there is in the methods of advertising ready-to-wear garm'nts for ladies—we suppose stores which use high-sounding reductions "on paper" find it pays, else they would not use it. EUROPEAN CONCERT IN CHINA

London Paper Argues that Only England and Russia Can Co-Operate Effectively.

LONDON, June 8.—The Spectator, commenting on the Chinese situation, says it considers if the situation becomes acute, the only consideration to a European concert, which will be effective only in theory, would be for England and Russia to act together in a definite agreement.

The paper adds they alone possess physical power near enough to the scene to be of immediate use. England could in this case use its Indian troops.

Continuing, the Spectator strongly opposes any partition of China and thinks it unsafe to assume that the Chinese soldiers cannot fight. It adds: "The court of Pekin is in action the most imbecile in the world, but it may find a Wallenstein, who will not steal his soldiers' powder, and then Europe will have a new problem to solve."

CLOSES DOWN COAL MINES

Fear that Strike of Delaware & Hudson Men May Spread to Other Mines.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 8.—The strike of the drivers and car runners, which began in the Delaware & Hudson company's Marvin mine on Tuesday, spread today to the Leggett's Creek, the Dickson and the Von Storch mines of the same company, the men and boys of these mines similarly employed as the Marvin strikers going out in sympathy. They refuse to return to work until there is a satisfactory adjustment of the wage differences on which the Marvin men struck. Their action has forced a closing down of the several mines of the company here and the threat is made to carry the fight to every mine of the Delaware & Hudson in the Lackawanna valley. Twenty-five hundred workers are made idle thus far. The strike is over a cut of 10 cents per day in the drivers' wages and 11 cents in the pay of the runners, without notice. They now demand an increase of 10 cents per day over the old wages, drivers, $1.25; runners, $1.51. The fear is also expressed that the trouble will spread to the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western miners, the men and boys on a strike declaring the issue at the Marvin is only the beginning of a similar cut all through the district.

OMAHA WINS FORLORN HOPE

Rourke's Crew Snatch Victory from Defeat When Day Seems Lost.

KINDLY FORTUNE MOVES THE ARM OF BAER

With Two Out in Eleventh Inning the Sturdy Batsman Strikes a Blow and Aided by Tinker's Error Wins the Game.

Omaha, 5; Denver, 4.
Sioux City, 12; St. Joseph, 3.
Des Moines, 13; Pueblo, 8.

Boston, 6; Chicago, 5.

All sins of omission as well as those of commission which the champs have grievously indulged in from time to time were forgiven joyfully by the fans when the Colts yesterday won a game from George Tebeau's Denver Terrors after it had seemed irretrievably lost. It took the Rourke family eleven innings to accomplish the desired end and the finish was full of fireworks. It would have aroused enthusiasm in the most phlegmatic individual, and the rejoicing of the faithful few who turned out to see the second game with the mountaineers knew no bounds.

From the very first the game was a base ball classic, such a one as would do credit to the topnotchers in the National league. It was by far the best exhibition of the season and any lover of the great national game who didn't see it certainly missed a treat. The pitching of both Harry Burrell and McNeeley was of the very highest order and the fielding of both teams was at all times of giltedge order, barring the few errors which crept in. During the first seven innings the locals touched up the Denver twirler for four hits only and the first ten innings Burrell pitched magnificently, only six hits being made off him. Each pitcher, though, had an off inning.

McNeeley's came in the eighth when the champs proceeded to play high jinks with his projections. They made four hits, one of them a three-bagger, two doubles and a single, which netted them three runs, tying the Denverites' score. Neither side scored again until the eleventh.

The visitors succeeded in adding another tally to their collection at this juncture of the game. It came about on McNeeley's single, which was followed immediately by a three-bagger "Kid" Lewee picked out for himself.

Last Chance for Champs.

