A down east Yankee is now offering a correspondence course in aviation. No doubt it's a safe way to take the lessons, if there is to be no work except the written. The mail order course in flying for us.

An Omaha paper says, "Every day discloses the fact that the Wilson and Marshall cause in this state is fortunate in having so clean a gubernatorial candidate as John H. Morehead as its standard bearer." Yes, just think of what a fix we Nebraska democrats would have been in if presidential election had been two years ago.

We have a letter from our Washington correspondent this week that is unusually interesting and contains a lot of information in small compass on the high tariff question. We especially invite laboring men and women, too, who still think that the protective tariff protects them and betters their financial condition to read The Herald's Washington letter this week.

The Northport Herald well says, "Whether the people like Mr. Roosevelt personally is immaterial, the men back of him are honest in their beliefs." The editor of the Northport Herald is right. Mr. Roosevelt may be wrong and there may be some unscrupulous politicians among the leaders of the bull moose party, but the rank and file of those who will vote the new party ticket are sincere and believe they are right in leaving the old parties; and they can not be persuaded to remain in the republican and democratic parties by hurling brickbats at them.

The Herald makes use of scissors and paste to secure for our readers some of the best things to be found in our exchanges. We occasionally find in many of our exchanges items that are of interest to our many readers. Without trying to mention all of the newspapers from which we use clippings, we might mention that we have found it a special pleasure to clip from Con Lindemann's Crawford Tribune, Ben Brewster's Chadron Chronicle and E. F. Moon's Scottsbluff Herald, not forgetting to mention, also, the Northport Herald by C. D. Casper, a veteran Nebraska newspaper man. All of these papers are democratic, of the progressive kind, and we believe without exception have been on the Bryan-Wilson side in the contest for supremacy that has been going on in Nebraska between the two elements of the party.

The editor of this paper has a letter from the National Free Labor Association, 832 Broadway, N. Y., giving information in regard to the Boover convict goods bill (H. R. 5601), advocated by organized labor, by manufacturers and merchants' associations, and by philanthropists and social reform societies. This bill passed the House unanimously, Mar. 5, 1912. It is being held up in a Senate subcommittee, of which Senator Brown of Nebraska is chairman, in behalf of interests that profit by prison labor contracts. If any of the readers of The Herald have any influence with the senior senator of Nebraska, we suggest that they write him in regard to this matter. Persons wishing further information on the above bill and the interests that are opposing it, can probably secure the information that they want by writing the National Free Labor Association at the address above given.

The Omaha World-Herald in an editorial on "Roosevelt and La Follette" in its issue of August 20, said quite truthfully of the latter:

La Follette's entire life has proved that he is fighting, not to gratify personal ambition, but for principle. He has never, in state or in nation, compromised with the enemies of good government.

The World-Herald could just as truthfully have included William J. Bryan in its commendation, had it chosen to do so. During the last decade and more, Bryan and La Follette have stood out as the foremost champions in the two parties of the cause of the common people. There are other good and great men in both parties, but these two are the best loved and the most desperately hated of all because of their constantly aggressive and uncompromising fight against the encroachments of the predatory interests. Using the World-Herald's words regarding La Follette, we wish to say:

Bryan's entire life has proved that he is fighting, not to gratify his personal ambition, but for principle. He has never, in state or nation, compromised with the enemies of good government.

Patience is always commendable and should be cultivated by good citizens under all circumstances, and "silence is golden." We doubt whether patience ever ceases to be a virtue, as is sometimes said, but there are times when silence ceases to be golden and may become criminal. We believe the time has about arrived when this paper should speak out on some things locally that it has heretofore paid little attention to. For some time past a few Bryan-haters, calling themselves democrats, have been doing what they could to crowd The Herald to the wall because of its friendship for the man whom they hate above all other men, and its advocacy of the progressive principles which he more than any other living man has promulgated. Since the democratic national convention at Baltimore there have been some additions to these anti-Herald, Bryan-haters, more especially since the so-called democratic county convention. We would pay little or no attention to their hatred, if it were not that they have resorted to gross misrepresentations in their frantic efforts to crush this paper. Next week you may look for an explanation that will show the animus of the opposition to The Herald by certain men calling themselves democrats.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Information Concerning Underpaid Employees of the Powerful Woolen Trust

BY CLYDE H. TAVENNER

Washington, Aug. 24.—In the city of Lawrence, Mass., where the highly protected woolen mills hold forth; where boys and girls work for $2, $3 and $4 a week, and fathers and mothers work long hours for $5, $6 and $7 a week for full time, 47 out of 100 deaths are those of children under 5 years of age. And of these 47 children, 35 are under 1 year of age. The doctors declare the big majority of these children perish because their mothers labor such long hours, under unsanitary conditions, in the woolen mills.

