Mrs. Joe Heene and children of Naocora, are visiting at the home of her brother, Jack Kerwin, and other relatives this week. Miss Lena Wallwey of Sioux City, returned to her duties Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Chas. Ostmyer, also of Sioux City, who spent the week-end at the Wm. C. Wallwey home. Joe O'Dell, living east of Homer, near the Missouri river, was in Emerson last Friday and Saturday with about a thousand pounds of fish. They were fresh caught and would average about two and a half pounds—most all buffalo. Mr. O'Dell had no trouble disposing of the load. Last Wednesday the community was shocked and saddened when it was learned that Wm. Wallwey passed away at the home of his son, Wm. C. Wallwey, at 2 p. m., at the age of 76 years. Death was due to heart failure. He had been in his usual state of health and going about his daily routine. On Tuesday he cast his vote and visited with relatives in Emerson. Mr. Wallwey was born in Waldeck, Germany, June 27, 1844. He came to America at the age of 21 and soon after his arrival he was engaged in work with the U. P. railroad. In 1871 he settled in Dakota county and was married to Miss Henrietta Ostmyer. He followed the occupations of milling and carpentry and later took up the homestead seven miles east of Emerson, where he lived until twelve years ago, when he made his home with his son, Wm. C. Wallwey. Wm. Wallwey was one of the sturdy pioneers of Nebraska who withstood the almost unbearable hardships and privations of frontier life and yet experienced the joy of living in the untamed west. The deceased was a homesteader near Emerson in Dakota county along with such old timers as Messrs. Jopp, Wilke, Betcke and others. He assisted the late A. T. Haase in building the present Dakota county court house. He walked home to his homestead Saturday nights and walked back to his work at Dakota City Monday morning. Many times while making these trips he carried home a sack of flour. Mr. Wallwey liked a joke and was full of dry humor. One of his jokes, as told the writer, was when a new settler came to this section in the early 80s he went point to the surrounding landscape and asked the newcomer "if he could see the hills in the distance," and after the man had answered "Yes," he would inform his listener "that those hills were there when he settled in the neighborhood." He was a true friend and a kind and generous husband and father. Besides his widow, Henrietta Wallwey, he is survived by five sons, William, Henry, Fred, Louis, and

ROBBERS!

Robbers do not disturb people who have nothing. A man with a thousand dollars in the bank and only a check book in his pocket has nothing for robbers to take; yet his check is as good as the money which his neighbor carries in his pocket.

You are inviting trouble to carry money on your person or to keep it in the house. Money in the bank is safe and is always available by means of a check book. This assurance of safety costs you nothing.

Our facilities for handling checking accounts are strictly up-to-date and we will be glad to discuss the matter with you at any time.

Lutheran Church Notes

By Rev. C. R. Lowe.

The Salem Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. Herman Ebel on Thursday afternoon of this week. You are most cordially invited.

There will be "Harvest Service" at the Salem church on Sunday, November 28th, at which time our Salem people and friends will make an offering of canned goods and general food provisions for Tabitha Home for orphans and aged. Come and bring what you would like to give at that time.

Next Sunday we will observe Thanksgiving Sunday at Salem. We do this because we ought always to give thanks to God for his mercies and goodness, and because of the special call of the president. We will have our services on Sunday in order that there will be a more generous response at that time than on Thursday. The pastor wishes that all of our members and friends would make a special effort to be present. Your pastor would be delighted to observe the special day. It is sad we are so busy we do not have time to devote that one day to the special service of Thanksgiving. The most of us manage to lay off from the field at least part of the day, but we are so busy with the preparation for and the enjoyment of the day we do not take occasion to go to the house of God. We ought all to know that time and effort to honor God and to give thanks is not lost. In fact it is just this which gives us increase. The people who honor God he will exalt.

Let us have your presence at the service next Sunday morning.

On Sunday, November 28th, we will observe "Harvest Sunday." That is about the time of the close of our great harvest. On that Sunday, by the direction of our council we will bring to the church an offering of fruits, and provisions of all sorts, potatoes, etc., to be sent to Tabitha Home. We will be able to get our glass jars returned to us. Our parentless children and our aged will greatly appreciate any thing we may have to send them. As for clothing, maybe you have some you can send. If it is used, put it in good shape. Better yet, make a new dress for a child. Supt. Watlers says they receive hundreds of pounds of old clothing which they cannot use, for it is not worth fixing, and the few deaconesses they have there do not have the time to put it into shape. It would be fine if some of our young ladies would undertake to make a child's dress for our children at Tabitha.

Why couldn't we send a crate of chickens? We will have a chicken crate at the church. Bring or send a chicken, too.

Last Tuesday was the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of our Western Theological Seminary. The event was celebrated by a special program, the chief feature of which was an address by Dr. Jacob A. Clutz, the first president of Gettysburg Theological Seminary. In the evening Rev. E. Klotsche, D.D., Ph.D., was installed regular professor of exegetical theology. Our Midland college and seminary faculty are second to none. Our Lutheran church in the middle west have no need to make apologies for any of them. Mr. M. G. Leamer and the pastor attended the festivities.

DAKOTA CITY SCHOOL NOTES.

J. Irwin Long, Superintendent

(Written by George Labra)

Although it was very cold last Friday it proved to be rather warm for the Ponca football team. Dakota City played a ring around the Ponca team in the shape of a big "goose-egg," while our boys went down for two touchdowns and a goal kick (score, 15.). On the whole the game was well played on both sides, but the Dakota City boys made the better showing of the two teams, after all. Eight victories are now credited to Dakota City and one more game to play. Emerson will be played next Friday at Emerson, and it is expected to be the ninth victory on our list.

The Ponca girls won the basketball game last Friday evening by a score of 27 to 5. The writer has heard the question asked, "What do you think of the girls' team now?" In answer I will say that considering the fact that no team was organized last year and that the majority of the girls are new to the game this year, our girls have made a splendid demonstration of their skill. They are learning fast and the season is just beginning; and it is not "bragging" at all to say that in the end they will be just as good players as this school has yet had. Genevieve Mason and Leona Smith, and the rest of the team as well, must be complimented on the skill and wonderful improvement both in quickness and team work. The girls go to Emerson with the boys this Friday, where they will play the Emerson girls.

A bulletin board was installed in school (thanks to Mr. Peterson) on which are to be posted notices and announcements, etc., for school work.

An exciting drama was staged last Friday morning when a black kitten, tied to the back of a certain senior, did some acrobatic stunts trying to free itself. By the untiring help of Mrs. Larson the kitten was freed and restored to its owner. Another amusing scene was the cutting out of paper dolls by a few of the senior girls. It has been suggested that these people form a kindergarten class.

We are wondering why the high school was not favored with a holiday last Thursday when all the other schools around were celebrating Armistice day.

Ernest Gleason was absent from school one day last week on account of illness.

It has been suggested that the high school girls wash the curtains. We hope that the girls will take advantage of this suggestion.

Hallock Mason was absent from school Monday of this week, having some business to transact in Sioux City.

Merrill Blessing and William Morgan were absent Monday, being engaged in the husking business.

The grade pupils took their quarterly examination the past week.