The champs were then given their last chance. There was a tensity such as is infrequently found in a ball park. The locals had been mowed down before in one, two, three order and the excited fans wondered if such a proceeding would be brought about at this time. They sat with bated breath when "Kid" Wilson, Omaha's debonaire catcher, flitted up to the pan with a "do or die" expression on his face that caured McNeeley to quaver in his boots as he fearfully thought that a great game was then and there to be snatched from his clutches. Old Bill picked out a little single and scooted down to first with great gusto. He was tickled all over, for Captain Jack followed him and the captain was cocked and primed for a slaughter of the innocents.

But Bill's glee died a-borning when O'Connell's infield effort was utilized to cut him off at second. "Mobile" Lauzon's southern blood was boiling when he remembered certain previous instances when he had failed to ante at critical moments and he calculated that Manager Rourke's wrath should not again be called down upon him, so he shot out the willow at an opportune moment and never ceased his mad flight until he was stationed on the second bag, with O'Connell a block ahead.

By this time McNeeley, the great and only, was a trifle nervous and he passed Hoy to the initial corner, his first gift in the game. The bases were then full and the moment was a supreme one. Every player was on an edge, while the spectators no longer restrained their excitement, but broke forth in loud huzzas, for they had a premonition that defeat was impossible.

Good Star Attends Baer.

Omaha stock fell just a notch or two, however, when Burrell struck out. McNeeley was getting good again and he drew himself up to his full stature, determined to give a good account of himself. There were two outs when Baer approached the plate. In sheer desperation he lunged at the ball. It went rolling out between first and second and bounded up into Tinker's hands.

Then something happened. It seemed to be nothing short of providential interference, for Tinker should easily have fired the ball over to first and cinched the game. That is just what he didn't do. The ball sought a resting place between his mits but he refused it admission, fumbled it and O'Connell and Lauzon crossed the plate, the latter chalking up the winning run. Score:

DES MOINES SETS PUEBLO BACK.

Great Batting Rally by the Prohibitionists the Feature of the Game.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 8.—(Special Telegram.)—Des Moines again downed the would-be pennant winners today, and by a wonderful streak of batting hammered out a victory when the game seemed surely lost. In the sixth inning, when Des Moines came to bat, the score was 8 to 3 against her. Five singles, two doubles, three bases on balls and an error netted nine runs. It was the most remarkable rally ever seen on the grounds here. Before that Des Moines made but one hit and after it but one. Andrews was taken out of the box in the third inning after the bases were filled and Johnson was brought in from right to the box. Attendance, 700. Score:

SIOUX CITY STEMS THE TIDE.

Nine Successive Defeats Crowned by a Glorious Victory.

SIOUX CITY, June 8.—(Special Telegram.)—After nine successive defeats, the tide of bad luck that has been going against the Indians turned today and they did up Byron McKibben's yellow legs to a brown turn by a one-sided score of 12 to 3. Sioux City did a lot of effective batting and the runs piled up steadily two by two, except in the third and seventh innings, when they were shut out. Underwood's delivery was rather weak and by a combination of bases on balls and hits that they got from him the Indians were enabled to score rather easily. Wenig, on the other hand, pitched a hard game, allowing but seven scattered hits. But one of the three men who got bases on balls from him succeeded in scoring. While the game was one-sided in its results, it was filled with interesting situations. Hallman hit out an elegant home run over center field, scoring one run besides his own, after two men had gone out. Hall's error in failing to field out one of the runners for a third out was responsible for both runs. On both sides the base running was brilliant and more stolen bases were scored than in any other game that has been played here this season. Score:

Omaha Wheelmen Showing Unusual Interest in the Races to Be Held Sunday.

Omaha wheelmen are evincing an unusual interest in the first race meeting of the year, which will be held Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Omaha Wheel club. Already there are a number of entries much larger than had been expected and the program of six races will be of exceptional interest. The ten-mile handicap, to decide the merits of the riders who participated in the recent Blair-Omaha road race, is the big card and will be participated in by some of the crack riders of the city. The racing will be held on the splendid half-mile track of the Omaha driving park and there will be ample room in the commodious grandstand for the large number of spectators expected. Prizes amounting to $300 will be distributed to the winners.