But mark the percentage of child deaths in Lawrence particularly: Forty-seven out of every 100 persons that die in Lawrence are children under 5 years of age. Now compare this with Seattle, Wash. There, out of every 100 persons who die, but 19 are children under 5 years of age. The average for the whole country is 27 children under 5 years of age instead of 47 as in Lawrence, and for the whole country 19 out of every 100 deaths are of children under 1 year of age, instead of 35 as in Lawrence.

In Fall River, Mass., where the woolen trust also operates, 50 out of every 100 persons that die, are children under 5 years. At New Bedford, Mass., another mill town, 49 out of every 100 persons that die are children under 5 years, and the great majority of the 49 are babes. These people who work in the woolen mills are "protected." That is, the multi-millionaire woolen trust magnates who come to Washington for excessive protection, say that the sole reason they desire tariff rates which give them a monopoly on American markets and permit them to charge double the value of woolen clothing, is that they are "protecting" their employees.

In addition to making this plea, the trust magnates, of course, make liberal contributions of money to the campaign funds of the party of protection. The result is such bills as Schedule K of the Payne-Aldrich law. Here is a plain question for the American people to ask themselves: Why should they longer permit a comparative handful of millionaires to force them to pay exorbitant prices for every article of woolen clothing they wear, on the pretext of these rich men that they are "protecting" their employees, when these employees are not only not being protected, but are being paid such low wages that they are practically compelled to live like cattle.

ENCOURAGED BY CONDITIONS

Candidate Taylor's Home County Papers Give Good Reports

Custer County Chief, Aug. 23: W. J. Taylor, democratic candidate for congress, was in the city last Monday, having just returned from a trip to Spalding. He informs us that he is much encouraged with political conditions in the congressional district.

Custer County Herald, Aug. 22: W. J. Taylor was in town on Monday on his way home to Merna. He had just returned from a business trip to the counties east of Custer, and while there put in a few days looking after his campaign as congressional nominee. It is needless to say that W. J. will be the next representative in the national house from the sixth Nebraska district. There is no question but that the wily Moses is on the run, and his affection for the Taft administration has been his undoing. The progressive republicans of this district are going to see to it that no stand patter stays on the pay roll. Mr. Taylor made his trip east by auto, and had some trouble incident to such a trip. At one time he was towed in behind a mule team.

Mrs. U. N. Hoskins, mention of whose western trip is made in another place in this paper, visited many interesting places along the coast, but says she was glad to get back to Alliance, the best town on the map.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

Box Butte County at Fair

Finest Exhibit E or Sent from Western Nebraska Goes from Alliance this Week

LIST OF PERSONS EXHIBITING

Beal Brothers produce warehouse, corner of Box Butte avenue and Second street, has been the scene of preparations for Box Butte county's exhibit at the State Fair. For the last few days this place has been as busy as a hive of bees. A magnificent collection of agricultural products has been arranged to be taken to Lincoln for the State Fair.

We regret that it is impossible for us to give a list of the persons furnishing products for this exhibit in this issue of The Herald, but the list will be given next week; also, further information in regard to persons assisting in the same.

HAVE GOOD TIME

Last night a party of the members of the Odd Fellow lodge of this city, some with their wives and some without, formed an automobile party and journey up to Hemingford to surprise the Odd Fellows of that town. The party consisted of twenty-eight persons. Arriving at Hemingford, they were treated to ice cream and cake by the members of the lodge of that place. After spending a few enjoyable hours there, they returned to Alliance arriving about midnight. Following are the names of those who made the trip: Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. L. Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lester, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mounts, Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Zurn, Mr. and Mrs. Moses Wright, Edgar Martin, W. F. Buchanan, W. R. Harper, C. W. Jeffers, T. M. Lawler, E. W. Rgy, H. P. Coursey and Ed. Henry.

LADIES' SUNNY SLOPE SOCIAL PICNIC

One of the most enjoyable times the writer has ever witnessed was held in the grove four and one-half miles north of town when the Ladies' Slope Social Club held a picnic for their families. It being a busy season, only about fifty were present, but peace, good will and happiness reigned throughout the day. A dinner such as is seldom seen at a picnic was spread on one table long enough to accommodate all. After dinner an unusual program was given by the ladies. The plan was for each to recite or do something as she did when a girl. This was carried out in an excellent manner and all went home feeling well paid for the time spent there.

Three cheers for the Club ladies and may they ever prosper.
A. FRIEND.

SOCIALIST ADDRESS LABOR DAY

Just as we are closing the forms for this issue of The Herald we learn that C. W. Thompson will deliver an address at Third street and Box Butte avenue next Monday, September 2, at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Thompson appears to be a person who is conversant with his subject and no doubt will give those who attend interesting information in regard to the Socialist movement.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

The Round Table circle of the Christian church will be entertained next Wednesday afternoon on Mrs. Eldred's lawn, 413 Cheyenne avenue. All members and friends invited.

Mr. Fuller, a photographer from Sheridan, Wyoming, who was formerly in the same line of business in Alliance, passed thru here today on his way from Colorado, where he had been visiting a brother.

