DEMOCRATIC COUNTY CONVENTION

The democratic county convention met at the court house in Alliance last Saturday, pursuant to the call previously published in The Herald. W. S. Ridgell called the convention to order and on motion was made chairman, and Joe L. Westover was elected secretary. They did not have much business to transact. There was a good attendance, the largest that has ever been at a democratic convention in Box Butte county for a number of years. William Mitchell, M. F. Nolan, Isaac Rockey, F. M. Broome and W. L. McNamara were elected delegates to the state convention; alternates; Jno. W. Thomas, C. A. Burlaw, Frank McCoy, Geo. Snyder, C. M. Cox.

The county central committee was elected as follows: W. S. Ridgell, chairman; J. L. Westover, secretary; Alliance, First ward, T. J. Threlkeld; Second ward, Geo. Snyder; Lake precinct, E. Reeves; Boyd, Frank Bauer; Running Water, John Jelinek; Lawn, Joe Muller; Wright, F. L. McCoy; Dorsey, Frank Caba; Nonpariel, Geo. Doro; Liberty, John Caba; Box Butte, William Rust, Sr.; Snake Creek, Charles Tiernan.

MILKING HOLSTEIN COWS

E. M. Gregg called at The Herald office yesterday to set himself ahead on subscription, and gave us some information that was quite interesting to us in regard to the Holstein cows which he and his father, E. I. Gregg, shipped out from Illinois last spring. E. M. is living on the Gaddis ranch, six miles south of Alliance, where they have the cows and are milking thirty four of them, from which they get eighty gallons of milk per day, which they separate and sell to the creamery. He informs us that he is thinking of putting in a silo this summer. He has forty acres of corn which he will make into ensilage if he constructs the silo.

Farmers, Attention!

All farmers and ranchmen living in the territory tributary to Alliance, are invited to attend a meeting to be held at the city hall at 2 p. m., Saturday, July 29, for the purpose of considering the matter of holding a purely agricultural fair this fall. The directors of the company owning the fair grounds adjoining the city have offered to the farmers the free use of their grounds and buildings for that purpose.

SOMETHING NEW—See Laing's Ad.

Word was received here Wednesday that Mrs. H. H. Bogue's father had died at his home in New York after a prolonged illness. Mr. and Mrs. Bogue departed for New York on Thursday morning. The Herald and many Alliance friends extend their sympathy to them in their great affliction.

Coote Mulloy sold the greater part of his stock last week to Messrs. Blain and Walker, of Grand Island, who will ship them east. Mr. Mulloy expects to leave for the Pacific coast in the very near future to be gone all winter.

Mrs. M. F. Nolan left on 44 yesterday for Omaha and points in Ia. She expects to be gone about ten days.

Roadmaster J. T. Byrne, having a leave of absence, left Monday for a trip to the coast.

S. K. Warrick had business in Lincoln the latter part of last week.

A. D. Waggy, of Broadwater, was in our city one day this week soliciting the support of the voters of the north end of Morrill county in behalf of his candidacy for the republican nomination for treasurer of that county. Mr. Waggy has the reputation of being a man of ability and merit, but we are not familiar enough with the politics of Morrill county to know his chances for nomination.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

SOMETHING NEW—See Laing's Ad.

Dr. Boland is enjoying a visit from his mother, Mrs. E. W. Boland, of Omaha. She arrived Friday.

The concert given in the Elks club rooms Wednesday evening was greatly enjoyed by all. Some splendid selections were rendered and much appreciated by the large audience. After the concert, a dance was given.

Mrs. Fay, who has been visiting at the home of John Hill in this city for the past several weeks, returned to her home in Iowa City, Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Watson stopped in Alliance from morning till noon Tuesday. They had been called to Blencoe, Iowa, a week previous by telegram conveying the sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. Watson's father, M. C. Hogue. Mr. and Mrs. Watson reside on her ranch eight miles north of Mitchell, although Pete has a ranch in Sioux county and she has property in Mitchell. They have many friends in Alliance and will always receive a cordial welcome here.

