RAILWAY NOTES AND PERSONALS

Fireman O'Donnell of Deadwood was in Alliance Monday.

H. F. Riese is a new employe in the train service.

Brakeman Dorsey has resigned from the service and gone to Denver.

Conductor Lawson left Saturday for a few days' visit with his wife and family on the ranch.

Fireman Sorenson, who has been working on the east end, is again in Alliance.

Brakeman Fred Vaughn is now helping to wrestle freight on the west end local.

Dispatcher Cox has been out for several days getting acquainted with the road east of Alliance.

W. D. Evans, formerly of the train master's office, is now in charge of the yard office nights.

Engineer Willis is expecting his wife and little daughter home soon. They have been visiting relatives in Seattle.

Engineer Guy Miller has been off several days on account of his wife being very sick. At this writing she is slowly improving.

Firemen Trenkle and Branley who have been working on Crawford Hill were "bumped" and came to Alliance Saturday. On Monday they left for a short vacation in Denver.

Mrs. J. W. Newell, wife of the prominent Burlington man of that name, with headquarters in Chicago, is visiting with Mrs. Broome, Mrs. McCluer and Mrs. Andrews.

From now on all of the D-4 engines will be equipped with electric head lights, both here and on the Sheridan division. This is a great help to engineers to see ahead and approaching trains can be seen much farther.

The engine that blew up at Rancho some time ago is in the yards here and exciting a great deal of attention. The frame of the engine and the tank are traveling on their own trucks. The boiler is loaded on a flat car.

Conductor McDonald had the misfortune to mash two of his fingers. He was helping to do a job of car-repairing while going down on 44. His hand was so sore that conductor Betebenner took his turn out of Ravenna and McDonald deadheaded home.

Conductor J. A. Armour is able to be on the street after a very severe siege of la grippe. He was taken sick in Edgemont a week ago Monday while in charge of No. 42. Conductor Zollinger, who happened to be a passenger, brought his train to Alliance.

The death of Ralph Olds last Thursday was a great shock to his many railroad friends here. Ralph came here about three years ago and worked as express messenger between Alliance and Billings. At the funeral Friday evening the pallbearers were young railroad men, and a large number of railroad people were present.

Joe Mifka, now wire chief of the Western in San Francisco, has been in Alliance several days. Joe learned telegraphy here and by his strict attention to business and his natural ability he rose in a few years to the position of a dispatcher. By the time this is in print he will be on his way to his new home with his bride. His many railroad friends wish them a bright and happy journey through life which they both richly deserve.

STARTS POOL TOURNAMENT

The management of the popular Mission pool hall have started a pool tournament that is creating a great deal of interest. The tournament was started on Monday and will continue for thirty days, a one hundred ball game being played at eight-thirty each evening.

Many of the local experts are interested.

DIED

Miss Basil Underwood, daughter of Cal Underwood, of Carpenter, died at Chadron of appendicitis. The remains were shipped to Alliance where interment will take place at Carpenter today. Miss Underwood was about twenty years of age, and had spent the most of her life near Alliance. Rev. W. F. McNeill of the Baptist church will have charge of the service.

Mr. McNett of Lakeside died at the Mercy hospital of heart failure. He had been in the hospital for treatment.

MRS. F. W. HARRIS INJURED

Mrs. F. W. Harris, wife of Mayor Harris of Alliance, was seriously hurt last Sunday afternoon by slipping on a cement sidewalk. Her right limb was broken, causing her a great deal of suffering. She was carried to a nearby residence, and Mr. Harris and doctors summoned.

Mrs. J. T. Whitehead of 44 chell, her sister, came over Tuesday and will remain with her until she is able to be out again.
