CRIPPLE'S HEROIC EFFORT TO WIN $5,000 PRIZE

MONEY TO BE DEPOSITED IN TRUST FOR SOME PUBLIC CHARITY. GORDON GETS THE INTEREST DURING HIS LIFETIME—$300 A YEAR

With the passing of Easter, John Gordon, who has lain paralyzed for eleven years with a broken back and body lifeless from waist down, is making a heroic effort to win the $5,000 prize which the Curtis Publishing Co. will deposit in trust for some public charity—the interest of which will be paid to Mr. Gordon during his lifetime.

In order to earn the $5,000 it is necessary that Mr. Gordon shall succeed in writing 10,000 subscriptions by June 30, 1912. He has already written nearly 9,000 subscriptions, but must have 1,126 yet; 126 of which must be received by April 30th or the $5,000 cannot be earned.

These subscriptions are for the Ladies' Home Journal, Saturday Evening Post and the Country Gentleman, $1.50 a year each.

After May 1st the Ladies' Home Journal will be $2 a year. Thousands read these magazines and if 100 people would send in their renewals a few months in advance to insure the required 500 subscriptions for April they would not only save 50 cents, but would thus insure this fund of $5,000 for some needed charity, thereby guaranteeing Mr. Gordon a monthly income from the interest sufficient to pay a woman for his care.

Mr. Gordon was injured in a railroad wreck and having neither friend or relatives has supported himself by conducting a general magazine agency. But his strength fails and he must provide for the future. He lives at 2422 South 24th St., Omaha, Neb., where he receives his orders by mail and by telephone, Douglas 7163. Send in your order or renewal today.

Thompson Sits Down on His Assailant

Although Andrew Thompson, a Dane, of Merna, Neb., enroute to South Dakota, is very tall and slender, he possesses strength, and that quality saved him from being robbed of $9 in front of the Webster street depot. The same reason resulted in James Thompson, a negro of South Omaha, being arrested for highway robbery.

Thompson was walking towards the depot when accosted by the negro. As he paid no attention to the fellow, Thompson, the negro, reached over and ran his hand into the right hip pocket and was extracting a pocketbook when Thompson, the white man, struck his colored namesake.

Thompson, the negro, fell to the ground, and before he could arise, Thompson, white, sat upon him, and when Sanitary Officer Hans Neilsen arrived from the police station he was lying upon him and occasionally poking the negro with his fists.
