Woman's Work

Activities of the Organized Bodies Along the Lines of Undertaking of Concern to Women.

The Omaha Woman's club will retain its present quarters at the First Congregational church, having reconsidered its determination to move. This was decided at Monday afternoon's meeting, which was the largest of the year. Several other plans were considered, but none met the requirements of the club as well as the present quarters.

The club, through its educational committee, had a definite recommendation to make regarding candidates for election to the School board. C. E. Parsons, Sophus Neble, Henry I. Plumb and Charles B. Courtney were the candidates endorsed by the committee, and the women were urged to vote.

"This is not politics," said the chairman of the committee, Mrs. A. K. Gault. "It is our children." Another speaker explained for the benefit of women who had no children of school age that any personal property, a watch, a sewing machine or even a dog upon which a woman paid taxes entitled her to vote.

By unanimous vote the club will petition the board of the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs to exempt it from following the newly made law that all clubs holding membership in the federation shall hold their annual election of officers in January. This plan would be a serious inconvenience to the Omaha club, and a reconsideration of the new amendment to the federation's constitution will be asked at the next annual convention.

The program hour was devoted to a talk by Rabbi Frederick Cohn on "The Psychological Point, Robert Browning," under the auspices of the psychology department, Mrs. Mary Newton presiding.

Booker T. Washington will give a complimentary address before the social science department of the Woman's club Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the club parlors. This lecture will be entirely different from his evening subject. The department will resume its regular meetings this winter.

Mrs. Minnie A. Watkins, chairman of the legislative committee of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has issued the following notice to club women and club presidents:

The legislative committee again takes this means of bringing to your attention the necessity of placing before your clubs the importance of the federal legislation for which our organization stands pledged, and for which we should use our influence.

The measures are the same that we placed before you last winter through the medium of the Bulletin; namely, a national board of health, a children's federal bureau bill, and the revoking of the "Hetch Hetchy Valley" grant to the city of San Francisco. We ask you as presidents to present this business to your delegates in convention.

Printed matter may be secured by addressing members of congress, which will enable clubs to gain facts regarding the status of these measures. During the coming session of congress this committee will notify clubs when the bills are before the house or senate, when we shall need your co-operation if this organization is to assist in influencing constructive legislation, for our strength lies wholly in the full expression of the individual club member. It is our hope that during the fall and early winter presidents of clubs will take to their members this matter for discussion, that they may be properly impressed with the possible benefit to be derived when such measures have been enacted into federal laws.

Citizens in our various states cannot be wholly protected by their state laws in "public health" unless they are strengthened through a federal law. Likewise, the "child labor" question will be freed from many of its complications, and the injustice done to children through ignorance will be lessened through a children's bureau for scientific research, and the giving out of all knowledge gained thereby.

States are not sufficient unto themselves in these larger measures, therefore the legislative committee of the general federation begs you to make place for this most important branch of the work during your state conventions, in order that clubs may know their responsibility as members of the federation.

Announcements of the Theaters.

For the first time under the management of the Shuberts, Corinne may now be seen at the Burwood in the Viennese operetta, "Mlle Mischief." The music is said to be particularly pleasing, there being no less than eighteen numbers of more than passing merit. So well do the Shuberts like the score of the piece that they will do another operetta by the same composer, Matinee Wednesday.

Among those who have made the right kind of a reputation and established themselves in the good graces and favor of theater-goers are Mr. Franklyn Underwood and Miss Frances Slosson, two finished and talented actors, who Mr. Beck brought to Omaha for the first time last season when they received quick recognition for their talents. The remainder of the program is well up to the pleasing standard set by this fine feature and is a pretty good guarantee of packed houses all the week.

An exceptionally strong cast, a wealth of beautiful costumes, pretty girls, funny comedians, and a car load of special scenery are among the promises made concerning "Jack and Jill," which come to the Burwood fresh from victories won in the southland, where it has been accorded the most flattering press notices. The engagement is for three days starting Thursday. Seats selling. Special prices will prevail.

Three Weeks of Skating.

Roller skating will hold the floor at the Auditorium now for about three weeks, with the exception of next Saturday night when Booker Washington will lecture.

Next Thursday afternoon will be ladies day with free admission for all ladies, and music by Green's band.

Tonight there will be a skate boys' race at 9 o'clock and Friday night a free-for-all-race.

Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when you have a cold and you will be delighted with it.

A Tobacco Crusade.

OMAHA, Oct. 30.—To the Editor of the Bee: I notice that the ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance union have arranged to begin a general crusade upon the use of tobacco. In the southern states which recently adopted prohibition, the agitation against tobacco has already begun, and this, too, in the area where the cultivation of tobacco is one of the great industries. This in another instance showing that prohibition fanatics never hesitate to attack the commercial and industrial interests directly, and if they succeed in getting a state to adopt prohibition, it soon puts a damper upon all lines of business.

I also read that the ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance union are planning to make war upon tobacco in all the states. They will not only try to suspend the sale of the weed, but they will try to make unlawful its use. The subject affords a new cause to espouse and that is what the masculine ladies must have. In The Omaha Issue of October 14, and commenting on the report of the secretary of the National Tobacconist association made to that body recently, the prohibition organ says: "On what does Mr. Crau rely for the defense of his traffic? (meaning tobacco) Simply business, money, greed. The suppression of the traffic would make one crop less, one article of commerce less, much property would be rendered valueless and many people would be thrown out of employment. True, but the same may be said of the liquor traffic." They here admit that "much property would be rendered valueless" using their own words; the destruction of one crop and one article of commerce, and the throwing out of employment of thousands of people who have learned this trade to seek employment in other avenues for which they may be unfitted. Quite an admission for our prohibition friends.

When the prohibitionists single out a line of business for attack, as in the case of the crusade against tobacco, they are taunted with allusions to their inconsistency in making a discrimination and thus they are goaded on to agitate for a strict Puritan Sabbath and a closing down of all lines of business on Sunday. The prohibitionists are agitating this latter issue in Maine today as they are in Florida and other southern states. A press dispatch says that in Pensacola, Florida, recently:

Meat markets, bakeries, book stores, cigar stands, theaters and other business places heretofore allowed to run, were shut down. The sheriff who made the arrests refused to act unless provided with warrants following affidavits. Not even a newspaper or a cigar could be bought and those who failed to provide for their Sunday dinner at home were obliged to go to a resturant or go hungry.

Do we want this kind of a crusade to get a footing in Nebraska? One way to encourage the fanatics is to follow their prohibition flag. My opinion is that Nebraska will never do this.

Nebraska, Kansas & Southern Railroad.

FRANKLIN, Neb., Nov. 1.—To the Editor of The Bee:—Franklin and Hastings can secure a railroad from the southwest by proper effort.

The Nebraska, Kansas & Southern railroad is now being built from Garden City in the southwest corner of Kansas to Stockton, and is headed for Superior. This road can and should be diverted to Franklin and run to Hastings.

I have for some months been in negotiation with the interests building this line, and I speak with some degree of confidence when I state that it is perfectly possible that we can persuade the road to come on from Stockton and Kirwin to Franklin and go to Hastings. It is almost an air line.

The natural route is down Lost creek into the Republican valley, and out Center creek north to the level of Macon prairie,
