WANTED—MALE HELP.

A FEW MORE POINTERS ABOUT THE OMAHA COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, 16th and Douglas streets.
ROHROUGH BROS., Proprietors.
POINTER NO. 1—Between 25 and 30 more new students entered the college last week. The attendance is rapidly reaching "high water mark." Several more new students will come tomorrow morning. This is a good time of the year to begin. Call at the college or send for catalogue for particulars concerning all the departments.
POINTER NO. 2—Actual business is now running in our Business Department as never before. It has been reorganized and the work is unusually interesting and profitable. Every possible facility is provided. New and up-to-date methods are employed. Prof. Lammman is anticipating the best results possible to be had.
POINTER NO. 3—There are now considerably more than 100 students in actual daily attendance in the Shorthand and Typewriting departments. They are all enthusiastic over Gregg Shorthand and "Touch" Typewriting.
The following letter is self-explanatory:
CHICAGO, Sept. 3, 1900.
Rohrbough Bros., Omaha, Neb.
Dear Sir: We are glad to learn of the wonderful success you are having with Gregg Shorthand, and as we naturally desire to have the system taught in the best possible manner, we have no hesitatcy in saying that the Omaha Commercial College is the only institution in Omaha in which we would recommend intending students of our system of taking a course. As far as we are aware, there is no other school in your city having teachers competent to give instructions in Gregg Shorthand, and as a recognition of your enterprise in adopting this system we have granted you the exclusive agency for the state of Nebraska. Wishing you continued success we remain, yours respectfully,
THE GREGG PUBLISHING CO.
By John R. Gregg, author of the Gregg Shorthand.
POINTER NO. 4—If you investigate Gregg Shorthand you will not be willing to learn any other system. It would be a mistake to waste so much of your valuable time to try and master one of the old systems. Gregg Shorthand now has no antagonist. Those who were most bitter against it are now claiming the credit to teach it. Verily the world moves!
POINTER NO. 5—The Night School has already opened. Gregg Shorthand and "Tough" Typewriting, with all of the business branches, are taught. Tuition very low.

THE Van Sant School of Shorthand and Typewriting, 716, 717 and 718 N. Y. Life Building.
Bright, well-educated young persons who wish to become stenographers are invited to spend a trial week in the Van Sant School of Shorthand and Typewriting. If found to possess education and qualities which make it probable they can succeed they will be admitted to the school; if not they will be so told, that they may save time and money. May pay monthly if more convenient. Money refunded any minute for unexpired time if students are not satisfied.
The Van Sant System of Touch Typewriting, the most popular system published, was originated and is taught in this school. Over 42,000 sets of lessons sold during the past eighteen months. Orders received during the past week for 1,569 sets of lessons. Old stenographers can in many cases double their speed by learning this new and up-to-date method. Charts, per set of 30 pages, including best mode's of letters, business and legal forms, for sale at 50c per set. Special discounts to schools. 884 16

CLAIRVOYANTS.

FOUR YEARS IN OMAHA.
MME. GYLMER, OMAHA'S FAVORITE PALMIST, has no equal as a life reader and her marvelous predictions put her in the front rank as a prognosticator. She reads life by the only scientific method extant and her predictions cannot fail to be correct or she has thoroughly mastered the art of Palmistry and is recognized as the leader of the profession. Don't hesitate to consult her, because her long residence in the city is evidence of her honesty and accurateness. Remember the number, 1605 Dodge, south side new postoffice. S-865 16
