OMAHA STARTS OFF RIGHT

Des Moines Defeated in Opening of the Season at Home.

OHNNIE GONDING LINES OUT A HOMER

Two Men on Bases When the Crash Came and the Game Was Won Right There by the Hit.

Yesterday was the opening of the Western league season in Omaha and the locals took the game when "Jawnie" came marching home in the last of the second and gave Omaha the three runs that cinched the game. It was a pretty day and a pretty game and a pitchers' battle, with a final score of 3 to 2.

It was a typical opening, with a parade of city notables, officials and cranks galore, a band playing circus music at the fore and a gathering of street urchins following on behind. A band concert at the park and the opening of the season by the mayor, in which he declared that the season of the rhubarb pie, beck beer and base ball is on again. Then Omaha scattered into the field and Mayor Moores deliberately threw the ball over the plate, while the Des Moines batter struggled hard to miss it.

The game began then in truly earnest and the boys put up an article of the national game worth going miles to see. When they went to bat they fell on the ball and knocked it to the four winds, but no matter how hard or how far it went somebody got it just in time. The fielding was sharp and brilliant, and everyone took almost impossible chances and fielded perfectly.

Story of the Game.

Clark was first up for the Quinn aggregation and drew a pass to first. Then Quinn met the ball squarely in the face and drove it out to deep center, but Genins fielded it brilliantly and saved it from troubling to run any more bases. O'Leary struck out and Town batted it down to Wright, and the inning was over. It was Omaha's turn then and Carter fanned the breezes and Genins hit it like a whirlwind. Durkee stuck out a fin and gathered it in unexpectedly. It was the play of the day and 4,000 fans rose and cheered him wildly. Preston flew out and the inning was over.

The scoring began in the second when Hoffer singled, advanced to second on a long fly to Carter and scored on a hit by Backoff, but that was all they could do. In Omaha's half Wright and Dolan flew out and Stewart and Patterson singled. Then Jawnie Gonding came to the plate and reached out with his wagon tongue and swatted the ball. It struck up close to the fence and bounced over and they all came tripping home. That was the only time they could score, but it was just enough to give them the game.

Des Moines made a second score in the fifth on Clark's three-bagger to right and an excusable error by Shafstal after two men were out.

Today is ladies' day and the same two teams play. "Big" Johnson will do the curve drawings for Omaha, while Cushman will officiate for the Quinn aggregation. Attendance, 4,000. Score:
