BAKER REVIEWS TROOPS IN IMPRESSIVE SCENE AT ARMY HEADQUARTERS

Secretary of War Inspects Every Detail of Soldiers' Life; Tastes Sammies' Food; Visits Birthplace of Joan of Arc; Praises Fine Appearance of U. S. Men.

(By Associated Press.)

With the American Army in France, Wednesday, March 20.—Secretary of War Baker today concluded his visit of inspection to the American military zones in France with a trip which took him from the Verdun sector to great headquarters and included a review of one brigade of the First division, which he addressed as representative of the whole army.

AT JOAN'S BIRTHPLACE.

The secretary also visited the birthplace of Jeanne of Arc and made an incidental inspection of the troops here and there over the route which he traversed.

Tonight the secretary departed to fulfill other aspects of his visit to France.

The brigade of the First division was reviewed from a stage on a high plateau commanding a wide panorama of one of the most scenically beautiful parts of France. It is reached by a steep winding road from the valley below. A twenty hours' rain had made it inaccessible by motor, so the secretary and his party made the ascent on foot, slipping and sliding on the grassy mud.

Just as they arrived at the stand, General Pershing and his personal staff came across the field and dismounted. The entire party then joined the waiting division and brigade generals and their staffs.

Review Impressive Spectacle.

A cold March wind and occasional squalls of rain made the scene more impressive as the brigade, in full marching equipment, swept by at company front, each saluting like clock work, while bands played music which swelled and softened in the gusty wind.

Secretary Baker lifted his hat to each regimental flag as it was lowered in salute and occasionally spoke to General Pershing, who stood beside him.

This brigade from the first division to put foot in France was composed of men seasoned in training under summer and winter skies and inured to mud and cold under all conditions of campaigning. They were the first in the trenches and the first to suffer casualties. Under the weight of full field equipment, from trench tools to extra tools, steel helmeted, tanned and fit, the soldiers stepped swingly through the sticky mud that was almost too much for the mules who drew the one-pounders and the wheeled kitchens.

Complimented By Pershing.

It was the first time that an entire brigade which had been in action had been reviewed and the secretary complimented the general commanding and the colonels of the various units. When the review was concluded, the brigade and commissioned officers assembled in a semi-circle and were presented in a body to the war secretary by General Pershing in a brief address, in which he complimented their record of fitness and efficiency.

Secretary Baker, with bared head in the cold wind, told the officers they were typical American soldiers and said they were "the point of the wedge of the army which the whole American people is driving into the ranks of their adversary." The officers then formed in line and each shook hands with the secretary as his name was announced. The secretary acknowledged each greeting and when some acquaintance approached, he added a personal word or two.

Know What War Is.

General Pershing showed gratification at the splendid condition and appearance of the brigade and remarked:

"These men have been there and know what it is. You can tell that by the way they throw out their chests as they swing by."

When the review was over the brigade disbanded into units and marched back to the camps. The secretary, General Pershing and his staff and the other generals trudged down the hill through the mud to the waiting motor cars.

Secretary Baker's day was a full one, as he covered several hundred kilometers in his automobile. Early in the morning he drove to the Verdun region to a spot from which Fort Douaumont was visible. He saw the activities behind the French lines and a long artillery wagon train and marching troops.

On the way the secretary stopped wherever American troops were billeted, the organizations turning out for inspection.

The soldiers were questioned regarding details of food, billets and equipment, and the secretary often went into the billets to get a personal impression.

Tastes Sammies' Food.

The only complaint registered was about a scant food ration, which was found to be due to the temporary change in the stations of the units affected. Once the secretary's party met a traveling kitchen. The secretary left his automobile and had a taste of the soup and food. His comment was "very good."

During the day Secretary Baker visited the French divisional commander, who complimented the American troops, saying he had called the attention of his men to the expeditious and snappy way the Americans unloaded and assembled their artillery.

On Tuesday, finding himself in the vicinity of a certain unit, the secretary sent for a fellow Ohioan, Carlisle Babcock of Cleveland, a private in the marine corps and a son of a personal friend. After a brief talk the two were photographed together.

The visit to Domremy, the home of Jeanne of Arc, was the concluding incident of the day, Secretary Baker and General Pershing driving to the little village. They inspected the church where the French heroine was baptized and the humble cottage where she was born.

MILWAUKEE MAY GO UNDER RULE OF MARTIAL LAW

Defense Board Head Threatens to Have Mayor Indicted; Says Socialist Platform Equivalent to Sedition.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 21.—Wheeler B. Bloodgood, chairman of the County Council of Defense, told newspapermen today that he had papers drawn up to seek the indictment of Mayor Hoan, socialist, just renominated.

He said Hoan's re-election as mayor being practically assured, he, Bloodgood, would seek to have Milwaukee placed under military law.

"We might better act now than wait," said Mr. Bloodgood. "The time for action has come. If the peace machinery of government is inadequate to deal with a situation like that in Milwaukee and in some other sections, there are enough of us to reinforce that machinery to wartime machinery.

"I assured Mayor Hoan in the presence of many witnesses that I would have him indicted and I assured him that he would never again be mayor of Milwaukee," said Mr. Bloodgood. "I am seeking his indictment on the grounds of the socialist platform itself, to which Hoan subscribed.

"It declares that the people did not want the war; that they do not want the war, and that it was forced on them by the ruling classes. The ruling classes can mean only one thing in America—the president and congress. That is sedition.

ARE READY TO ACT.

"I have two boys in France. President Wilson has assured them they shall not be attacked in the rear as they have been in Milwaukee I and hundreds of others—'next of kin' of those boys in France—are organizing now to assure vigorous prosecution of the war, and I say solemnly that these men are of the quiet and determined character which will not stand for a socialist government in Milwaukee or the state of Wisconsin. We will be prepared to act. We will, for instance, act if we do not get martial law or an indictment which will prevent Hoan from being sworn in again as mayor. I hope that it will not be put up to our organization—we call it so far 'The Next of Kin,' but if it is necessary, we will not falter."

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Fresh Strength Develops in Corn, Owing to Receipts.

Chicago, March 21.—Fresh strength developed in the corn market today owing largely to continued falling off in receipts here and to likelihood that congestion at the seaboard would be relieved to a material extent. Closing prices, although unsettled, were ⅛@¼c net higher, with March $1.27⅝ and May $1.25⅛. Oats gained ⅝@¾1c and provisions 10@12c to 20 cents.

Emphasis on the reduction of the amount of corn arriving was due to definite word that farmers' deliveries to interior elevators had diminished considerably and that the auspicious conditions for field work were likely to restrict still further the movement from first hands. Announcement of the seizure of Dutch ships, although a foregone conclusion, was also regarded by many traders as a bullish factor, the inference being drawn that a liberal share of the tonnage would be used for exporting grain and that much corn would perhaps be included. Toward the last the market underwent something of a reaction because of stoppage of buying on the part of leading industry.

Active purchasing for the seaboard lifted the oats market. Arrivals remained light, but seeding reports were highly promising, especially as to Iowa and Illinois.

Provisions rose with hogs and grain. Packers were conspicuous buyers of lard.

Cattle—For a Thursday cattle receipts were fairly liberal, about 6,000 head, and the four days' supply, 31,000 head, has been nearly 5,000 heavier than a week ago, and 12,000 heavier than a year ago. Quality was very good as a rule, and the market active at strong to 10c higher prices all around. Prime long fed steers brought $13.50@13.75, the highest of the season and the general market for both beef steers and butcher stock is around 15@25c higher for the week. Business in stockers and feeders was rather quiet, the best grades holding steady, and medium and common kinds selling slow at lower prices.

Hogs—There was a liberal supply of hogs on hand this morning and shippers took a limited number of the early hogs at prices that were steady to, in some cases, perhaps, 5c lower. One or two packer buyers were also picking out a few light loads on about the same basis. Trade was very slow. The best price paid for light hogs was $17.25, steady with yesterday's top figure, while the bulk of the hogs moved at $16.75@17.00. The indications pointed toward a steady trade all the way. Heavy hogs were selling a little better than they have been for the last few days, although the demand is still for the lightweights.

Sheep—The market opened today with seventy cars of sheep, or 16,000 head, on sale and it was sometime before packers and salesmen got together on a trading basis. There was a good demand for aged stock, and sales made in this class looked steady with yesterday. Fat ewes sold up to $14.00 for choice kinds, and $13.90 for another string. The quality of fat lambs ran to the medium weight and heavy order, and the call for these was somewhat slow and the feeling lower than yesterday. Early bids were 15c to 25c lower, with no sales made early, except a string of heavy shorn lambs that sold at $13.60, steady with yesterday's price. A string of heavy feeders sold at $17.20. The general market was steady for sheep and 15c to 25c lower on lambs.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Liberty Bonds Only Active Feature of Market; Final Hour Brings Out Moderate Activity.

New York, March 21.—Another brisk inquiry for Liberty bonds was the distinguishing feature of today's session of the stock exchange. Dealings in stocks diminished steadily until the final hour when moderate activity set in under the lead of industrials and oils.

Those shares were favored because of an advance in crude oil prices and intimations from Washington that the new schedule for steel and iron would in all probability eliminate existing inequalities.

Texas company was foremost among the oils at an extreme gain of 5 points, and United States Steel was roused out of its previous torpor, gaining almost a point on relatively heavy accumulation.

Other substantial gains were confined to such specialties as American Car, inactive equipments and Industrial Alcohol, Distillers' securities and Malting preferred at advances of 1 to 2 points.

Early pressure upon rails, motors and tobaccos was partly overcome in the general rally of the close, but some gains, notably that of Union Pacific, proved only temporary. Sales amounted to 260,000 shares.

Official seizure of Holland's ships, the Teutonic bombardment on the western front and a naval engagement in which the German forces seem to have been worsted, were among the deterrent developments of the forenoon.

Liberty issues again constituted the sole features of the bond market, second 4s gaining almost 1 per cent, but reacting sharply later. Sales, par value, aggregated $6,650,000.

United States bonds, old issues, unchanged on call.

LYNCH HEARING WITNESSES TALK TO GRAND JURY

Echoes From Ouster Suit Heard in Testimony Given Before Inquisitorial Body Now in Session.

Echoes of the recent Lynch ouster hearing were heard Thursday when Mr. and Mrs. Hans Voss were called before the grand jury. It was Voss who testified that Lynch and Johnny Ford had sought to induce him to reopen his road house on West Center street, and promised their support if he would split the profits three ways. They were closeted with the grand jury more than an hour.

A. H. Gilbert, former bartender at the Budweiser saloon, who admitted at the ouster hearing that he had been bookkeeper for the "ring" and had split the profits from Lakeside and other roadhouses between Dennison, Lynch and others, was also summoned. "It won't take me long to tell all I know," he said, before entering the grand jury room.

Burns Will Tell All.

"Farmer" Burns was also a visitor at the court house Thursday. In reply to inquiries, he said he expected to be called soon before the jury. He said he was prepared to tell all he knew of the case, and intimated he might tell "a little more" than he had testified to in the ouster suit.

"I wanted to tell the whole truth then, but you know how technical the law is, and they ruled my answers out."

Mrs. Wisdom, a negress, was another witness of the afternoon session.

Gambling Devices.

Searching inquiry into conditions at the pest house and investigation of punch boards and other alleged gambling devices in cigar stores are being made.

Dr. J. Alex Williams and his daughter, June, were witnesses in the pest house hearing. Miss Williams was recently a patient there. J. Scott, 4515 South Twenty-sixth street, was called. He was confined in the pest house 15 days.

Rumors of an investigation into the high prices charged for laundry work have been circulated.

Barbers' high prices may come up for consideration.

Charles E. Cope, jr., 941 North Twenty-seventh avenue, manager of a printing company, and Charles Johnson, 2422 Binney street, a retired laundry man, have been chosen to fill the vacancies of James H. Bulla and James Pettegrew, excused from service on the jury.

RUSSIANS FLEE PETROGRAD AS FOES ADVANCE

Moscow, Tuesday, March 19.—All available rolling stock is being used for the removal from Petrograd of all valuable property along the lines of the trans-Siberian and Ural railroads.

The Putiloff munition works and the Schuszelburg power factory, both employing from thirty to torty thousand men, are being removed to Omsk and to Bolsk. Among the factory workers are thousands of German and Austrian prisoners which the goevrnment is sending to Tomsk and other Siberian cities to do industrial work.

Many of the prisoners told The Associated Press that they had little interest in the war. Some of the Austrians sought medicines from the American Red Cross for sick comrades and did not know the United States was in the war.

Vologda, where the American embassy is at present, has suddenly developed from a provincial city of 60,000 to a congested transfer point with a great floating population.

DUTCH TONNAGE GOES UNDER U. S. WAR OPERATION

waters and another 400,000 tons was put into allied service.

The president's proclamation was issued upon Holland's refusal, in the face of German threats, to put into effect its voluntary agreement for restoring its merchant marine to normal activity.

Compensation will be made to the owners as required by law.

Although the ships have been taken over without any formal agreement, the United States proposes to carry out scrupulously the terms of the original pact, so that Holland shall receive ample foodstuffs, and will be protected in its colonial trade by having sufficient tonnage to maintain its commerce.

President Issues Statement.

