $2,000,000 from the interior. The result is shown in a net increase of $4,094,800 in cash, and as deposits remain nearly stationary, the reserve decreased almost in the same proportion, or $3,799,475, to be exact. Loans are still expanding, the increase for the week having been $6,178,200. In the light of known facts as to the slowness of commercial paper it is needless to say that this gain has no connection with mercantile affairs. It can be traced almost without exception to the banks which are acting or preparing to act as government depositories. Of course other banks are doing their usual share of business, but the rapid fluctuation in the principal items is due almost entirely to the causes mentioned. Now that the bond subscription has closed, the real effect on the money market will become apparent. It is known that $90,000,000 or more have been paid into the treasury for small bonds. This money has, in reality, been withdrawn from use in the course of collection, but the treasury disbursements are so heavy that the effect has not been perceptible, especially as a large portion of it remains in depository banks. During the next ten days the 2 per cent checks on the successful bids for the remainder of the loan will go through the banks and then will begin the payments on the principal. These, in all probability, will be extended in such a manner as to prevent a heavy accumulation of cash in the treasury, and as the daily deficit in that branch of the government is between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000, it will be seen that the completion of the loan will not disturb the money market. The return of the unsuccessful bids, on the other hand, will throw on the market for investment a large sum of money. This is one of the features disclosed by the enormous oversubscription which is attracting no little attention. It becomes patent that the country has more money willing to accept lower returns than at any previous period. This is being shown in the west as well as in the east, and it is complicating the banking system in New York because one outlet which could always be depended upon is now closed through the accumulation of capital which is being used to meet the needs of local communities. In brief, the country must have expansion of some kind or money will continue a drug on the market.

Manchester Textile Fabrics.

MANCHESTER, July 17.—The deadlock was broken during the last week by manufacturers in want of orders accepting low bids from India and China for low bids, hoping that the fall in raw material will insure protection from loss. Eastern goods generally and especially wide makes are now again well sold ahead. The Levant and South America were also fair buyers, but the home trade was lagging.

Yarns were slightly easier. There were fair sales of bundles for India and China. The home trade pursues a hand to mouth policy in covering yarns. French spinners report dull trade at last week's decline. Mulhouse reports say that cloths are dull and unchanged, and yarns much offered with a tendency to lower prices.

Gladbach is working up old orders, very little new business offering pending further crop developments.

This has been a week of fair receipts, not so large as some, but at the same time better than last week. A small gain is shown by the figures given at the head of the column in both cattle and hogs, as compared with the previous week. As compared with two weeks ago, however, there was a falling off all along the line.

CATTLE—South Omaha, as usual, on a Saturday led all other markets in the matter of cattle receipts and still there were less than fifty loads reported in the yards. The market, as a whole, was in very satisfactory condition. The strikes at the packing houses kept some buyers out of the market, but there were plenty of others, so that the demand was fully equally to the receipts. Should the strike assume such proportions as to cut off the entire local demand, there is still a very excellent shipping demand, and if that should prove inadequate, any day, to take all the offerings, holders can ruship to Chicago without extra cost. The market on good corn fed beeves, such as were especially wanted by the shippers, was very active and a little stronger. The cattle were good, and the buyers wanted them so that everything was sold at an early hour. The less desirable kinds were at least steady. Quite a string of cattle brought $5. Cows and heifers were in very moderate supply and the market was without feature or change of any importance. The few stock cattle on sale brought good firm prices, changing hands at an early hour.

The cattle market all this week has been decidedly in sellers' favor. Values on the better class of fat cattle have been gradually working up, and it is safe to say that the gain for the week amounts to fully 10c. At the same time that the market is gradually working upward the cattle are becoming better, so that the sales all this week have shown up much better on paper. The less desirable kinds of fat cattle, that is rough steers, or those showing a trace of grass, have not experienced any improvement. The market on good dry lot cows and heifers are bringing as much money as any time. Some good heifers brought $4.40 and $4.50 this week, which was as much as they would have sold for any time this season. Grass cows are not bringing quite as much as they did when they first commenced coming, but at the same time they have sold well, and at prices that were entirely satisfactory. Fat bulls are very scarce, and are selling at just about the same prices as a week ago, but stock bulls are a little lower. Veal calves are way lower than they were. At the present time it is hardly possible to get over $5.50 for the best, while on Monday and Tuesday as high as $6.25 was paid. Stock cattle have gained about 10c this week under the influence of a fair demand and light receipts.

HOGS—The receipts of hogs were liberal for the last day of the week and larger than was to be expected under the circumstances. Buyers started out early talking steady prices, but sellers held on and when trading did commence it was at stronger prices. If anything the market gained strength under the influence of the active buying and the close was a strong 5c higher. In fact the average of all the sales, as will be noted from the table of figures above, was close to 5c better than yesterday. Some of the local packers held back, but the shipping demand was very active and the buyers were not long in clearing the pens. The hogs sold principally at $3.80@3.85, with some good, heavy loads at $3.90. Yesterday the hogs sold principally at $3.75@3.80.

The present week opened with a lower hog market, there being a reaction after the sharp advance of the previous week. The market, however, recovered 5c on Tuesday, and added another 10c on Wednesday, then came another reaction. On Thursday the market lost 5c of the gain, but remained stationary on Friday. At the close of the week values are a shade higher than the close of the previous week. On most days of the week the market was in very satisfactory condition so far as demand was concerned and receivers had no trouble in unloading supplies at the prev