Henry Hopkins called at The Herald office yesterday to set himself ahead on subscription. He is very well pleased with the prospects for a good potato crop in this country this year. We might also say that he is not the only one who is pleased with the outlook for potatoes. He believes in doing business in a business like manner, hence ordered a supply of letter heads and envelopes printed.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Newberry was the scene of a very pleasant social gathering Monday evening, in the form of a surprise, the occasion being their eighteenth wedding anniversary. Cards and dancing were indulged in during the evening, and a dainty two-course luncheon was served at a late hour. All expressed themselves as having had a very delightful time.

Miss Ready, sister of Mrs. John Brennan, who has been spending the past week in the city, departed Tuesday morning for Michigan. Miss Ready is a very able teacher in the schools of Portland, Oregon, and is on her vacation. She expects to return to Portland via Alliance.

E. H. Boyd is in Lincoln this week, being a delegate to the state republican convention held there this week.

Miss Lowery, of Chicago, is the guest of Mrs. J. R. Phelan. She will remain for some time on the Phelan ranch, south of town.

John A. Easton, of Tecumseh, Nebraska, arrived on the early train this morning to remain until noon. He has a quarter section of land two miles west of Alliance which he was looking after. He seems to be well pleased with this country, and as he wishes to keep posted on the news from here, he called at The Herald office and ordered the paper sent to him.

While driving cows for Dennis Landrigan in the west part of the city this morning, Phillip Thomas, the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thomas, was thrown from his pony and had his collar bone broken. He went to the residence of Bart Young, where he remained until the doctor set the bone, when he was taken home. Although stepped on by the pony, he sustained no other serious injury than the broken bone.

A letter recently received from John R. Beach, formerly The Herald bookkeeper, informs us that his address is 750 Broadway, Sheridan, Wyoming. He is very well pleased with his position in the railroad office at that place, and is getting along nicely. John ordered The Herald sent to him to keep him posted, and of course we are glad to put his name on our list.

Just as we are going to press, Joe Bills calls at The Herald office to inform us that there was a mistake in the statement published in last week's issue of The Herald, in regard to him getting hurt. He gave us a full statement of the accident which will appear in the next issue.

Mrs. Wm. Mitchell entertained a number of her lady friends last Friday afternoon in honor of her niece, Miss DeVoy, who has been a guest at the Mitchell home for some time past.

Mrs. Dick Kenner was a Hemingford visitor last week, visiting at the home of her parents.

MILLINERY TRADE INCREASES

Some of the readers of this paper may remember the newspaper accounts of the ptomaine poisoning of six government civil engineers in the Big Horn Valley last September, two of them dying from the effects. Mrs. Edward G. Bowles, widow of one of the unfortunate engineers, with her little daughter, has been stopping in Alliance the past few months with her friends. She came here from Denver. At the time of his untimely death, Mr. Bowles had considerable financial means invested in mining interests, but it has since been tied up by litigation. Mrs. Bowles being an experienced milliner, having formerly been in the employ of Macy's, New York, decided to engage in the millinery business in Alliance for the support of herself and child.

She opened a shop in rooms over Saxton & Roach's meat market where she had a fairly good trade, but found it would be better for her to have a ground floor location. She secured the room at 405 Box Butte Ave., formerly occupied by the Alliance Tailoring Company. Since moving into this new location she finds a very encouraging increase in her trade.

SURVEYING FOR HOMESTEADERS

J. P. Hazard, the surveyor, has been kept busy lately surveying for homesteaders in Morrill county. He is well posted with the regulations of the Interior department relative to homesteads, and by being able to give prospective homesteaders reliable information, as well as doing their surveying, he finds his services in great demand. Mr. Hazard finds that one of the Herald's Premium Wall Charts will be very useful for him to have, and accordingly he pays his subscription to 1912, and takes the map.

BAPTIST CONVENTION

The 24th annual convention of the Northwestern Baptist Association will be held in Alliance, Thursday to Sunday, August 3rd to 6th. The first meeting will be held on Thursday evening. The complete program of the convention will be published in next week's issue of The Herald.
