To Arrange Flowers.

Here are five golden rules which should be observed by those who often arrange flowers. Use plenty of foliage. Put your flowers in very lightly. Use artistic glasses. Do not put more than two or, at the most, three different kinds of flowers in one decoration. Arrange your colors to form a bold contrast or, better still, a soft harmony. The aim of the decorator should be to show off the flowers—not the vases that contain them; therefore the simpler ones are far preferable to even the most elaborate. Glasses for a dinner table should be either white, a delicate shade of green, or rose color, according to the flowers arranged in them.

EASY CHANGE
When Coffee is Doing Harm.

A lady writes from the land of cotton of the results of a four years' use of the food beverage—hot Postum.

"Ever since I can remember we had used coffee three times a day. It had a more or less infectious effect upon us all, and I myself suffered almost death from indigestion and nervousness caused by it.

"I know it was that, because when I would leave it off for a few days I would feel better. But it was hard to give it up, even though I realized how harmful it was to me.

"At last I found a perfectly easy way to make the change. Four years ago I abandoned the coffee habit and began to drink Postum, and I also influenced the rest of the family to do the same. Even the children are allowed to drink it freely as they do water. And it has done us all great good.

"I no longer suffer from indigestion, and my nerves are in admirable tone since I began to use Postum. We never use the old coffee any more.

"We appreciate Postum as a delightful and healthful beverage, which not only invigorates but supplies the best of nourishment as well." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Dress Problem

Good Taste Shines in Suitable Office Attire

By VIRGINIA KEITH

THE business girl has had so many sermons preached at her no wonder she's a bit tired of them! Yet I know three young beginners who lost their positions this last week—in each case on account of a matter of clothes.

Girl number one dressed so richly and expensively that it made talk in the office. The other girls didn't like it, and her employers finally decided to part with her as a matter of policy. Her rings, her lace waists and silken ruffles were the direct cause of the little note she found in her pay envelope.

The second girl was so untidy that she became a blot on the landscape. The same old ink stain staid day after day on the front of her shirt waist. Her hair looked always in imminent peril of coming down the next minute. Her fingers had the appearance of being total strangers to the manicure. The rim of black around their edge so fascinated her employer, he declared afterwards, he couldn't keep his mind on the letters when dictating. So she was paid for an extra week—and departed.

The third girl was scrupulously tidy and her clothes were not expensive. She chose their delicate fabrics rushing from one counter to another at lunch hour, and made them up herself in the evenings. But the perishable pinks and blues and lavenders that would have been so charming at an evening party caused consternation in the office. She had made the fatal blunder of mistaking the office for the home.

From all of which it appears that the business girl cannot be too careful in her choice of clothes.

The best dressed girl in the office is the one whose apparel best combines the cardinal principles, freshness, becomingness and serviceability. The fabrics may be as good as her purse can buy, the colors as blithely pretty as she desires, but not so delicate that the slightest touch leaves a smudge. And take thought, too, of rainy days and dusty car seats and uncertain laundresses. Dark colors are generally the best.

Good taste never shines out so brightly as from suitable office attire. The girl who can keep her office rig simple and smart and with pretty touches of individuality, even without the aid of a fat pocketbook, is the girl who is going to be noted for looking well anywhere.

But not frills and furbelows, please.

If I had a boy who had no particular bent of genius for any specific calling, I would as soon see him enlist in the regular army of the United States as to take up any other line of work.

If a boy has any good stuff in him the army will bring it out. There is no better school to develop all the finer traits of human character. People sneer at the common soldier very often when that soldier is far above them in all worthy qualities and attainments.

Besides, any youngster with ambition can rise in the army from the humble status of a private, just as he can rise in civil life.

He may become proficient in a dozen auxiliary branches, any one of which will bring promotion in rank with better pay, and there will always be superior officers to teach the aspiring one and hold out a helping hand.

I have no assignment of getting recruits for our army, but I am positive that there are thousands of splendid young Americans who would be better off in the ranks rather than in trying to fit themselves for some of the learned professions and who would be glad to don the uniform if they were only cognizant of the advantages that the army in reality has to offer.

The question of the boy criminal should be solved now.

It is the younger element that is now committing the big crimes and burglaries. Why? Personally I believe that it is because too much liberty is allowed many of the boys.

Evidences of this can be seen in some districts where there are saloons and pool-rooms.

Where unemployed boys are allowed to loaf from morning to night we shall continue to have robberies and crimes.

So long as gangs are allowed to stay together evil plans will be formed.

There ought to be a law passed compelling the women to remove their hats in churches and public meetings.

How would it look for men to wear their hats in church?

The hats not only obstruct the view of the preacher and good-looking singers, but prevent the sound of the voice from reaching the persons behind them.

