PROSPEROUS SHOWING MADE BY 1st NATIONAL

Business Conditions Reflected in Voluntary Record Statement

On being interviewed regarding the unusually good showing made by the First National Bank, the officers stated in substance as follows: "Our deposits have been making almost dally increases since the shipping season opened in earnest about August first. The present record mark reached by the deposits is of interest to all citizens of this community for the reason that this is indicative of the general prosperity enjoyed by this section of the country this year. This unusual surplus is explained by an unprecedented activity in the way of large ranch sales during the past year, unusually high prices of beef, general productive increase and increased farm acreage and the local horse sales which tended to cash many horses which would otherwise have been run over until next year. "We have over two thousand customers on our books at present and our general business will continue to increase during the rest of the year, with good prospects for 1913. We do not give much weight to the national political situation in-so-far as its effecting general business is concerned, although we will keep our Machinist Austin received a bad bank on a very conservative basis cut over his eye while at work last as in the past. Our customers paythree stitches in closing the wound. their ranches will tend to decrease our deposits to some extent during the next thirty days, although they will continue to reflect a healthy comdition in our territory."
