BURKE-KEANE NUPTIALS

The marriage of Richard J. Burke to Mary Alice Keane was solemnized at St. Agnes chapel yesterday morning. Promptly at 7 o'clock the bride, leaning on the arm of Mr. Harry Reardon, marched down the aisle to the strains of the Lohengrin Wedding March. She was attired in an exquisite gown of white tulle or crepe over ivory satin made Empire effect with panels and fichu of Venetian lace. The long tulle veil was caught in place with orange blossoms.

Miss Jose O'Donnell, escorted by the groom, followed, gowned in pale yellow chiffon over satin and wore a large black hat. Arriving at the altar railing they were met by Rev. Father McNamara, who performed the ceremony of uniting this worthy couple in accordance with the ritual of the Catholic church, after which the Nuptial High Mass was celebrated, the music being furnished by the Sisters and pupils of St. Agnes Academy. The chapel was filled with the friends and relatives of the contracting parties and at the conclusion of the Mass congratulations and best wishes were extended in the reception room of the academy, after which a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Keane, to the relatives and a few of their close personal friends; Mrs. H. A. Copsey and the Misses Mayme O'Donnell, Ethel Nolan and Etta Keane assisted in serving.

The bride is one of Alliance's most popular and beautiful young women and has a host of friends in this city. The groom is without question one of the best liked men in the railroad service in this part of the state. Both bride and groom may well be congratulated upon having secured a life partner well worthy the esteem of any community in which they may choose to cast their lot. Mr. and Mrs. Burke left at noon for Denver, where they will sojourn for a week, thence go to Chicago, Detroit, Niagara Falls and New York City. Returning they expect to visit Philadelphia, Washington and other points of interest in the east, and will be at home to their friends after November 1st. The Herald joins their many friends in extending most sincere and hearty congratulations and hopes they may live to see their children's grandchildren.

WILL LEAVE ALLIANCE

The Herald regrets to inform its readers that Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Nelson and family will soon remove from Alliance, and yet we are pleased to learn of the good position that Mr. Nelson has been offered at the government Indian school at Genoa, Nebr., where they will make their home. He will have charge of the tailoring and music departments of that school at a salary of $1,800 per year. He had charge of these departments for nine years, leaving there in 1903 to organize the World's Fair Indian Band. He came to Alliance in 1907.

Herbert is attending the Nebraska University Conservatory of Music and will join the Britts Lyceum Bureau about the first of November. During the few years of their residence in this city they made many warm friends, who regret to lose them as neighbors but without exception are pleased to learn of their good fortune and success elsewhere.

YOUNG MAN LOSES ARM

Last Thursday afternoon a young man by the name of Truman Sprague, who was helping to run a shredder in filling a silo about eight miles from Crawford, had his right hand caught in the machinery in such a way as to break and mangle the arm. A physician was summoned from Crawford, who brought him to Alliance that night on No. 42, the train being flagged between stations for that purpose. The Crawford physician accompanied him to Alliance and took him to St. Joseph's hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate the arm near the shoulder, the surgical work being done by Dr. Churchill of this city.

NEW GROCERY STORE

W. J. Hamilton, proprietor of The Fair store, and A. J. Rock, who has been residing three miles east of town, have formed a partnership for the purpose of conducting a grocery business. Room has been made on the south side of The Fair store and a fine stock of new groceries has been put in this week. They start out right by ordering an ad in The Herald, to which we call attention. Mr. Rock expects to move to town some time during the fall.

CANDY KITCHEN

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Showers moved into Alliance in August from the ranch on which they resided ten miles east of Alliance. This week they took possession of the Model Candy Kitchen, having purchased the same from Harry Johnson, who will remove to Hastings. Mr. Showers informs The Herald that he will put in a still larger stock of candy to meet the growing trade of the Model Candy Kitchen. He solicits the patronage of The Herald readers by means of his neat advertisement in this issue.

They have rented their residence to Fred Campbell.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

New fall and winter millinery at Simmons'.

Father Elias About of Omaha was visiting in Alliance from Saturday to Wednesday, the guest here of Mr. and Mrs. Simmons.

Ladies are invited to call at Simmons' and see their new fall and winter millinery in French patterns. Also fur wraps and ladies' coats, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Powell were given a very pleasant surprise party at their home north of Alliance last Friday evening. A large number of friends were present, and a most delightful evening was spent.

Last week we had the pleasure of meeting J. C. Ridgell of Anadarko, Okla., who was visiting with his brother, Judge W. S. Ridgell of this city. After remaining here for a few days and being very favorably impressed with this city and country, as well as making a very favorable impression on the people here, he departed for Kansas City Saturday to visit another brother who resides at that place.

The Panama (Nebr.) Post of Sept. 7th contained a letter from Dr. L. Was of that place, who made a visit to northwestern Nebraska in August. He speaks very highly of Alliance and the surrounding country, and mentions how pleased he was with the people and the climate. On account of his outing here he claims to have felt about ten years younger. Dr. Was is father of F. J. Was, assistant cashier of the First National bank.

George A. Mollring returned Tuesday from his eastern trip. He accompanied his nephew, Arthur Fulton, to Lawrence, Kansas. From there he went to Kansas City, then to Chicago to complete orders for his fall stock of goods. Mr. Fulton graduated from the Kansas City High school last year and spent the summer in Alliance clerking in Mr. Mollring's store. He goes to Lawrence to enter the Kansas State University.

