REACHES RIPE AGE

Martin Tobin Departed This Life at His Home in Stuart, Iowa, Last Saturday

Martin Tobin of Stuart, Iowa, who was known by a good many Alliance people because of relatives here and having visited here a number of times, died at his home in Stuart, Iowa, at 12:10 a. m. last Saturday, having reached the age of nearly 75 years.

He left to mourn his departure a widow, three sons residing in Iowa, and two daughters, Mrs. M. F. Nolan and Mrs. Elizabeth Brennan of Alliance, who had been with him for nearly a month preceding his death. The funeral was held from the Catholic church at Stuart, Iowa, on Tuesday morning of this week. M. F. Nolan left Sunday for Stuart, to be present at the funeral. The deceased was highly esteemed by his acquaintances, by whom he will be greatly missed. To the sorrowing relatives The Herald offers a word of condolence.

BASKET SOCIABLE

The choir of the Episcopal church will give a basket sociable at the opera house on February 16th. There will be a short program before the selling of the boxes. Programme begins at 8 p. m.

LENTEN TEA

The Ladies' Guild of the Episcopal church will give a Lenten tea, February 22, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holsten. Luncheon from 5 to 7 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

W. C. T. U.

The Alliance W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Julia Hale, 210 W. 3rd street, next Thursday afternoon.

DEGREE OF HONOR

The Degree of Honor will meet in their hall Thursday evening, February 22, at 7:30.

OLD FASHIONED CHICKEN PIE

Persons who do not fancy some of the new fangled ways of making chicken pie will be pleased to learn that it is the old fashioned kind that will be served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church in the Phelan opera house, February 20. The bazaar will be held during the day and supper will be served commencing at 5:30.

35 cents will pay for the biggest chicken pie supper of the season at the Phelan opera house next Tuesday evening.

We are pleased to note that G. J. Trospier and Jess Chambers, who were injured by the gasoline explosion at the Alliance Creamery a week ago today are getting along nicely, both being able to be at work again.

Don't forget about that old fashioned chicken pie. Phelan opera house, Tuesday, February 20. Only 35 cents.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Don't fail to see and hear Alvah Green, at the Opera House, Feb. 23.

Master Burton Warrick has been bedfast again this week with rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. James Whitehead of Mitchell are the proud parents of a fine boy, James, Jr.

Mrs. L. E. Cox has been very sick the past few days but is somewhat improved at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Betzold, who have been spending the winter at Hot Springs, Ark., are expected home this week.

Flagman G. E. Rider has gone to St. Louis for a short vacation. Wm. Fowler is flagman during Mr. Rider's absence.

Oliver Countryman, who has been very ill for several weeks, is still very low, no change being noticed in his condition.

Rev. Geo. G. Ware of the Episcopal church left on the noon train Monday for Mullen to fill an appointment at that place.

Don't forget the box social to be given at the opera house Friday night, for the benefit of the choir of the Episcopal church.

Mrs. G. J. Trospier and baby boy arrived home Sunday from a three months' visit spent with relatives and friends in Atchison, Topeka and Leavenworth, Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Britt left on the noon train Wednesday for Henry, Neb., to visit Mrs. Britt's parents, who are soon to move their home to eastern Nebraska.

The Alliance Fruit Company shipped a car load of potatoes to Rapid City, S. D., Tuesday of this week, the first load of potatoes that has been shipped from here this year.

Rev. and Mrs. O. S. Baker left for Omaha Tuesday night for the purpose of consulting a specialist for Mrs. Baker who has been suffering some time with a peculiar affliction of the hip.

Guy Severns, formerly a brakeman out of Alliance but who now lives at Sheridan, Wyo., stopped over between trains Tuesday noon till Wednesday morning to visit his relatives and many friends at this place.

If our city subscribers who wish their street address printed on their papers will notify us of the same, to insure the delivery of the paper at the desired address, we shall be glad to comply with their request.

Mrs. A. F. Allen returned last Thursday from Cambridge, Nebr., where she had spent about three weeks visiting her mother who has been quite ill but is now recovering.

George Goodenough and daughter, Mrs. Elmore, of Chadron, arrived in Alliance Wednesday morning, returning home Saturday noon. They came to see Mrs. T. M. Burrow, who is ill with pneumonia. Mr. Goodenough is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Burrow.

Mrs. Cora Lewis, Mrs. Ella Young and Miss Beulah Smith went to Reno yesterday on 42 to attend a Valentine social to be given at the Reno school last night. Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Young returned today but Miss Beulah will remain till the end of the week. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Berry.

Hon. F. M. Broome, the well known Alliance attorney, was in town this week looking after the interests of clients in some land cases. Being an old newspaper man, he naturally made his headquarters with the Courier, where he was more than welcome.—Gering Courier, Feb. 9.

Word is received from Dr. Chas. E. Slagle, who is spending a few months in the east, making a study of surgery and special medicine, that he is now at the celebrated Mayo hospitals, located at Rochester, Minn., where he will probably remain a couple of weeks in order to receive the benefit of clinical work. The doctor was one of the guests at the Paxton hotel, Omaha, at the time of the fire there the first of this week. He was in his room at the time but had no trouble in getting out.

