FIGHT ON TARIFF

Minority Organized to Put Up Strenuous Opposition.

SENATE NOT IN ANY HASTE.

Upper House, on the Defensive, Takes Its Time About Getting Ready for Action—Direct Election of Senators and Publicity Bills to Pass.

Washington, April 17.—So far in the extraordinary session of congress it has been plain sailing for the well organized Democratic majority in the house of representatives, but, in the view of a strong minority, there are breakers ahead.

Democratic leaders refer with pride to their achievement of passing the bill for the popular election of United States senators and the campaign publicity bill in two legislative days and to bringing before the house the Canadian reciprocity agreement, with assurances of its ratification by an overwhelming majority by the middle of this week.

To all these features of the legislative program, however, there has been little opposition. The wonder of it, to the experienced observer, was the demonstration of the smoothly running Democratic machine.

But by what is to follow—the free list bill approved by the Democratic caucus and favorably reported by the new committee on ways and means—the rapid pace of legislative progress is expected to receive a check.

Stubborn Fight in Sight.

Reciprocity discussion, begun Saturday, furnished an opportunity for the minority leaders to intimate their intentions and to make it clear that the bill placing on the free list manufactured articles in demand by the farmers, will be fought as stubbornly as any proposed Democratic tariff measure ever was opposed in congress.

The majority leaders realize the bill can not be rushed through, and they are preparing to meet the assault upon it in a prolonged debate.

Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee intends to submit to the house the committee's report on the free list bill on the concluding day of the reciprocity debate, so that it may be called up the following day.

The tariff debate, it is expected, will begin at once, and it is the hope of the Democrats that the bill can be put upon its passage within two weeks. The determination of the minority leaders to assault it from every angle doubtless will result in keeping the measure before the house for a much longer time.

The minority members of the ways and means committee, in considering the proposed free list, voted solidly against it, maintaining it was a hastily framed measure, ill advised and not sufficiently backed up with information relating to the revenues concerned. Furthermore, it was pointed out, the tariff board had not been consulted.

bill is beyond question. Mr. Payne, who was chairman of the old ways and means committee, will be allied with him in directing the attack.

This will be but the beginning of tariff excitement, as the Democrats already are preparing revised wool and cotton schedules to be presented as soon as possible and later on in the session the agricultural schedule will be tackled, and then will come again the controversy over the high cost of living. With all this in prospect, not to mention the proposed Arizona and New Mexico statehood bill, anti-union legislation, reapportionment and appropriation bills, the present outlook is that the house will be kept busy until well into the summer.

Senate Is Leisurely.

Two important pieces of legislation are ready for the senate, which resumes today, but the senate is not ready to consider any legislation, and, to all appearances, it is making no haste. The senate committees are not yet named and when it meets today it is probable another adjournment will be taken until Thursday. One of the senate leaders, when asked how soon the committees would be ready, replied:

"Well, we are on the defensive in regard to the tariff and I guess we are in no hurry to appoint committees. The senate will take its time."

The prospects are good, however, for the passage by the senate of the popular election and campaign publicity bills. There is considerable new progressive material in the senate and the popular election of senators is sure to meet with a more favorable reception than it did in the last congress, where it received a majority, but not the necessary two-thirds majority.

Will Study Goutre Cause.

Washington, April 17.—The public health service is about to begin an extended study of goutre to learn the cause of epidemics of the disease now existing in various parts of the country. One locality in Utah has been found where every woman is a sufferer.

Funeral of Ex-Governor Glick.

Atchison, Kan., April 17.—Two ex-governors of Kansas and many other men prominent in the state attended the funeral here of George W. Glick, also an ex-governor of the state. The funeral was conducted by the Masonic order.

OMAHA LAND SHOW

Great preparations are being made for the second Omaha Land Show, which will be held October 15th to 28th. The first of these shows was considered a great success, but the number of exhibits from Nebraska, as compared with those from states farther west, was disappointing. An effort is being made to work up a greater interest throughout this state, with good prospects of success. Choice space on the stage of the Auditorium, where the show will be held, is being reserved for the counties of Nebraska. Everybody interested in the development of this state should be interested in the Omaha Land Show. Further information can be secured by addressing the general manager, Mr. W. O. Paisley, Omaha.