The Platte Valley Telephone Company has closed an important deal in the sale of the line from Alliance to Sidney to the Bell people. The sale includes the transfer of the Bridgeport exchange to the Bell company, and gives the Platte Valley company connection with the Bell wires east and south. Further than this, the deal puts the local company in good shape financially, so that they will be able to make numerous contemplated improvements.—Gering Courier.

Game all over the country is disappearing rapidly and if the killing continues as at the present rate it will be but a few years till nothing will be left except the English sparrows. Game laws have not been observed as they should have been and a reckless and wanton destruction of game has been pursued. This has made a total yearly waste that is appalling. The Nebraska laws are plain regarding grouse and ducks. The daily bag for the former is ten the latter twenty-five. The sport would be perpetuated many years longer if the laws could be enforced.—Hyannis Tribune.

All the latest styles in new fall and winter millinery at Simmons'.

C. E. Robinson, manager of the Majestic theatre, finds it necessary to change his residence from Alliance back to Broken Bow, on account of this altitude being too high for Mrs. Robinson. Mr. Robinson will remain here in charge of the theatre. Mrs. Robinson and daughter, Gladys, have both returned to Broken Bow, where the latter will take a course at the Broken Bow Business College. They were well pleased with this city and have many friends who regret that they will not be able to make their permanent residence here.

Crawford Tribune: Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Warrick, of Alliance, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. M. Adams the past week and were entertained by Crawford friends as follows: at dinner on Friday by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Acker; on Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Gorton and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Chase. On Saturday afternoon Mrs. W. E. Acker entertained the Culture Club in honor of Mrs. S. K. Warrick. Mrs. Warrick is president of the Alliance Woman's Club, and gave a very interesting talk along club lines which was highly appreciated by the Crawford club ladies.

Ladies' tailored hats a specialty at the Simmons Millinery Store.

The infant babe of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Robertson died Tuesday morning. The funeral was held from the house on Yellowstone avenue, at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. O. S. Baker, pastor of the M. E. church, interment being in Greenwood cemetery. The Herald extends sympathy to the bereaved parents whose home was made bright so short a time by the little bud of humanity.

Paul Potter Herbert, traveling salesman for the Standard Oil Co. for northwestern Nebraska, made an exceptionally good record in the month of August. There are twenty salesmen for this company out of Omaha, and they are graded each month according to lubricating oils and greases which they sell. Mr. Herbert ranked fourth on lubricating oil, second on all kinds of greases and first on axle grease. This record is not only a credit to Mr. Herbert, but a good advertisement for this part of the state, as it will show people farther east that this is a good country for business.

There was a great deal of excitement on Box Butte avenue Tuesday morning when John Shankman went to the rooms over Snyder's cigar store with a revolver in each hand with the intention of putting an end to the life of his divorced wife. Mrs. Shankman ran down the stairs and out upon the street, Shankman shooting at her several times. In her excitement Mrs. Shankman fell and he, thinking he had killed her, gave himself up to the police. It seems from what we can learn that Shankman's mind has been unbalanced by his trouble, or some other cause, and it is a question now whether he will be sent to the penitentiary or to an asylum.

Dan Egan of Hyannis who has a ranch southeast of that place but whose family resides in town on account of the school, was in Alliance Thursday and favored The Herald with a call. He gave us some information about the attempt that was made on Monday night of last week to injure or take the life of some members of his family by some one who fired through a window of their house. The bullet grazed the face of one of his daughters, and while not much injured by it, it was a close call for her. It is believed that the culprit is known and he will be arrested as soon as a little more evidence is secured to insure his conviction.

NOT ALWAYS THAT WAY

"Why does an editor refer to himself as 'we'?" So that the fellow who gets sore at an editorial will imagine that there is a whole bunch to lick.—Printers' Register.

The Herald has observed that it doesn't always work that way. Sometimes he goes after the whole bunch.

PRENUPTIAL ENTERTAINMENTS

Miss Keane, whose marriage to Richard J. Burke occurred at St. Agnes Academy yesterday morning, was the recipient of many social entertainments during the past ten days.

On Thursday last Miss Nolan gave a miscellaneous shower for Miss Keane. The evening was spent in playing cards, Mrs. H. F. Thiele winning the first prize and Miss Kreamer winning the consolation prize. Many beautiful and useful presents were received.

On Friday night the Daughters of Isabella gave a granite shower. After the shower a dainty luncheon was served.

On Monday evening Misses Mayme and Joe O'Donnell were charming hostesses at a miscellaneous shower. The house was beautifully decorated in red hearts, cupids and cut flowers.

Hearts was the game of the evening, at which Mrs. H. A. Copsey proved to be the lucky winner for the first prize, and Miss Mabel Duncan won the consolation prize. One very pretty feature of the shower was the large bride cake, which Miss Keane cut and served. The place cards were very dainty pictures of cupid and a bride and groom. The score cards were hand painted bells, with Miss Keane's photogravure on them. Miss Keane received many beautiful presents.

The many friends of Rev. and Mrs. J. L. B. Jones regret to see them leave Alliance, but all are glad that they are not removing farther away than Hemingford. They will be pleasantly situated there, being given a cordial reception by the good people of our sister town. They left with their family the fore part of the week for their new home.