H. L. Claytor, the barber, went to Crawford last Friday for a visit with friends, returning the first of the week.

Mrs. C. M. Looney was operated on for appendicitis yesterday morning at the St. Joseph hospital. She is reported as getting along nicely.

Mrs. F. Houser and Mrs. H. L. Claytor, mother and daughter, went to Crawford last Friday for a visit with friends, returning the first of the week.

Miss Clark, an experienced trimmer from Gage Brothers large millinery establishment of Chicago, arrived in Alliance Tuesday to take a position as head trimmer during the fall at Harper's Ladies' Toggery. As will be seen by Harper's ad in this issue of The Herald, they are offering to give instructions to millinery apprentices. This will give young ladies who wish to become trimmers an opportunity to do so under competent instruction.

Next Monday, September 2, is Labor Day, a legal holiday in Nebraska. The Herald has in this issue an interesting, three-column Labor Day article, furnished by the American Press Association.

Rev. O. S. Baker and daughter Mary returned Tuesday morning from Colorado, where Mr. Baker had been spending his week's vacation. Mary had visited Denver and both of them spent nearly a week at Estes Park, visiting Rev. Baker's mother, Miss Nellie Baker will return to Alliance on Friday.

The Herald is pleased to learn that Mrs. J. C. McCorkle, who was taken sick a week ago last Sunday with appendicitis, is convalescing without an operation. She is able to sit up some today. It is thought that an operation will not now be necessary for her complete recovery to health.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Liberal Cattle Supply--Market Steady to Lower.

TRADE IN HOGS IS UNEVEN.

Very Large Run of Sheep and Lambs. Market Slow in Opening--Lambs 15@25c Lower--Sheep About Steady. Feeder Business Slow.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Aug. 26.—Cattle receipts were the heaviest so far this season, about 9,300 head being received. Only a few corn fed cattle were here today and the market was notably steady for good to choice beef. Pretty close to steady figures were paid for desirable cows and heifers, medium and common grades were slow and lower. Canners and cutters were very nearly steady. Veal calves were also about steady, and bulls, stags, etc., steady to a shade easier. Stock cattle and feeding steers were in vigorous request, at steady to strong prices. Over 10,000 head of stock cattle and feeding steers were shipped to the country last week. The bulk of today's receipts consisted of western range cattle. Desirable grass cattle were picked up at prices that were in about the same notches as last week, but medium and common kinds were in many cases fully 10@20c lower.

Cattle quotations: Choice to prime beefs, $9.50@10.35; good to choice beefs, $8.50@9.25; fair to good beefs, $7.75@8.50; common to fair beefs, $6.00@7.50; good to choice heifers, $6.25@7.00; good to choice cows, $5.25@6.00; fair to good grades, $4.00@5.00; canners and cutters, $2.75@4.00; veal calves, $4.00@8.25; bulls, stags, etc., $3.75@5.75; choice to prime feeders, $7.00@8.00; good to choice feeders, $6.25@7.00; fair to good feeders, $5.50@6.00; common to fair feeders, $4.50@5.25; stock cows and heifers, $4.25@5.50; choice to prime grass beefs, $8.25@9.50; good to choice grass beefs, $7.50@8.00; fair to good

NOTICE TO PARENTS

Inasmuch as we have a beginning first grade which does very much kindergarten work and very little of the regular first grade work, parents are advised to send their five-year-old children to school. Any child who is five years of age at the opening of school, or who will become five years of age within the first six weeks of school, may be started at the opening of school. By regulation of the Board of Education, beginners are not permitted to enter after the sixth week of school.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Herald Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak. Backache and other kidney ills may follow. Help the kidneys do their work. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy. Alliance people endorse their worth. Mrs. J. E. Whaley, 422 E. Oregon St., Alliance, Nebr., says: "I have had no reason to change my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills since I publicly recommended them in May, 1907. Over three years ago my kidneys became badly disordered and the kidney secretions were unnatural. Whenever I stooped sharp pains darted thru my loins and it was difficult for me to straighten. I tried many remedies but all failed to help me until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Holsten's Drug Store. They brought relief in a short time and I continued using them until I was free from kidney complaint." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Rev. F. A. Maben and wife will arrive in this city Saturday. Rev. Maben is a minister of the Christian church and is coming with a view to locating here. He comes highly recommended and will preach at the court house Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and evening at 8 o'clock. Everybody invited to come and hear Rev. Maben.

B. V. Reeves stopped off in Alliance today forenoon on his return from Lingle, Wyoming, near which place he has a ranch, to his home at Hot Springs, South Dakota. He reports crops fine in the vicinity of Lingle. While in Alliance today he remembered The Herald with a year's subscription, which was appreciated.

A Sunday school of the Christian church has been organized and will meet regularly at the court house at ten o'clock.

P. A. Martin of Ansley arrived yesterday in Alliance, and has accepted a position as salesman in the Alliance Shoe store. Mr. Martin comes to this town highly recommended. He is a young man of good address and, being an experienced shoe salesman, will no doubt make good in his position here.
