SURVEYING FOR HOMESTEADERS

J. P. Hazard, the surveyor, has been kept busy lately surveying for homesteaders in Morrill county. He is well posted with the regulations of the Interior department relative to homesteads, and by being able to give prospective homesteaders reliable information, as well as doing their surveying, he finds his services in great demand. Mr. Hazard finds that one of the Herald's Premium

Wall Charts will be very useful for him to have, and accordingly he pays his subscription to 1912, and takes the map.

AN IRRIGATED

FARM VERY CHEAP

I offer, for quick sale, eighty acres of land three miles from Mitchell, Nebraska, under the government Interstate Irrigation canal. This land, which lies very level, is on the famous "Dutch Flats" and is very desirable for a home, lying as it does one and one-half miles from the railroad and three miles from the flourishing little city of Mitchell.

As is well known, the water right from the government canal is the best in the country, the water being secured from the Pathfinder reservoir, in Wyoming. This land lies close to land that is selling for much more than the price asked. It has had some breaking done and is ready for the man who wants to make himself a home where irrigation never fails and where there is never a drought.

Alfalfa, sugar beets, small grain of all kinds, fruit, potatoes, etc., flourish in the North Platte Valley. This farm will make a big income for the man who will farm it properly.

For full information, price, terms, etc., write

LLOYD C. THOMAS,
Lingle, Wyoming.

She will receive a cordial welcome whenever she returns to this city.