Miss Billie Stuckey leaves this week for Chicago to order a spring stock of millinery for the Stuckey store. She will be gone several days.

George W. Duncan is under the weather this week, due to an injury received some years ago, but has been able to attend to business most of the week.

John B. Strasburger, postmaster at Strasburger, Sheridan county, and his neighbor, Joseph Fisher, drove over to Alliance Monday on business returning Tuesday. They favored The Herald office with a call which was much appreciated.

Recently J. H. Vaughan & Son shipped out a car of hay containing 23 tons and 600 pounds, which is said to be the biggest car load of hay ever shipped from Alliance. The usual car load of hay contains about 12 tons.

Mrs. C. W. Williams of Hyannis, sister-in-law of Mrs. E. M. Sanborn, is spending the week in our city, a guest at the Sanborn home. The Williams are prosperous ranch people, and report things favorable on the farm for the coming season.

J. E. Wilson leaves tonight with two loads of horses for Manchester, Indiana, where he has a sale billed for February 24. He has been shipping horses to that point for some time and finds it a good market. He will be gone about two weeks on this trip.

Mrs. S. J. Holdridge and son Murle left on 44 Tuesday for Kansas City. Murle has been here since Christmas assisting his mother getting their house, which was damaged by fire, in shape for occupancy again. He will re-enter Brown's Business College at Kansas City to complete his course of study. Their address for the present will be general delivery, Kansas City, Mo.

L. Safford of South Alliance is enjoying a visit from his sister, Mrs. Ed Croft and her little son and daughter. Mrs. Croft and children bade good-bye to old neighbors and friends in Illinois last fall, and have been spending the winter visiting relatives at Minatare and Alliance, expecting to join her husband in the spring in Oregon, where he is preparing a home for them. No doubt Mr. Safford greatly appreciates the visit from his sister as his health has been very poor of late.

As the season for resuming cement constructions is nearing, J. J. Vance, cement contractor and manufacturer of building blocks, orders an advertisement in The Herald to which we call particular attention of those who are thinking of having any work in this line done this year. Mr. Vance is a thoroughly reliable contractor, is a first-class workman and employs competent help. He can be depended upon to do your work in the most up-to-date and satisfactory manner. We wish to call special attention of dairymen, farmers and ranchmen to that part of his advertisement relating to concrete silos. The silo is bound to be reconstructed in this country in large numbers sooner or later and in our opinion those who construct this year will be better off than if they wait a year or two longer.

Geo. E. Younklin has decided to close out his stock of goods at public auction, commencing Saturday afternoon of this week and continuing afternoons and evenings until the entire stock has been sold. He is moving the goods from the basement of the Alliance National Bank building to 295 Box Butte avenue, which will be more convenient on account of being ground floor. Judging by the way goods have sold at auction in this city before, it is safe to predict that buyers at this sale will secure some real bargains. His advertisement in this issue of The Herald mentions some of the goods to be sold, but there are many others, as will be found by those who attend the sale.

Miss Frances Stuckey went to Bingham last Saturday to spend a few days in that village and at the ranch. She kept store for her brother, A. W. Stuckey, while he came to Alliance.

Mrs. E. A. Gilbert, formerly of Rushville, who has been residing this winter in her house in Hill's Addition, Alliance, has been in poor health lately, but The Herald is pleased to note was able to be down town to attend to business matters yesterday.

Miss Josie O'Donnell went to Denver last Saturday to line up on spring millinery styles. She will remain in the Colorado metropolis a few weeks and then return to Alliance to accept a position at Stuckey Company's millinery store for the coming season.

R. N. Hankins, recently from Deadwood, S. D., who has been in the clothing department at Norton's the last two weeks, has decided to accept an offer to remain permanently. He is an experienced clothing salesman and no doubt will prove to be a valuable addition to Norton's sales force.

The B. Y. P. U. enjoyed a pleasant evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Laing last evening. About thirty persons were present. The house was tastefully decorated with hearts and valentines. Games appropriate to the day were engaged in, after which refreshments were served.

Word was received Saturday morning by wire of the serious illness of Mrs. O. A. Castle of Yorktown, Ia., later news being received of her death. Mrs. Castle was a sister of one of our well known citizens, W. H. Swan, and mother of C. H. Castle, also of Alliance. Another son resides in Wyoming. None of her relatives here were able to reach her bedside before her death. The Herald, with its many friends, extends sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Attorney Burton had business at the state capital the latter part of last week.

The annual ball of the B. of L. F. & E. last night had a big attendance, the opera house being filled with the merry-makers.

S. K. Warrick left Sunday for Lincoln, where he went to attend the funeral of Dr. Huntington, account of which is given elsewhere in this issue of The Herald.

If you want a piece of old fashioned chicken pie, the kind your mother used to make, go to the chicken pie supper and bazaar which the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will give in the Phelan opera house, February 20.

C. D. Rider left last Saturday for Los Angeles, where he will probably remain three or four months. His health has been very poor since returning from Iowa, and as there was no prospect of improvement without change of climate, it did not take him long to decide to accept the following cordial invitation, which he received by wire from an uncle at Los Angeles: "Board, room, automobile. What more do you want? Come." The Herald hopes to soon hear of an improvement in Mr. Rider's health.