In a statement outlining the negotiations which preceded the requisition, President Wilson pointed out that the permanent agreement with the Dutch government had been blocked by Germany, despite the little kingdom's acute need of foodstuffs, for which the agreement provided. A temporary agreement then was negotiated to tide over the emergency and that, too, was held up by Prussian diplomacy.

"Although the reason never was formally expressed," the president said, "it was generally known that the Dutch ship owners feared lest their ships should be destroyed by German submarines. That this fear was not wholly unjustified, has unhappily been shown by the recent act of the German government in sinking the Spanish ship Sardinero, outside the danger zone, when carrying a cargo of grain for Switzerland, and after the submarine commander had ascertained this fact by an inspection of the ship's papers."

London, March 21.—The Associated Press learns that, the United States having authorized the requisitioning of Dutch ships, Great Britain will immediately order similar action in regard to Dutch vessels in British ports.

Notwithstanding the statements which have emanated from Holland, the British government thus far has received no communication from The Netherlands government regarding acceptance or rejection of the allies' note.

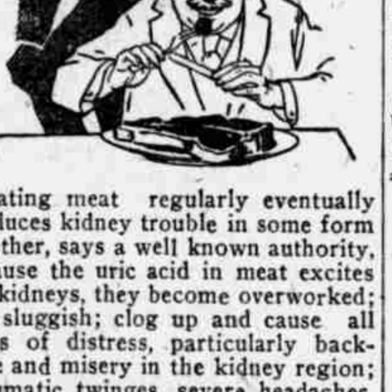
EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if bladder bothers you.



Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

OMAHA MAN HAS GAINED 10 POUNDS NOW FEELS FINE

Fireman on Union Pacific Says Tanlac Has Restored Him to Health.

Statement after statement is now being made by the people of Omaha in connection with Tanlac, the Premier Preparation, which is accomplishing such remarkable results throughout the United States and Canada. Ira W. Polsley, a well known fireman on the Union Pacific railroad, who lives at 2033 Elm street, called at Sherman & McConnell's drug store, Sixteenth and Dodge streets, recently and in relating his experience with the medicine, said:

"Tanlac certainly is a real medicine, for nothing but a real medicine could do what a few bottles did for me, and I'm glad to tell everybody about it. I always felt strong and well until about six months previous to the time I began taking Tanlac. Then somehow or other I got all out of fix and my good health was fast slipping away from me. At the time my trouble started I weighed one hundred and forty pounds, but it wasn't long until I lost several pounds and just felt tired and worn-out all the time. My appetite was very poor and my food failed to give me proper nourishment and I couldn't work long without feeling exhausted. My liver was sluggish and I had no ambition or energy. I often suffered from headache and was nervous and restless all the time. I don't know what all did ail me, but I just felt miserable and unfit for work all the time.

"I hardly knew what to do until a Union Pacific engineer told me how Tanlac had helped him and advised me to try it. So I took his advice and now I'm glad to come out for Tanlac, because it proved to be just what I needed. The first few doses made a big difference in my feelings. My appetite soon came back to me and I could eat and enjoy anything set before me. When I finished my third bottle I found I was not only restored to full vigor and health, but that I had actually gained ten pounds in weight besides, and I'm now even heavier than I was before my trouble first began. My tired, worn-out feelings are gone and I have energy, ambition and strength to do my work with as much ease as I ever could. Tanlac certainly is a wonderful medicine, and it was lucky for me that I took it."

There are thousands of people who complain of feeling nervous and run-down. They are not sick exactly, but feel tired and good for nothing most of the time. They need something to build them up and throw off the symptoms of this weakened, debilitated condition.

The system, besides being purified by Tanlac, is toned up and invigorated as the medicine, aside from assisting the blood, reinvigorates the constitution, overcoming as it seems to quickly do, nervousness, indigestion, non-assimilation of the food, headaches, backache, kidney complaints, general debility and many other ailments that are so common to the thousands of half-sick, depressed men and women.

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by Sherman & McConnell Drug Company, corner 16th and Dodge streets; Owl Drug Co., 16th and Harney streets; Harvard Pharmacy, 24th and Farnam streets; Northeast corner 19th and Farnam streets, and West End Pharmacy, 49th and Dodge streets, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.

A Never Failing Way To Banish Ugly Hairs

(Aids to Beauty)

No woman is immune to superfluous growths, and because these are likely to appear at any time, it is advisable to always have some delatone powder handy to use when the occasion arises. A paste is made with some of the powder and water and spread upon the hairy surface; in about 2 minutes this is carefully removed and the skin washed. You will then find that your skin is entirely free from hair or fuzz. Be sure, however, to get real delatone.—Adv.
