Lecture Course for 1911-12

Arrangements Completed for Exceptionally Good Course of Six Numbers

OPENING NUMBER OCTOBER 9

The dates for the course are as follows:

Rounds Ladies Orchestra, Oct. 9.
Edmund Vance Cooke, Nov. 18.
Skovgaard Concert Co., Dec. 21.
Alvah Green, Feb. 10.
Ernest J. Sias, Mar. 1.
Cafarelli Concert Co., April 5.

This series of entertainments is the best that has ever been given in Alliance. The numbers average in cost nearly $100 apiece. There is not a weak number in the course. In this respect as well as in the numbers offered it is vastly superior to the course of last year. The following is a short description of the numbers:

1. The Rounds orchestra was organized in 1895 by H. O. Rounds and has eleven people in the company. The orchestra has played in every city of over 200,000 in the United States and Canada. Their program consists of instrumental selections, vocal solos, duets, trios, etc. Readings, impersonations, monologues, etc. Single admission to this number will be 75 cents.

2. Edmund Vance Cooke needs no introduction to many Alliance people, as he was here some years ago. This insures a warm welcome for him when he comes this year. He is the noted poet-lecturer and the cultured people of Alliance will gladly hear him.

3. Skovgaard Concert Co. is making a coast to coast trip and has a date in our city. There are three members to this company but the most important member is Skovgaard himself. He is a famous violinist, carries $50,000 insurance on his hand and plays upon a $13,000 violin. Single admission to this number will be 75 cents.

4. "Alvah Green," says the Kansas City Times, "is one of the best entertainers we ever had in our town." He is an impersonator and all his changes of costume are made on the platform before the audience.

5. Dr. Sias may be best understood by reading some of the titles to his lectures. Here are two: "The Lost Chord," and "The Vision Splendid." People who delight in refined thought and enraptured oratory will crowd to hear Sias.

6. Cafarelli Concert Co. has three members in it. They play on various instruments: violin, bells, piano. But their specialty is the harp. That insures us a great treat.

The price of this course is to be $2.50 for a season ticket, and half price for all who attend school. Value received is far superior to the price asked. A. H. Morris is manager. Season tickets will be on sale at Darling's store. The entire city will be canvassed, so be ready with your money.

A NEW FIRM

The Schafer Electric and Cleaning Works is the name of a new business in Alliance, of which Charles F. Schafer is proprietor and F. L. Beck, manager. They are successors to N. S. Nelson in the cleaning and pressing business. Mr. Schafer is well known to Alliance people, having been connected with the electrical work and business in this city for some time. He is manager of the Schafer Electric Co., engaged in installation and contract work and repairing and furnishing electrical supplies. The other member of this firm, F. L. Beck, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Beck. He recently returned from Ellenburg, Wash., where he was engaged in this same line of business, with which he is thoroughly familiar. These gentlemen will make a specialty of steam cleaning and French dry cleaning, and their establishment will be equipped with the latest appliances. Herald readers cannot fail to notice their advertisement on the first page, to which we call special attention.

L. G. Donner of Wayne, Nebr., and B. C. Soth of Greeley, Nebr., arrived in Alliance last Saturday morning to look over this country and make some investigations in regard to real estate values, etc. Mr. Donner has a half section of land six miles southwest of Hemingford, and Mr. Soth will probably invest in some real estate before leaving the county. Being interested in this county, Mr. Donner ordered The Herald sent to him to keep him posted on Alliance and Box Butte county news.

Attorney Gilman went to Chadron yesterday for a few days' stay to look after business. Miss Ethel Nolan is taking care of his office in his absence.