Women should consider this and know that their ugly coal-scuttle and wide-brimmed hats are nuisances; they encourage selfishness and cause the men to lose respect for the hats and the women that wear them.

According to the statistics furnished by the city health department, out of 655 deaths reported for the week ending December 27 no fewer than 138 died of pneumonia.

This is at the rate of more than one in five, or about 21 per cent. of the total deaths.

Had the same number of deaths been reported of any particular epidemical disease, such as smallpox, measles or diphtheria, our spasmodically hysterical but otherwise sluggish natures would have been aroused.

We would have had the city council make immediate appropriation to fight the disease and we would take precautionary measures to prevent its spread. As it is, not a ripple has been caused.

In the week previous 136 deaths out of 604 were due to this dreaded peril.

Is the increase of this disease over past records due to atmospheric conditions, the greater prevalence of heart trouble, bad air in street cars and buildings or to the greater general weakness and debility of mankind incident to modern life?

BURDENS LIFTED FROM BAD BACKS

Weary is the back that bears the burden of kidney ills. There's no rest or peace for the man or woman who has a bad back. The distress begins in early morning. You feel lame and not refreshed. It's hard to get out of bed. It hurts to stoop to tie your shoes. All day the ache keeps up. Any sudden movement sends sharp twinges through the back. It is torture to stoop and straighten. At night the sufferer retires to toss and twist and groan. Backache is kidney ache—a throbbing, dull aching in the kidneys. Plasters or liniments won't do. You must get at the cause, inside.

GIVEN UP TO DIE.
Mrs. M. A. Jenkins, Quana, Tex., says: "I was bloated almost twice my natural size. I had the best physicians, but they failed to help me. For five weeks I was as helpless as a baby. My back throbbled and the kidney secretions were in a terrible condition. The doctors held out no hope and I was resigned to my fate. At this critical time, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills and soon was cured."

How To Tell When The Kidneys Are Disordered--
Painful Symptoms: Backache, sideache, pains when stooping or lifting, sudden sharp twinges, rheumatic pains, neuralgia, painful, scanty or too frequent urination, dizzy spells, dropsy.
Urinary Symptoms: Discolored or cloudy urine. Urine that contains sediment. Urine that stains the linen. Painful passages. Blood or shreds in the urine. Let a bottle of the morning urine stand for 24 hours. If it shows a cloudy or fleecy setting, or a layer of fine grains, like brick dust, the kidneys are probably disordered.

A CASE OF GRAVEL.
Harrison A. Sturtevant, G and Maple Sts., Tulara, Cal., says: "I was in bad shape with kidney trouble. Too frequent urination compelled me to arise at night, my bladder became inflamed and I suffered severe pain. When I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I passed a gravel stone three-quarters of an inch and variegated in color. After this my trouble disappeared."

ROYALTY AS THE GODFATHER

Difficulty in Europe Successfully Overcome by the Exercise of Some Diplomacy.

In the early days of the reign of the late King Leopold of Belgium a seventh son was born to a Brussels woman, and when the King heard of it and was told that the boy was the seventh successive one and that no girl had come to the family, he asked to be the baby's godfather. Ever since then every seventh son born in Brussels has had the same honor, and the mothers have received gifts in keeping with their status in life. King Albert, in carrying out the old adage a short time ago, had some difficulty "because the seventh son was twins," according to the Frankfurter Zeitung. "He could not stand for both boys, because that would give the family two Alberts. The remedy was found by Queen Elizabeth, who suggested that her little son, the duke of Brabant, be the godfather of the eighth boy, who consequently received the name of Leopold.

ECZEMA GONE, BOILS CURED
"My son was about three weeks old when I noticed a breaking-out on his cheeks, from which a watery substance oozed. A short time after, his arms, shoulders and breast broke out also, and in a few days became a solid scab. I became alarmed, and called our family physician, who at once pronounced the disease eczema. The little fellow was under his treatment for about three months. By the end of that time, he seemed no better. I became discouraged, and as I had read the advertisements of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, a great many people who had used them with wonderful success, I dropped the doctor's treatment, and commenced the use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and in a few days noticed a marked change. The eruption on his cheeks was almost healed, and his shoulders, arms and breast were decidedly better. When he was about seven months old all trace of the eczema was gone.

"During his teething period, his head and face were broken out in boils which I cured with Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Surely he must have been a great sufferer. During the time of teething and from the time I dropped the doctor's treatment, I used the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and nothing else, and when two years old he was the picture of health. His complexion was soft and beautiful, and his head a mass of silky curls. I had been afraid that he would never be well, and I feel that I owe a great deal to the Cuticura Remedies."
