JAP WILL NOT DINE NEGRO

Brown Man Refuses Black Man and Latter Goes to Law.

DEMANDS RIGHT TO SQUARE MEAL

Nagasaki Restaurant Serves Persons of All Other Colors and He Insists It Shall Serve Him.

Kojira Kioka is a little yellow man, a former subject of the mikado. He is proprietor of the Nagasaki restaurant, 606 North Sixteenth street, where he caters to the tastes of the white men of his adopted country serving everything from chili con carne to beans and back again to spinach and pumpkin pie.

Upon a day recently Scott Barbour, colored, entered the Nagasaki restaurant, seated himself at one of the tables and waited patiently for a waitress to take his order. But Mr. Barbour waited in vain. To the right of him, to the left of him, in front of him and behind him customers were waited upon, ate and departed and others took their places, but the waitresses came not nigh to him. Instead the proprietor came and told him he could not be served with food in that restaurant.

The main objection to Mr. Barbour was his color. The Japs served white, yellow, red and other colored men, but they drew the line at black.

Mr. Barbour left the inhospitable eating house then and betook himself to the seat of law where Justice Altstadt holds the scales of equality for white and black alike and there he stated his grievance. A warrant went forth for the Japanese restaurant keeper and he was brought before the bar. The case will be heard next Wednesday afternoon.

Diplomacy.

A Cleveland man advertised for a stenographer the other day. About forty applicants for the place showed up. He turned them all down. But his partner noticed that they all departed flushed and smiling, so he asked him: "Henry, how do you manage to make those disappointed girls all go away feeling good?"

"Why, that's very easy, Frank," answered Henry. "When I find I don't want a girl I say plainly that she won't do. And she asks why, and I smile and say, 'Little girl, you're too young.'"—Cleveland Leader.

DINING CAR FOR BOOSTERS

More Facilities Added to the Trade Excursion Train from Omaha.

It has been decided to include a dining car in the equipment of the special train which will carry the trade boosters on the western Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming trip next month. The trade extension committee met in the rooms of the Commercial club Thursday evening and decided to lengthen the time of stops in a number of towns and cities and will take meals enroute as a means of saving the time.

The cost of the tickets for the trip will be $100 and $25 extra will be charged for apartments in the compartment cars, thirteen having made reservations, though the excursion does not start until May 24.

The following firms have made reservations on the train, many of them for two representatives:

F. P. Kirkendall & Co. (2), C. N. Dietz Lumber company, Lininger Implement company, Oliver Typewriter company, Fairmont Creamery company, Omaha Grocery company, Beebe & Runyan, Midland Glass and Paint company, Sunderland Brothers company, Omaha Printing company, Fred Krug Brewing company, Nebraska National bank, A. G. Buchanan & Son, Richardson Drug company, Clay, Robinson & Co., Union Stock Yards National bank, Standard Bridge company (2), Allen Bros., Voegele & Dinning company, A. F. Smith company, D. J. O'Brien & Co., Paxton & Gallagher company, Lee-Glass-Andreesen Hardware company, William L. Yetter Wall Paper company, First National bank, M. E. Smith & Co. (2), Byrne-Hammer Dry Goods company (2), King-Graham Manufacturing company, Omaha Tent and Awning company, Orchard & Wilhelm Carpet company, Omaha National bank, McCord-Brady company, Wright & Wilhelmy company, United States National bank, E. E. Bruce & Co., Nebraska Telephone company (2).

PURSUED BY FIVE THOUSAND

Fortified by the Elixir of Life, Archie Croswell Eludes His Nemeses.

Archie Croswell after making a thorough personal investigation of most of the alcoholic beverages for sale in the saloons found himself pursued by ten strange men Thursday evening. Keeping his wits about him he walked as calmly as possible under the circumstances to the railroad yards. Arriving there he dodged in between some freight cars, thinking to give the ten men the slip. But in this he had not calculated on their cunning. In a moment they were upon him and their number had grown to nearly fifty.

Croswell ran as fast as he could and the fifty men pursued him. In and out among the freight cars he dodged with the mob in pursuit. The crowd was growing all the time. In a short time it had reached 200 men and looking back a moment later he saw at least 1,600 men pursuing him and intent upon taking his life.

He redoubled his efforts and cried out as loud as he could. The mob had grown to fully 5,000 men who filled the freight yards, when Croswell's cries brought a policeman, who promptly took him into custody. The mob disappeared as mysteriously as it had come as soon as the policeman arrived.

Croswell was discharged in police court Friday morning.

DOC BIXBY FOR GRAND JURY

Lincoln Poet-Humorist Heads Panel Drawn for the United States Court.

The federal grand jury, which convenes in Lincoln May 11, may return its findings in poetry, as "Doc" Bixby, the newspaper poet-humorist of Salt Creek, heads the list of the men selected as the panel for that functionary.

This term of the federal courts for the Lincoln division will take cognizance only of such offenses against the federal laws that have occurred since February 28, 1907, in the South Platte district. These will constitute the jury:

A. L. Bixby, Lincoln; John D. Burr, Mission Creek; Ed E. Burr, Guide Rock; W. D. De Waters, Aurora; T. M. Dempsey, Curtis; Charles A. Erlewine, Grant; William V. Tillman, Ragan; Charles Tanner, Beatrice; W. S. Vance, Peru; Henry E. Williams, Shubert.

THIEVES ARE FAIRLY BUSY

Take Every Kind of Booty, from Old Shoes and Chewing Gum Up to Cash.

The refreshment emporium of Henry Tarsi, 1324 Dodge street, was broken into by thieves Thursday night and a miscellaneous collection of booty was taken, including seven pairs of old shoes, four jars of candy and chewing gum, twenty packages of smoking tobacco and eleven boxes of cigars.

Someone broke into a trunk belonging to Irene Harnady, 2117 Webster street, and stole a City Savings bank deposit box containing $12.50.

Through the back door of the home of M. A. Lehr, 3402 North Twenty-seventh street, burglars entered and stole $23 in cash, three rings, two razors and a hat.

Burglars entered the office of the Haskins Bros'. establishment, Second and Pierce streets, and stole an Oliver typewriter.

Thought It Referred to His Weight

The East End woman who is inclined to be a little careless about covering up the defects in her education was talking the other day with an acquaintance who likes to use unusual words.

"Young Mr. Billings is quite an interesting person, don't you think?" said the woman.

"On the contrary," was the reply, "he always strikes me as decidedly fatuous."

"That's funny," said the woman. "He looks thin to me."—Cleveland Plain Dealer
