Indigestion

causes heartburn, sour stomach, nervousness, nausea, impure blood, and more trouble than many different kinds of diseases. The food you eat ferments in your stomach, and the poisons it forms are absorbed into your whole system, causing many distressing symptoms. At the first sign of indigestion, try the old, reliable, vegetable liver powder, to quickly cleanse your system from these undesirable poisons.

Black-Draught

Mrs. Riley Laramore, of Goodwater, Mo., says: "I suffered for years from dyspepsia and heartburn. Theford's Black-Draught, in small doses, cured my heartburn in a few days, and now I can eat without distress." Try it.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Born Feb. 12, 1809

Copyright, 1912, by American Press Association

SOME lofty heights there are
That pierce the azure skies;
Some peaks so tall, so grand,
They to the heavens rise;
Some lifted lands that seem
Scarce of the earth, so high,
Where floating ships of air—
The fleecy cloud fleets—lie.

ABOVE the town are raised,
Into the upper air,
Some spires, like fingers set
To point a pathway there,
And, towering, stand some lives
Above the level line,
Grand pinnacles that stretch
Toward the life divine.

HIGH, high, among the great,
Brave, loyal, noble, grand,
Our Lincoln—dear the name—
A mighty tower doth stand.
He was a son of Toil
And yet her devotee.
His life he gave to make
Her worthy children free.

LIKE one who to mankind
Came in the long ago,
He dwelt and suffered with
The humble and the low.
Their fears he knew, their woes.
No pangs that they had known
But he had felt them too.
Their sorrows were his own.

A MISSION his from God,
And he performed it well.
A nation's soul awoke
Beneath his gentle spell.
Because he lived, today
From ocean unto sea
Dwells in this fairest land
No soul that is not free.

ARTHUR J. BURDICK.

LINCOLN THE EMANCIPATOR

Words That Freed a Race

I do order and declare that all persons held as slaves . . . are and henceforward shall be free.—
President Lincoln's Proclamation Issued Jan. 1, 1863.

Linoleum and Oilcloth

The fresh, bright prettiness of our new stock of oilcloth and linoleum must be seen to be appreciated. Bought only from the best factories it is enduring and decorative. May be had in any length.

The proper kind of linoleum and oilcloth--the only kind we find it worth while to sell--saves you money and is sometimes more decorative, and always cleaner, than carpet.

New 1912 patterns are now being shown.
