LOCALS AND PERSONALS

J. J. Keenan was one of those laid up with la grippe a few days during the past week.

Miss Avis Stuckey visited with friends at Hyannis the fore part of the week.

Philip Lester and son, Claude, went to Grand Island Saturday on business, remaining over Sunday.

L. H. Highland was kept away from the store a day or two this week by an attack of a bad cold.

A. D. Rodgers made a flying trip to Hemingford yesterday—but he didn't go in a flying machine, however.

L. E. McCluskey, manager of the Hemingford Co-Operative Association, had business at the county seat Tuesday.

The Marsland Tribune has a new editor and publisher, J. T. Hanley retiring from the management of the paper and Mrs. G. U. Gardiner taking charge.

E. M. Harris, brother of Oscar Harris, arrived in Alliance Monday on his way home from Denver to his ranch northeast of Lakeside. He had been spending a month on a pleasure trip in Colorado.

C. D. Hancock of Lakeside came to Alliance about two weeks ago for medical treatment, stopping at the West & Braman rooming house. The Herald is pleased to note that he has recovered from his illness.

The price of The Youth's Companion will soon be advanced from a dollar and seventy-five cents to two dollars per year. Subscriptions for this paper will be received at The Herald office at the present price until further notice.

W. J. Hamilton received notice from Washington, D. C., last Friday, that his application for a patent on the fly trap previously mentioned in these columns had been granted. Arrangements will soon be completed for the manufacture of this trap. It will be placed on the market for the coming season.

W. A. Horlacher of Omaha has been appointed agent for western Nebraska for the Underwood typewriter, and will make his headquarters in Alliance. B. W. Miller, formerly representing the Underwood people in this part of Nebraska, will hereafter make the Black Hills territory, with headquarters at Rapid City, S. D.

Otto P. Kaldal of Angora, who is interested with Judge H. M. Bullock in the hay stacker invented by the latter, is putting in a good deal of his time in Alliance. He has purchased a lot at 214 Missouri avenue, on which he has commenced the erection of a residence, 24 by 28 feet, which, when completed, he will rent or sell.

E. A. McFall, proprietor of the Reno store, was in Alliance Tuesday and Wednesday on business and visiting his sister, Mrs. Melvin Hale. He reports business fairly good, with bright prospects for the future. We are pleased to add Mr. McFall's name to The Herald's list of Antioch subscribers. Antioch is the name of the post office at Reno station.

Hereafter The Herald will keep the family of E. L. Hawkins posted on Box Butte and northwestern Nebraska news. Mr. Hawkins has a homestead near Canton on which his family resides while he works as a repair carpenter for the railroad at Alliance. He called at The Herald office since our last publication day and ordered his name placed upon our Canton subscription list.

Readers of The Herald who wish to subscribe for The Youth's Companion, or renew their subscriptions to that interesting paper, are requested to leave their orders for the same at this office or send the same to us by mail if not convenient to call. These subscriptions will be forwarded without charge to the subscribers. The commission we receive from the publishers of The Youth's Companion will pay us for our trouble.

E. Reeves informs The Herald that his wife is now well on the road to recovery from the serious spell of sickness through which she has been passing.

This is the second week that Miss Billie Stuckey has been acting as portmistress at Bingham, taking the place temporarily of Miss Anna Welch, who has been in Alliance having her eyes treated.

Rev. Neal P. Fudge, Supt. of Baptist Missions of Wyoming, made a pleasant call on Rev. and Mrs. Witte on Tuesday. He reported very hopeful conditions in the work of his church in that state.

Charles E. Murphy of Lakeside was in Alliance a week ago today attending to business and favored The Herald office with a call, leaving plunks for the paper which pays him up till next year and entitles him to one of the premium wall charts.

L. L. Acheson, the hardware man, makes a change in his advertisement this week, calling attention in the same to the justly celebrated Majestic range. Readers of The Herald who contemplate purchasing a range or cook stove will find his advertisement interesting reading.

W. W. Norton informs The Herald that he is too busy to write an ad this week. If we are not mistaken in our idea of Mr. Norton's intentions, our readers may look out for an interesting announcement from him in a big advertisement in the next issue of the paper.

C. W. Madison left Tuesday for Mitchell to take charge of the theater, mention of which was made in the last issue of The Herald. While his business interests are now in that town he is still interested in Alliance news, and which The Herald will keep him posted.

Miss Delight Byers, who has been assistant in the county clerk's office at Gering the past year, was in the city Monday afternoon and night, the guest of Mrs. D. W. Montgomery. Miss Byers was en route to Lincoln to visit her parents a few weeks, after which she will return to Gering.

A. J. Abbott has purchased the Rentfro Bros. stock of goods, at Bingham, and reports that trade is picking up quite a bit with Asa W. Stuckey as general manager and minister plenipotentiary, attending strictly to business.—Grant County Tribune, Jan. 4.

Mr and Mrs. Vern Mason and son came from Alliance, Sunday afternoon, and visited with his parents, Mr and Mrs. L. C. Mason, and family, until yesterday. He is now occupying the position of night clerk at Alliance, in the C. B. & Q. yards.—Grant County Tribune, Jan. 4.

The Famous isn't backward about coming forward and letting the public know through the advertising columns of the home paper about the bargains that may be obtained by customers at that popular clothing emporium. You can't help noticing their half-page ad this week.

Rev. James H. Davis, Baptist state missionary of New Mexico, stopped off on Monday as he was passing through here from his former home in South Dakota to New Mexico, and made a call on Rev. Geo. A. Witte and H. U. Carpenter, an old acquaintance. "Old times" was again recalled and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Henry Hier of Reno was transacting business in Alliance the latter part of last week and took time to make The Herald office a pleasant call. He is one of this paper's old time subscribers, and besides taking

DANTE'S INFERNO

Wonderful Production of Dante's Divine Poem in Two Reels, 2000 Feet of Film

HELL, PURGATORY, PARADISE

The people of Alliance will have the rare opportunity of seeing a realistic presentation of "Dante's Inferno" at the Majestic theatre on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. This is one of the most popular moving pictures ever presented to the American public. It was shown to over thirty thousand people at Seattle. Two reels of films, making over two thousand feet, are used. In addition to this there will be one thousand feet of film that is used in the regular show, making a total of three thousand feet, and giving you an evening's entertainment worth many times the price of admission.

Theatre, opposite the post office. Admission, only 10 cents.

Dr. James Maxfield is ill and at present unable to be in his office.

Attorney Eugene Burton was called to Mullen today on official business.

Miss Leah Reed has purchased a millinery stock at Scottsbluff and has gone there to invoice.

We are glad to report that the little child of Mr. and Mrs. George Davis that has been very sick is better at the present writing.

H. P. Kauffman, traveling passenger agent of the C. B. & Q., and E. R. George, train auditor, both of Omaha, are in Alliance today.

Cashier S. K. Warrick of the First National Bank made one of his frequent visits to the North Platte valley this week, going to Scottsbluff Tuesday. He will return Saturday.

Miss Vivian Holloway, one of Alliance's most accomplished musicians, is now playing at the Crystal theatre.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Newberry will be christened Sunday at Holy Rosary church. William Leonard is the name to be given the little one.

The success of the repair committee of the M. E. church, appointed some weeks ago, is shown by the comfortable condition of the church during services this cold weather.
