CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Special Excursion Rates for Merchants Bring Many to Market.

JOBBERS SHIPPING ADVANCE ORDERS

Market on Most Lines Strong, Coffee and Sugar Being Much Higher, Leather Firm and Raw Rubber at Highest Point in Years.

Fall business with Omaha jobbers and manufacturers is on the increase. The excursion rates to Omaha for the benefit of merchants had the effect of bringing in a good many buyers last week, and it is expected that the early part of next week will see many more on the market. After August 17 the special rates will not be effective until August 24. Merchants who were in the city last week bought quite freely and traveling men on the road also met with good success in placing fall orders, so that there was a decided improvement in the business situation. Both jobbers and retailers seem to have much confidence in future business and the prediction is freely heard that more goods will be shipped out of Omaha this fall than ever before.

The warm weather of the last few days has also helped the situation materially, as hot days and nights are just what the corn crop needs. With an
