WANTED—MALE HELP.

A FEW MORE POINTERS ABOUT THE SHORTHAND AND TYPEWRITING DEPARTMENT of the OMAHA COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, LOCATED OVER BOSTON STORE, 16TH & DOUGLAS STS., ROHRBOUGH BROS., PROP'S.

No. 1.—Several letters were received during the past week from various shorthand schools in the country saying "Gregg S. H. will be introduced into those institutions September 1st." A letter from Prof Gregg says: "There is a strong tide flowing in the east in favor of Gregg shorthand." A number of other letters received from old stenographers, indicate their purpose of dropping the systems they write and turning to Gregg. Never before has any system of shorthand had such a welcome as Gregg. People are tired of spending a whole year mastering the hieroglyphics of Pitman, Graham and Munson. Any system possessing equal merit to these and yet stripped of the mystifying intricacies will be gratefully received. Gregg meets every demand. No intelligent person who values his time or money will wase on either upon any of the old Pitmanic systems when it is possible to obtain one far superior and capable of being learned in one-third of the time.

No. 2—The present attendance in the Shorthand department is larger than it has been any time during the past year. Several new typewriters have been added to accommodate this large attendance. Gregg shorthand is so easy to master that the students have abundance of time to devote to typewriting. The typewriting work is now the most difficult to master. Gregg shorthand is more easily learned than typewriting.

No. 3.—We had another new class in Gregg shorthand the past week. This makes 16 new classes since the beginning of the year. There will be a new class begin tomorrow morning. Several parties have already made their arrangements. This is a splendid time to take up Gregg shorthand and the Mosher system of touch typewriting.

No. 4.—A new circular containing an abundance of evidence to prove the superiority of Gregg shorthand over any other system now in use is being prepared. As soon as ready we will be glad to place it in the hands of any one seeking reliable information. It is astonishing how many prominent shorthand teachers and court reporters already strongly indorse this system. No one has ever yet investigated this system who was not favorably impressed with it. We are glad to have parties call at the college and thoroughly investigate for themselves. We take pleasure in giving all the information we possibly can.

No. 5.—We had seven calls last week in one day for teachers in Gregg shorthand. We have concluded to run a normal class in shorthand during the months of June, July and August in order to prepare a number of our students to take positions as teachers of this system September 1. If you would like to become a teacher of shorthand at a good salary, write us quickly. We will have more calls for first-class teachers than we can possibly fill. B—815-22

WANTED—MALE HELP.

THE BEST ALWAYS IN DEMAND. THE COURSES GIVEN AT BOYLES' COMMERCIAL AND SHORTHAND COLLEGE, BEE BUILDING, meet the demand of the times for a commercial and stenographic education. This fact is proven by the ability and success of its graduates in business and by the constant call for their services from business men of this city and vicinity.

New pupils are admitted at any time during the school year. Each student is taught separately and progresses according to his or her ability, neither hampered by dull classmates nor unduly hurried forward by those of quicker perception. This one fact alone, that each student receives strictly personal instruction and attention, has probably contributed more to the success of this school than all other causes combined.

Students employed during last week:
Miss Ring, W. A. Graham, real estate.
Mr. O'Connor, U. P. Ry. Co.
Mr. Spethman, Adams & Kelly Co.
Miss O'Brien, Omaha Bee.
